Ship Subsidies to Be Sought

HARDING TO TAKE PAINS TO BUILD MERCHANT MARINE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Harding's message to the new Congress next week, it was declared in high official circles today, will deal principally with the tariff and the merchant marine.

Of the tariff Mr. Harding is expected by those close to the White House to say its revision and passage as early as possible is urgently necessary and that it should be stripped of such provisions as would endanger or unduly delay passage.

Concerning merchant marine questions he is expected to take a definite stand for the granting of some sort of ship subsidy, probably in the nature of preferential rates and routes, as supplementary to the granting of free tolls to coastwise shipping through the Panama Canal.

DISCUSS JONES ACT.

It was expected also that the President would discuss Section 34 of the Jones Act, dealing with the abrogation of trade treaties by the Executive. Study of the situation was said to have developed a feeling by administration officials that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to carry out provisions of this section.

Tariff matters, Senate dealers insisted, will occupy the prominent position in the message. It was asserted Mr. Harding would ask that rates in the House bill, now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee, be fixed on the old basis of invoice values rather than on the House provision of American wholesale valuation. His reason for that stand, according to some of his counselors, was that he had been assured it would be better to apply the new system piecemeal than by employing the plan on all commodities at once.

OPTIONAL PROVISION.

To that end, it was stated, the President is expected to urge an optional provision in the measure empowering him to apply the home value basis, where after certain surveys it is found to be advisable or necessary. Such a course was regarded by Congressional tariff builders as obviating the necessity for computing the rates on what opponents of the American valuation plan describe as unknown quantities.

Mr. Harding is expected to urge immediate passage of the Allied deft refunding bill. While this was represented as his attitude today, a divergence of opinion among Senators as to the wisdom of taking up the measure during the Arms Conference, it was said by some, may yet force a change in that stand.

SEES G. O. P. LEADERS.

Mr. Harding went into details of the legislative program at a dinner tonight attended by Senators Lodge, Republican leader, Curtis of Kansas, Penrose of Pennsylvania and Watson of Indiana. It was understood the President requested and the Senate leaders agreed that the Allied debt refunding bill should be taken up immediately and rushed to passage.

As a result of the agreement, Mr. Harding was expected to omit ref-

LATEST MORNING NEWS.

NEW ORLEANS HARBOR STRIKE IS DEFEATED.

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Dec. 2.—The strike of 12,000 harbor workers was settled tonight at a conference between representatives of the twenty-four unions involved and the New Orleans Steamship Association. The men, who have been on strike for a week, will return to work tomorrow.

AMERICAN GIRLS RAIDED BY WILD PERSIANS.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A dispatch to the London Times from Tabriz, Persia, says wild tribesmen raided the American Lutheran mission at Syjbulak, October 8 and tore the clothes off three Americans, the Misses Schonhood, Possum and Gudhard, and brutally handled M. Bachimont, a Frenchman attached to the mission. Mrs. Bachimont was found two days later in a distraught condition, hiding in a ruined house.

Five hundred gendarmes who surrendered were stood up in batches and shot down with machine guns.

ANOTHER RED BLUFF CROSSING VICTIM.

RED BLUFF, Dec. 1.—Eva Lindeman, Red Bluff High School pupil, died here tonight, the fourteenth victim of a crossing accident near here, Wednesday, when a bus carrying fifteen school children, was struck by a Southern Pacific train.

CONFESSES TO MURDERING PARTNER.

UKIAH, Dec. 1.—Jack Carlysle, who has been held for several days on suspicion of murder, tonight confessed, according to Sheriff R. R. Byrne, that he had slain E. E. Bishop, his former partner in an illicit drug peddling plant. Carlysle is quoted as saying he had hidden Bishop's body about eight miles from Fort Bragg, at a spot formerly used as a cache for drugs.

According to the purported confession, the slaying was the outcome of a quarrel which arose when Bishop accused Carlysle of making off with $45,000 worth of drugs from the cache, placed there by themselves and another unnamed partner in the plan. The killing was said to have occurred November 8. Carlysle, according to the Sheriff, said the drugs were to have been peddled in San Francisco.

WIND, RAIN BREAK WIRES; FLOODS IN NORTHWEST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Wire transmission over lines coming into this city was materially hampered tonight by storms and high winds, officials of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Postal Telegraph Company and the Western Union announced.

In the immediate vicinity of San Francisco, where clear skies prevailed tonight, no difficulty was being experienced, they said. The main difficulty lay at the outskirts of their territory, with winds and rain effecting damage.

OVERLAND LINE CUT.

The Postal Telegraph officials reported two wires down between Ashland and Portland, Or., and falling trees having cut their connections on the overland line at Summit, between Sacramento and Reno, Nev. At the same point the telephone company's wires were also down. The break was reported found before 10 o'clock tonight, and the situation clearing.

Eureka was isolated with neither telegraph nor telephone connections. Shipping along the west coast today and tonight experienced difficulty with winds of near gale velocity. Near Half Moon Bay, south of the Golden Gate, several craft were standing by the grounded destroyer DeLong. Off Cape Flattery a barkentine was reported with disabled steering gear, due to the storm.

Western Union officials said their only break in service was at Eureka, where connections probably would not be established till tomorrow. Where trouble occurred on the central lines, they said, circuits were rerouted satisfactorily without especial delay.

RAIN STILL FALLING.

Rain was falling tonight over Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Northern Nevada, and according to reports issued by the Weather Bureau here, a heavy storm circle moving inland over Washington from the sea was resulting in unsettled weather.

Unsettled Weather Over California; Forty-one-Mile Gale Brings Damage to Northwestern States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Rain was falling tonight over Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Northern Nevada, and according to reports issued by the Weather Bureau here, a heavy storm circle moving inland over Washington from the sea was resulting in unsettled weather over most parts of California.

The forecast is for fair weather tomorrow, however, for the bay section here, where rain fell today, and for Northern California. Southern California tomorrow will probably feel showers.

Storm warnings issued today for points between San Francisco and Puget Sound will run out tomorrow morning, meteorologists forecast.

Interior California experienced little precipitation today, only a trace of rainfall being reported from San Jose, Sacramento and other points.

FORTY-MILE GALE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 1.—A forty-one-mile-an-hour gale swept over Portland and Northwestern Oregon late today. In this city forty-nine fir trees were blown down in a park. Hundreds of telephone and electric light poles were prostrated. Three vessels ran amuck in the harbor, but none was seriously damaged. On collided with a river bridge, throwing the draw out of alignment and necessitating the closing of the bridge for repairs. A number of plate-glass windows in business houses were wrecked. Several large electric advertising signs were reduced to junk. A few houses were unroofed.

Reports from other points indicated that the main damage was to wires and poles. At Astoria the gale attained a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour.

FRESNO, Dec. 1.—A heavy rain started falling here shortly after 6 o'clock tonight.

YAKIMA RIVER RISES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

YAKIMA (Wash.) Dec. 1.—After rising a foot last night, the Yakima River today added six-tenths of a foot more, as the run-off from melting snow throughout the valley found its way into the river.

United States reclamation officials said all the storage reservoirs, except Bumping, were nearly empty, and a sudden rush of snow water from the mountains could be held back in a great measure for at least twenty-four hours.

SERIOUS FLOOD MENACE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Dec. 1.—Torrential rains, added to melting snows, caused a serious flood menace today in the country between here and Tacoma. The town of Kent was partially under water with a stream flowing over the main business street and covering the Seattle-Tacoma interurban tracks. Portions of highways were inundated and farmers drove their cattle to higher lands.

Reports indicated that Snoqualmie, Cedar, White and Green riv-

ARBUCKLE'S BATTLE ON.

Case Will Go to Jury Today.

Irene Morgan, Witness for Defense, Poisoned and Found Unconscious.

Prosecution Flays Comedian in Address to Jurors; McNab to Close.

BY OTIS M. WILES,
Staff Correspondent of "The Times."
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Fatty Arbuckle, with one more day to go before learning if he is to be imprisoned or liberated, was the recipient of many bricks and bouquets late today during the opening arguments of his case before the jury.

The bricks were hurled by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Friedman, the dynamic and youthful prosecuting attorney. The bouquets were the gift of Gavin McNab, Arbuckle's chief counsel, he of the mellow, Scotch accent, of the genial smile and the smooth voice.

For one hour and forty-six minutes Friedman literally dragged Roscoe up and down before the jury of five women and seven men, nailed him to the cross of justice and pelted him with defilements of his mental makeup. But whatever mental wounds may have been inflicted by Friedman, they soon were alleviated by the healing power of McNab's soothing syrup voice.

OPENS HIS CASE.

"At the expiration of thirteen days," Friedman began, as he paced up and down, "it devolves upon the people to present facts against Arbuckle. We are here to charge Roscoe Arbuckle with manslaughter, not Roscoe Arbuckle, the film comedian, not Roscoe Arbuckle, the hero of a thousand laughs, not Roscoe Arbuckle, the prominently known figure, but Roscoe Arbuckle, the man—the man who plays pranks on a defenseless woman who is in the agonies of death."

He continued, saying the death of Virginia Rappe was due to an unlawful act of Roscoe Arbuckle, an act which caused a rupture of the girl's bladder, an act which beyond any peradventure of a doubt was committed by Arbuckle.

"The People can prove its case against this defendant as easily out of the mouths of the defendant's witnesses as out of the mouths of the prosecution's witnesses," he declared.

EVIDENCE DIVIDED.

He divided the testimony into groups—first, testimony of what occurred in the Arbuckle rooms on Labor Day, and next the story of Arbuckle as told from the witness stand last Monday.

"We will sum them together and then there will be no question whether he is guilty of the charge preferred by the People."

He said it had been proven by the testimony of fifteen doctors, by the witnesses who were present at the party, by the declarations Virginia had made prior to her death, that Arbuckle was responsible for her injuries.

Arbuckle was busily engaged picking fuzz from the sleeve of an overcoat that lay on the counsel table. He seemed to pay no heed to Friedman. The prosecutor then attacked, one by one,

TO CELEBRATE OUR BIRTHDAY.

"Times" Forty Years Old on Sunday: Special Section Will be Issued.

The Los Angeles Times will be forty years old next Sunday and will celebrate the occasion with a special illustrated section of the Sunday Times devoted to the amazing story of development in its four decades not only of The Times, but of Los Angeles and Southern California as well. With a wealth of interesting reminiscence of the early days of Los Angeles it will tell the story of the growth of The Times from a tiny, struggling sheet to the largest newspaper in the world. Interwoven in this narrative are many vital chapters of the history of the city itself, interesting alike to the newcomer and the pioneer. The section will be one well worthy of preservation.

SAYS SHE'S WIDOW OF BANKER; BELIEVED TO HAVE POLICE RECORD

An attractive appearing woman who gave her name as Mrs. Belle Heil, aged 39, widow of a prominent Chicago banker, but who is believed by the police to be Mrs. Etta B. Heil, divorced wife of Joseph Heil, wealthy Chicago broker and banker was arrested late last night and placed in a cell at the City Jail on suspicion of burglary.

According to the police Mrs. Heil is the lessee of a handsomely furnished fourteen-roomed residence at 703 Gramercy Place.

Mrs. Heil, who is a woman of refined appearance, was arrested at her home early yesterday afternoon by Capt. Home and Detective Sergeants McMahan and Jarvis of the Hollywood Police Station. Throughout the afternoon she stoutly maintained her innocence of any burglary charge, but at a late hour last night broke under the close questioning of the detectives and confessed to having taken jewelry, clothing and a revolver from the home of Samuel Wood at 4855 Elmwood avenue, last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Heil told the detectives of having found herself without ready funds and in these circumstances of applying at the Wood home for a position as maid. According to the story she told the detectives she receives $200 a month from her husband's estate in Chicago. Her last allowance had come to an end and the next, she said, was not due until January. So, leaving her own well-appointed residence on Gramercy Drive she went into the Wood home as a servant. Last Friday afternoon, she told the detectives, she left the Wood residence soon after members of the family had gone out. When she was sure that they would be absent for some time she returned and entered the house through French doors on the first floor. Taking several pieces of jewelry, silk lingerie and a revolver, she went to her own home.

According to dispatches from Chicago early this morning Joseph Heil, recently obtained a divorce from Mrs. Etta B. Heil, and custody of their two children, after she was released by the police from charges of robbing residences where she had secured employment as a maid. The Heil home in Chicago, in a fashionable North Side district, was found filled with furnishings Mrs. Heil had stolen, but which she told her husband she had purchased. Heil offered to restore the stolen articles or pay for them and the charges were dropped. He endeavored to have her removed to a sanatorium for treatment, but she fled and attempted suicide in the Northwestern Railroad Station. She later disappeared from Chicago and has not been heard of for some time.

The detectives stated that they recovered the stolen goods, valued at about $100, at Mrs. Heil's residence on Gramercy Drive late yesterday afternoon. According to McMahan the three-story residence there is leased and furnished by Mrs. Heil. Her husband, she said, died two years ago. Mrs. Heil did not attempt to dispose of the stolen goods, the detectives at Central Police Station said. She remarked that "she was sorry she had taken them."

LURE FOR CRIMINALS?

Three exceptionally pretty girls, asserted by police to have been used used as "lures" by a desperate gang of crooks, are held in the City Jail on charges of suspicion of burglary.

Three men, one of whom is said by police to be a member of "The Wrecking Crew" which looted Los Angeles fur stores with impunity for nearly a year, also are held. The one in particular is Taylor C. (Tommy) Conway, 28 years old, charged with burglary. He was arrested Wednesday night by Detective Sergeant Cahill.

The girls gave the names of Gladys Sayles, Violet Thompson and Hazel Summers. Miss Summers, known, police say, as "Blond Lillian," was arrested with Conway. The other two were arrested early yesterday morning in an apartment-house at Thirtieth and South Flower streets. G. F. Lenz, asserted to be a pal of Conway, was arrested at the same time. Cal Summers, who gave his occupation as a clerk, was arrested at 6 o'clock last night at Sixth and Main streets by Detective Sergeants Cahill, Cato and Cline.

Gladys Sayles told the officers she was a waitress, and Miss Thompson said she was a show girl. Detective Sergeants Cahill, Cato and Cline expected last night to make several other arrests, all hinging on the recovery of $100,000 worth of stolen furs last week, for the asserted receiving of which two business men were arrested. They are Samuel Jacobson, 67, wholesale fur agent, and Joseph Rosengarten, 27, proprietor of the Bear Fur Company, Seventh and Hope streets.

Police are confident of clearing up numerous fur and gem robberies as a result of the arrests.

BRITISH SEEK TO SWING JAPS TO YANKEE VIEW.

As Ally of Nippon, Use Influence to Secure Agreement Over Naval Ratio Plan.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Great Britain, as the ally of Japan, is using her influence to bring Japan's views in the naval ratio dispute into harmony with those of the United States. With this development, Japanese plenipotentiaries again have submitted the question to Tokio.

The nature of the latest move for a solution of the ratio problem is not disclosed but it is indicated that Great Britain has found a double interest in the success of the negotiations, because she has accepted in principle the American five-five-three proposal and because, on the other hand, she is in an alliance with Japan, who asks for a ratio of ten-ten-seven.

DENY DEADLOCK EXISTS.

All principals on both sides refused tonight to recognize the situation as a deadlock. The American delegates, it was said, authoritatively, were even declining to regard Baron Kato's proposal for an increased Japanese strength as a formal presentation of the Japanese viewpoint. They were confident, it was declared, that the ten-ten-seven proportion would be abandoned before Japan's final statement of position is placed before the conference.

It is apparent that if the proposal of the Japanese statesmen is not to be regarded as formal, the reason lies in the fact that it was not "passed across the table" at a formal session of the conference or any of its sub-divisions.

KATO GIVES REASONS.

Baron Kato's request for an increase over the American ratio was communicated to Secretary Hughes and A. J. Balfour at a meeting of the three Tuesday. In relating his goverment's position, the Japanese plenipotentiary touched on the reasons which impelled him to make the request and asked that the question of national needs be taken into account in determining the new naval relativity.

In response Secretary Hughes and Mr. Balfour made plain the opposition of the American and British delegations to vitally changing the basis of ratio determination and Baron Kato indicated he desired, before going further, to communicate again with his government. Conversations are to be resumed when further advices come from Tokio.

DEBATE OVER SHANTUNG.

A new attempt was begun today to settle the long-debated Shantung controversy but in view of the status of the naval negotiations the Shantung conversations were looked on by many delegates as a small part of the main picture. Secretary Hughes and Mr. Balfour, exercising their "good offices," met with the Japanese and Chinese delegations for a preliminary survey and then left American and British "observers" on the ground to aid in whatever way they can to bring the two groups into agreement.

The part taken by Mr. Hughes and Mr. Balfour was said to have been confined to a general statement of confidence that a just and fair solution would be reached. Baron Kato responding for Japan and Minister Sze for China, with general expressions of gratification in the interest taken by the two powers. After the session it was indicated that it had not been determined whether Japan or China should make the

MAY BRING MORSE BACK.

Government Making Efforts to Have Financier Returned From France; Is Due to Arrive Today.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Aroused by the departure of Charles W. Morse, New York shipbuilder, from the country just as the government is about to place before a Federal grand jury its investigations of his transactions with the Shipping Board, Federal officials are considering tonight what means may be taken to bring him back.

It is hoped, Department of Justice officials said, that word can be sent in time to permit Morse's detention at Havre, France, tomorrow, when the French steamer Paris, on which he sailed from New York, is to dock.

Early today the department called on the Navy Department to send a destroyer to meet the vessel outside of Havre and take Morse off. No such order was issued, and Navy officials declared later they were without authority to act in that manner.

MAY CANCEL PASSPORT.

Tonight a plan to cancel the passport issued Mr. Morse was under consideration. The effect of such action, it is understood, probably would be that the French government might, under representations from the United States, refuse to permit him to land.

Meanwhile, E. A. and H. F. Morse, sons of Mr. Morse, through their attorney, issued a statement declaring their father had sailed under a passport issued to him in his own name and without knowledge that the government intended action before the grand jury. It was their belief, the statement said, that the government knew Morse had sailed before this contemplated action become known.

Butcher Workers May Quit.

May Affect 45,000 Union Men Employed in the Meat Industry.

Walkout Effective Monday, is Order; Wage Cut is Cause of Trouble.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—A strike of all union packing-house employees in all plants where wage reductions were put into effect Monday was ordered for December 5 by the executive committee of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America.

The strike, which affects all union crafts represented in the packing industry, will involve about 50,000 workers in fifteen cities, according to Cornelius Hayes, president of the butcher workmen's union.

Dennis Lane, secretary of the butcher workmen's union, tonight issued a statement saying:

STRIKE ORDER ISSUED.

"All attempts to negotiate a fair adjustment to wage rates by offering an agreement providing for arbitration between packers and the employees have failed. The joint executive committee representing all international unions affected do now advise in accordance with the strike vote of the rank and file that all packing-house employees in all plants where wage reductions here arbitrarily ordered into effect November 28 or any date thereafter, cease all work at six o'clock Monday morning December 5."

BANDITS MAKE RICH HAUL.

Six Masked Men, Armed With Shotguns, Blow Safe at Argonaut Mine; Escape With $60,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JACKSON, Dec. 1.—Six men armed with sawed-off shotguns blew open the safe of the Argonaut mine, one of the richest in California, and escaped early today with more than $60,000 in gold amalgam in two automobiles driven by two others who had acted as lookouts during the robbery.

Sheriff George W. Lucot, who was on the road about an hour afterward with a posse, was searching in the direction of Ione late today, following a report that the robbers had headed out of the Mother Lode into the San Joaquin Valley.

WAS MONTH'S CLEAN-UP.

The loot was a month's clean-up for the mine, whose production has averaged nearly $100,000 for the last thirty-five years. Its weight was 455 pounds, and the robbers apparently were aware of the fact that the mine's plates had just been scrapped preparatory to melting down bullion today for shipment. The amalgam was in the form of balls of ore mixed with quicksilver.

The two mill men on duty, Rees Williams and James Podesta, were overpowered and bound with ropes, but Williams managed to back up against an emery wheel afterward and rub the rope in two. He then released Podesta, but they found the bandits had cut the telephone wires at the mine and so were delayed in giving the alarm.

Chinese Delegates Hope for Agreement With Japan on Shantung.

JAPS HOLDING SHANTUNG AS PAWN IN ARMAMENT.

Withhold Acceptance of Hughes Plan Until Chinese Questions Are Disposed of, is Idea.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Japan is holding back her acceptance of the American naval limitation program until Shantung and other Chinese problems are disposed of, it was admitted tonight by a spokesman for the Japanese delegation.

"Baron Kato knew on November 12 that he would accept the Hughes plan," it was stated. "But Japan's safety as a nation, through free access to the Asiatic mainland, and the maintenance of her legitimate rights there, must be established by the conference before she can act in the naval matter."

DISCUSS SHANTUNG.

One of the greatest advances made by the conference outside the naval situation is the opening of conversations today between Chinese and Japanese representatives over the vexing question of the return of Shantung to China. The method of procedure for these delicate negotiations was outlined in secret committee. Secretary Hughes and Mr. Balfour acted as observers. They may end as mediators. They were accompanied by J. V. A. MacMurray, head of the Far Eastern Bureau of the State Department; Edward Bell, former attache at the American Embassy in Tokio, and Sir John Jordan and Miles Lampson for the British. These four will act as observers in place of Mr. Hughes and Mr. Balfour at future sessions. Another meeting will be held tomorrow.

EXPECT AGREEMENT.

The opinion was expressed by Chinese and Japanese that an agreement would be reached. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate, said he was "not willing to talk compromise at this stage." In view of the former attitude of the Chinese that they would never compromise and would never recede an inch from their demand for "unconditional surrender" this is hopeful. The Japanese have the Versailles Treaty to rest their case upon. Anything they give up that was given them at that time is regarded by them as a distinct concession.

There is already agreement on many points. Where the chief disagreement rests is over the railroad and over the question of the return to Chinese owners of property and business acquired by Japanese under their military regime in Shantung.

Chinese students, failing to understand the nature of the agreement to meet in conversation under American and British guidance, gathered at the Chinese headquarters on Massachusetts avenue this afternoon and hissed Dr. Koo and Minister Sze as they came out to attend the Shantung meeting.

"Traitors," yelled the students.

The delegates spoke to them from the balcony in Chinese, explaining that they had not entered direct negotiations with Japan and that they would stand firm for China. It is expected that similar demonstrations may be made in China, where the feeling has been high against taking the matter up at all with Japan. Japan tomorrow will renew her offer to withdraw from Shantung if she is permitted to retain her legitimate commercial rights there.

MYSTERY SHROUDS CHINESE MURDERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STOCKTON, Dec. 1.—Two Chinese, Mrs. Gong Shee, and her nephew, Wong Chu, are dead, and her husband, Gong Shee, is not a mysterious shooting in the Shee expected to live, as the result of laundry at 244 South Center street here tonight. The police are working on the theories that the three were victims of a tong attack or that Wong Chu shot his uncle, aunt, and himself after futile attempts to obtain money. Gong Shee was shot four times and Wong Chu three times. Mr. and Mrs. Shee have five small children who arrived home to discover the triple tragedy.

TEN KILLED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Portland - Spokane Trains Meet Near Celilo; Four Probably Fatally Hurt.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 1.—Ten killed and sixty injured was the toll in human life and suffering taken in a head-on collision of two Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company passenger trains near Celilo, Or., early today, according to latest reports tonight to the company's head offices here. The list of dead was increased later today from six to ten by the finding of the bodies of four unidentified men in the wreckage. They were said to be railroad laborers.

The dead:

C. J. YARBOUGH, porter, train No. 12.

JACK COLE, McMinnville, Or., aged 5.

MRS. J. W. WALLIN, Amity, Or.

A. H. McBRIDE, marine guard on train No. 13.

L. J. KIRK, Joseph, Or.

GEORGE BRISTOW, fireman.

Twenty-two persons were injured.

In addition to the ten person killed, four were so badly injured that their recovery was not expected. They are:

Mrs. Lloyd Cole of McMinnville, Or., whose little boy was killed.

Mrs. Joseph H. Duncan, Portland, Or.

W. E. Thompson, Portland, fireman on train No. 13.

Roy Hedges, Stanfield, Or., age 15 years.

The seriously injured are:

Thomas Allen, Portland, engineer of train No. 13.

A. Anderson, Portland.

The Portland-Spokane Limited No. 12 left Portland last night and the westbound Oregon-Washington Limited No. 17 was due in Portland at 7:15 a.m.

On account of the bridge at Eagle Creek being damaged by high water it was necessary to detour all Oregon-Washington railroad and navigation trains over the Spokane, Portland and Seattle line between Portland and Celilo.

Train No. 13 had just transferred to the Oregon-Washington main line at Celilo, and was proceeding east when it met No. 17, which was late, having been delayed by water trouble in the vicinity of Gibbon and Kamela.

Celilo is ninety-seven miles east of Portland.

The President was represented as believing some alterations should be made in the House tariff provisions with respect to American valuation.

It was also predicted after the conference that Mr. Harding would not discuss the question of adjusted compensation for former service men in his message. Indications also were given, it was declared, that in addition to discussing merchant marine questions prominently he would also take them up in a later address.

MINEOLA (N. Y.) Dec. 1.—The body of Mrs. Elizabeth Maier, 52, who was murdered at her home in Westbury, L. I. two weeks ago, was disinterred at Plain Lawn Cemetery yesterday to enable a finger print expert to obtain finger prints for comparison with these found in Mrs. Maier's home.

Asst. Dist.-Atty. Edwards said today that he has established that Theodore Gatridge, an itinerant peddler, was not in Green Point November 17, the day of the slaying, where Gatridge said he was.

sible undesirability as a citizen due to old charges, which were dismissed. It was learned that the Department of Justice was considering every possible method by which Morse could be brought back.

SENT TO PRISON.

For years a power in banking and shipping circles, Morse faced his first serious clouds in 1908 when suits were filed against him for more than $200,000 on promissory notes. He was convicted of having misapplied the funds of the National Bank of North America here. In November, 1918, he was sentenced to fifteen years in Federal prison.

Then his wife began a fight for his release. Morse always declared he committed no wrong, but had followed practices common to nearly every business man of his time.

On Jan. 18, 1912, President Taft commuted his sentence on the recommendation of the Attorney General based on a report from the Surgeon General of the Army, who reported Morse near death from heart and kidney disease.

In 1920 he again encountered a Federal grand jury, being indicted on a charge of having unlawfully sold an American vessel, the John J. McCullough, to the government of Tunis for $500,000 without permission of the Shipping Board. He pleaded not guilty, was released and the indictment was dismissed.

MORSE CONCERN BROKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Dec. 1.—The Groton Iron Works, a C. W. Morse shipbuilding concern with yards at Groton and Noank, Ct., went into the hands of a receiver today, when Federal Judge E. S. Thomas accepted a petition filed by James Swan, president of the company. Mr. Swan was named temporary receiver under a bond of $5000.

It was said that the action was taken in accordance with a vote of the directors. A hearing of the receivership petition will be held tomorrow in Norwich.

The schedule attached to the petition gives the liabilities of the company as $4,028,504 and assets, $16,353,018. Listed among the assets is $13,153,000 which the company says is due from the Shipping Board. A suit brought by the Groton Iron Works against the Shipping Board for this amount is now pending in Federal Court.

The schedule gives the amount of cash on hand as $18.07. It lists more than 1200 secured claims totaling $1,015,701 and more than 200 unsecured claims aggregating $1,042,616.

worn by the men, who, the mill men said, were apparently familiar with the mine's operations.

The mine is owned by the Argonaut Consolidated Mining Company, of which John T. Smith of New York is president. Among the other owners are E. A. Stent of San Francisco, and John Raggio of Stockton. It is 4900 feet deep, one of the deepest in the State.

ROADS ARE WATCHED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 1.—Acting on advices from Sheriff George Lucot, of Amador county, a posse of deputies left the office of Sheriff Ellis Jones here tonight to guard the northern approaches to the city, in the hope of effecting the capture of the bandits who entered the mill of the Argonaut Mining Company at Jackson, early today, and after overpowering the night watchmen, blew the safe and escaped with about $60,000 in gold amalgam.

After being notified, Lucot organized a posse and trailed the bandits to Ione, a town twelve miles from Jackson, but lost the trail owing to a heavy rain.

Lucot notified local officials that the bandits had evidently taken a road which would lead them either to Sacramento or Stockton.

first move. They will meet again tomorrow.

JAPANESE OPTIMISTIC.

The note of optimism over the outcome of the naval discussions was particularly manifest tonight among the Japanese. While refraining from any comment on the British position, Baron Kato said he would not regard the situation as constituting a deadlock, and another Japanese delegate emphasized that "we are not pessimistic."

Submission of the subject to Tokio indicates that under the Japanese system it will be considered by the Japanese Cabinet as well as by the diplomatic advisory council. Representative Japanese expressed the opinion that to reach a decision every element connected with the question must be taken into consideration with the result that the exchanges here might be slowed down.

So far as the Washington end is concerned, the problem is regarded as having narrowed down to direct and personal exchanges among Secretary Hughes, Mr. Balfour and Baron Kato.

In side-line discussions today there were further suggestions that the question of naval bases and fortifications in the Pacific might find a place of growing prominence in the naval ratio negotiations. So far as officials have revealed, Japan has not yet formally raised the point but it has been suggested by Japanese not directly connected with the delegation that Tokio might seek, along with a ratio agreement, a definite understanding as to the American and British bases in Pacific waters.

While coming here the Japanese delegates made known their desire to establish a policy under which Japan would have a navy large enough to meet any force that any other power could send to the Far East. In other words, it was suggested Japan must have some assurance that American fortifications in the Philippines and Guam were not to be increased to the point where the entire American Navy would be able to use them as bases in an offensive against Japan.

QUESTION OF POLICY.

As the issue involved is now returned to a question of policy, the suggestion is made that the problem of national defense for Japan is closely related to the questions of naval fortifications located nearby.

It has also been hinted that the question of strength of navies is linked up in the Japanese mind with the prospect of obtaining some understanding with reference to general policies in the Far East. The existing status of the Anglo-Japanese alliance as modified to bring it into harmony with the League of Nations covenant, is believed to be a matter of considerable concern to the Japanese statesmen, who, if they are unable to obtain a renewal of the alliance, would desire to see some substitute agreement or understanding which will assure to them the possibility of a legitimate development in the Far East without a menace from other strong naval powers.

MANY OUTSIDE UNIONS.

About 35,000 union workmen are employed by the "big five" packers and about 10,000 upion workers employed in smaller packing plants, according to President Hayes. About 20,000 of the union men were in Chicago, he said. According to Mr. Mayes's figures there are approximately 45,000 organized workmen and about 15,000 unorganized employees. The packers have claimed that the majority of their workmen did not belong to any union and have never recognized the unions.

Unions affiliated with the butcher workmen and which are also ordered to strike, include steam and operating engineers, stationary firemen, railway car men, coopers, carpenters, blacksmiths, electrical workers, steam fitters, sheet metal workers and machinists. There are about 8000 men in these allied crafts, Mr. Hayes said.

"It has been our experience in past strikes that the majority of the nonunion men walk out with the union workmen," he said. "In that event fully 60,000 workmen may be affected."

CLIMAX OF CONTROVERSY.

The strike order issued today brings to a climax a controversy between the packers and union workmen extending over three months.

During the war packing plants operated under the Alschuler agreement, all disputes being referred to Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler for arbitration. This agreement was extended for a year after the war and expired September 15.

At that time four of the "big five" packers—Armour & Co., Wilson & Co., Swift & Co. and the Cudahy Packing Company—inaugurated a system of plant conferences and stated their intention of dealing directly with their employees through conferences.

the testimony of the defense witnesses.

"The testimony of Barker, the man with the wonderful memory, who remembers every incident of Miss Rappe's paroxysm extending over a period of fifteen years in Chicago, but yet who cannot remember the hotel he was stopping at there. If we believe Mr. Barker we must conclude from his testimony that Miss Rappe's bladder was ruptured at least fifty times."

THEORIES ASSAILED.

He assailed the numerous theories the defense had accepted and later discarded for newer theories.

"The theory that the rupture may have been caused by dipping the girl in a tub of cold water, a defense theory until Dr. Shields pulled the plug and let that theory go into the sewer. The theory that the rupture may have been caused by vomiting; Where in this entire case, other than in the defendant's testimony, has been shown evidence that Miss Rappe was vomiting?"

The theory that falling off a bed may have caused it, contained only in the defendant's story. A theory here and a theory there with the evident purposes of confusing the minds of the jurors. Fact by fact has been brought here to refute all these theories.

Roscoe had ceased plucking fuzz. His fat cheek was not resting in the bowl of his hand and he was squinting up at Friedman. Often Friedman would whirl around, look the defendant straight in the eye, and flaunt a quivering hand in his face, but Arbuckle would not bat an eyelash.

PARTY IS REVIEWED.

Friedman reviewed the party at the St. Francis Hotel, where hilarity reigned. He traced Miss Rappe into room 1221, then back to room 1219, with Arbuckle following her.

"Miss Prevon told us he followed her into room 1219 and closed the door. Yet this man, who makes a living by acting, takes the stand and tells you he didn't see Miss Rappe go into room 1219, this man who says he can't remember.

"He didn't dare tell you he followed her into that room immediately."

Roscoe was squeezing his big nether lip. The prosecutor told of Mrs. Delmont kicking and knocking on the door after Arbuckle had followed Miss Rappe into the room.

"What occurred then? Did the door open? No. Eventually the door is opened and Miss Rappe is suffering on the bed, and the defendant simply announced that Miss Rappe is sick."

Arbuckle had found another diversion. He was rolling up his blue knit tie. Then Friedman jumped all over Fred Fishback's testimony.

FISHBACK SCARED.

"Mr. Fishback, who braces his shoulders and says he is proud to be a guest of this defendant," Friedman shook his hand under Roscoe's nose. "Mr. Fishback, this model young man, this paragon of virtue, who never took a drink in his life, this model young husband, who walks into a room where a nude young woman lies writhing in agony on a bed and performs such as he has testified to.

"Mr. Fishback says with his enormous hands he grabbed Miss Rappe, a poor, weak, suffering girl. He says he grabbed her by the right arm to place her in the tub and therefore caused the bruises on her arm. But when he attempted to demonstrate his actions he had to admit it was the left arm he had grabbed."

Friedman returned to Arbuckle's testimony. The statements of "This big, kind-hearted comedian, who has made the whole world laugh; did he say, 'get a doctor for the suffering girl?' No. He said, 'Shut up, or I'll throw you out the window.'

"He was not content to stop at throwing her out the window. He attempted to make sport with her body by placing ice on her. This man then and there proved himself guilty of this offense. That act shows to you the mental make-up of Roscoe Arbuckle."

WIFE IS SILENT.

Mrs. Arbuckle, in the first row of spectators, sat with drooping head and closed eyelids. In one hand was a small bunch of violets. In the other she held a vial of smelling salts. She alternated their journeys between her lap and her nostrils.

"We have one more fact that stands out ahead of all other testimony in this case," Friedman continued. "The finger-prints on the bedroom door. That fact alone is sufficient to say Roscoe Arbuckle is guilty. He could explain everything else, but I call your attention that the only things he could remember were those things which he says occurred in 1219, when nobody else was there but himself and the girl who is now dead.

"He believed nobody could contradict his story of the occurrences in 1219."

Then Friedman dwelt upon the "mute testimony of the defendant's guilt, the purported superimposed hand impressions of Arbuckle and Miss Rappe on the bedroom door, as found by E. O. Heinrichs, consulting criminologist, and indicative of a struggle.

"Concluding this case for the people with this last bit of evidence, the finder-market bedroom door entered as people's exhibit No. 13, I say there was a struggle in room 1219. Roscoe Arbuckle tried and succeeded in keeping her there. I leave it to you what was the purpose of his attack upon her. The rupture that caused her death was caused in no other manner than by the assault Roscoe Arbuckle made upon her," shouted Friedman.

WOMAN ATTACKED.

Kate Brennan's testimony was next attacked. Miss Brennan, a St. Francis hotel maid, had testified she had thoroughly cleaned the doors and woodwork of the Arbuckle suite at least three times before Heinrichs entered with his "low-powered microscope," his 50-watt night lamp, and his secretary, Salome Boyle.

"Kate Brennan took thirteen finger prints as an attack upon her competency as a chambermaid. She admitted she could not have missed a sixteenth of an inch in polishing 550 square feet of woodwork. I doubt if there is a maid in the entire United States who has ever polished woodwork as Kate Brennan says she polished those doors."

All he had to say regarding the testimony of Mrs. Lois Lancashiere, who had a room adjoining the Arbuckle suite, and testified she heard no screams or moans, was that maybe she was mistaken.

"Then we have Mr. Harper. He was put on the stand to substantiate the testimony of Mrs. Lancashiere. Is it not an insult to one's intelligence to ask us to swallow a story like this?"

Harper had testified he had loitered in the hallway outside the Arbuckle suite at the time of the purported attack, and had heard no screams or moans.

Dr. Collins, a defense medical expert, he spoke of as "the bulwark of the defense, the globe-trotter who searched the world for a spontaneous rupture of the bladder and found none."

Other medical experts, he added, could be placed in the same category with Dr. Collins.

As for Miss Irene Morgan, though at that same moment she was at the point of death in a hotel as a result of poisoning, Friedman declared she had falsified all of her testimony.

PATHOLOGISTS REPORT.

At the morning session a commission of three pathologists reported the result of a microscopic examination of Miss Rappe's bladder. Their finding was that the organ was diseased at the time of the girl's death.

GIRL POISONED.

A sensation was sprung at the morning session when word was received that Miss Irene Morgan, a defense witness, had been poisoned, presumably by a strange man. She was found unconscious in her room in the Clift Hotel, and Dr. J. J. Waller, house physician, had attended her.

An examination proved that she apparently had been poisoned by opium and another opiate called acetanilide found in headache remedies. Dr. Waller applied a stimulant and Miss Morgan was revived. She gave a statement to Dr. Waller.

Yesterday in the Hall of Justice she met a man whose name she is unable to give.

WENT TO DANCE.

Last night she and Miss Pearl Lauchay, a motion-picture actress, who, it is alleged, has played in pictures with Fatty Arbuckle and knew Virginia Rappe, went to the Winter Garden Cafe.

The gray-haired "mystery man" kept asking Miss Morgan to dance. Whenever Miss Lauchay came back to the table he would leave.

Early in the evening, according to Miss Lauchay, Miss Morgan complained of feeling ill, and they returned to her hotel. She kept talking in her sleep of meeting a man at 8 o'clock this morning. When she awakened Miss Lauchay asked her if she were going to court and she replied she had to meet a man at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Waller stated Miss Morgan informed him she met this unknown man this morning and they walked about the city. He bought some candy for her, which she ate. Later she complained of feeling dizzy, and he suggested that she go into a drug store and get some orange juice. According to Dr. Waller, she then asked this man the direction to her hotel, and he is reported to have said to her:

"YOU'RE DONE FOR."

"Go to hell, you are done for. You ought to suffer in hell a while."

While Miss Morgan is in a critical condition, it is Dr. Waller's opinion she will recover.

The testimony of Miss Morgan, who said she served overseas in the Canadian forces and was under fire at the second battle of the Marne, was vigorously attacked by the prosecution. She testified that she attended Miss Virginia Rappe, but gave up the position because Miss Rappe refused to obey orders. Her testimony was that Miss Rappe had chronic bladder trouble. The prosecution has contended that the organ was healthy. Their medical experts had so testified.

But the defense insisted the organ was diseased. So had the defense experts testified. At the suggestion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Uren a commission of three was appointed to conduct a microscopic examination and to submit their report to the court.

Dr. Williams Oppuis was chosen by the prosecution. The defense selected Dr. G. Y. Rusk. Judge Louderback appointed Dr. D. M. Ervin. The substance of their report was that Miss Rappe was a victim of chronic cystitis, an inflammatory condition, prior to and at the time of her death. Their findings were as follows:

EXPERTS' FINDINGS.

First.—Evidence of chronic inflammation of the mucous membrane of the organ.

Second.—The presence of a rupture.

Third.—The presence of acute peritonitis on the exterior surface.

Fourth.—The examination failed to reveal any pathological change in the vicinity of the tear preceding the rupture. This last finding dispensed with the defense theory that the organ may have had a partial rupture prior to the time of death.

The report was welcome news to Roscoe, that, with his own story told on the witness stand last Monday, was one of his two most effective weapons of defense.

OFFICIALS ACCUSED.

Earlier in the day Dist.-Atty. Brady was charged by Bailiff Harry McGovern, guardian of the jury, with having sent detectives on the trail of the jury. The jury, shepherded by Bailiff McGovern, each day walks in a column of twos to and from the Hall of Justice and the Hotel Manx, where the jurors are housed during the trial.

McGovern charged that four detectives from Brady's office follow the jury on each trip; that they converse in loud tones regarding the case that the jurors may hear them; that they lunch at tables adjoining the jurors at the hotel, where they likewise discuss the case in loud voices.

Two deputy district attorneys likewise are accused. McGovern reported to Judge Louderback and Sheriff Finn that one of them approached Stephen Hopkins, alternate juror, grasped his hand and remarked:

"How's my old friend, white-ers?"

MORE ACCUSATIONS.

The district attorney made further attempts to impeach Irene Morgan, a defense witness, this morning. Miss Morgan, formerly employed as a nurse by Miss Rappe, had previously testified to her service in the British ambulance corps overseas. The prosecution called Capt. Theodore Compton Oswald Raymond, wearer of the Military Cross, to prove that such hospital outfits as Miss Morgan claimed she had served with had never existed. Chief Counsel McNab declined to cross-examine the witness.

The prosecution called Dr. William H. Harrison, medical expert, as a rebuttal witness, to testify to conditions of ruptured bladders. McNab refused to cross-examine him.

Attempts were also made to impeach Mrs. Lulu Corey, who had been called by the defense to rebutt the testimony of Mrs. Mary Paulin, hostess and manager of Wheeler Hot Springs. Mrs. Corey had contradicted Mrs. Paulin's testimony. Mrs. Corey was employed by Mrs. Paulin, or was at the latest reports. Deputy Dist.-Atty. Friedman reported Mrs. Corey to the stand this morning. The witness had testified she rented Miss Rappe a bathing cap at the resort, though Mrs. Paulin had declared Miss Rappe had never visited the place.

Friedman tried to prove Mrs. Corey had testified falsely. He produced an account book in which the witness had recorded rentals of bathing attire during August, but in which the name of Virginia Rappe did not appear. Mrs. Corey explained this was the only one of several books she had kept at the time and, besides, she had entered Miss Rappe's name on a loose memorandum pad and not in the book.

ASKS RECEIVER FOR GERMANY.

France Would Have Nation Declared Bankrupt.

Scheme Alternative One for English Moratorium.

Administer Affairs Same as in Turkish Debt.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Dec. 1.—A receivership for Germany as a bankrupt with an autonomous Rhineland to be exploited by the Allies for reparations purposes, is likely to be proposed by France as an alternative to any moratorium on reparations that may be suggested by Great Britain, it was said in official circles today.

The Allies, it is held by French officials, have full authority under the terms of the Treaty of Versailles to take Germany's affairs in hand and to administer her resources in a manner similar to that pursued by the Turkish debt commission.

POINCARE'S OPINION.

Former President Poincare, who is much talked of as the probable successor of Premier Briand in the next governmental change, recalls in his weekly review of the political situation that the Treaty of Versailles gives the Allies the right, in case Germany defaults, to control her customs duties, taxes, exportations and coal production. He said this must be demanded if the reparations commission thinks it is obliged to give Germany further time.

The negotiations understood to be going on now in London, between the British government and representatives from Germany are regarded in French official circles as a reprisal for the alleged separate action of France in making an agreement with the Turkish Nationalist government at Angora. Much anxiety is expressed lest France should find herself faced with complete accord between Great Britain and Germany. French officials pointed out today that the question of reparations was above all a French question. Therefore, it was declared, an arrangement arrived at by Great Britain in the absence of French representatives would be resented.

The situation of the Entente is regarded among French government officials as exceedingly precarious in view of what they describe as nervousness, shown by Great Britain and Italy. Some officials expressed doubt that the French government would agree to arbitration of the reparations question by the League of Nations, if such action should be proposed.

TO SEND ADVISER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Decision has been reached by the Federal Reserve Board to send an adviser to the forthcoming conference of foreign bankers called by the reparations commission to discuss exchange stabilization, it was said officially today at the Treasury.

The board, officials say, has signified its willingness to be represented at the conference, which will consider specific methods of preventing sudden exchange fluctuations resulting from the January payment of the German indemnity. The date and place of meeting of the conference has not been communicated to American officials, who regard the whole matter as yet to be in the form of a proposal.

One method of preventing the fluctuations understood to be under consideration would be a proposal to avoid the payment of the indemnity in the money of any one country. Instead of requiring the reparations payment to be made in American dollars, as in the case of the last installment, it was believed that a cushion might be provided against a sudden exchange drop by spreading a portion of the payment over into Dutch or some other exchange.

ATTEMPT TO BRIBE JURY IS CHARGED.

Illinois Governor Alleges Story Was Spread by Man Refused State Job

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Dec. 1.—Charges in circulation here for several days that the State was investigating alleged attempts to bribe grand jurors who indicted Gov. Small, Lieut.-Gov. Sterling and Vernon Curtis for embezzlement, conspiracy and confidence game, culminated today in a statement from Gov. Small asserting that William D. (Buck) Evans, a member of the grand jury, circulated the story after failing to obtain money or a job from the administration.

The sensational charge was made through a statement in which the Governor made public a letter received by him from C. H. Jenkins, director of public welfare, dealing with alleged grand jury corruption and purporting to be an expose of political forces at work to destroy Small and some of his colleagues.

In his letter to the Governor, Jenkins referred to rumors afloat for some time that State's Attorney Mortimer possessed information connecting friends of Gov. Small with attempts to "fix" the grand jury so it would not return the indictments last July.

When these rumors finally reached publication, Jenkins, according to the letter, was informed that they involved him in an alleged attempt to bribe Evans.

RUPTURE IN IRELAND IS POSTPONED

No Final Break Before Monday; Is Now Up to Sinn Fein.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Indications tonight were that the Irish negotiations, apparently hanging by a thread for two days, would not be finally ruptured before Monday, if at all.

Robert C. Barton is going to Dublin tonight and the other Sinn Fein delegates expect to follow tomorrow.

This announcement was made at the Sinn Fein publicity department today, coupled with the statement that unless the Sinn Feiners were summoned to Premier Lloyd George's official residence this evening there probably would be no further meeting with the government representatives until Monday.

This was taken to mean that the Sinn Fein delegates would devote the week-end to a discussion of the British government's new proposals with Eamonn De Valera and other members of the Dail Eireann Cabinet. It was understood the Sinn Fein delegates would return here Monday to give the government Sinn Fein's decision regarding the new proposals.

The government's undertaking to submit fresh proposals to Ulster before Tuesday is understood to be conditioned upon the acceptance of the new proposals by Sinn Fein and on the question in such possible acceptance of an agreement by the Sinn Fein to swear allegiance to the crown. Should this agreement not be reached, it is understood Ulster will not be approached again and that negotiations with Sinn Fein would terminate.

OPEN SHOP FOR GAS COMPANY.

Bay City Concern Gives Unions Walking Papers.

Informs Them if Intention to Use American Plan.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The Pacific Gas and Electric Company will operate under the American plan, beginning next Thursday, when its agreement with the local unions of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers expires.

The unions affected have been advised by the company that upon the expiration of the present working agreement, the company does not desire to negotiate a new working agreement with the unions of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

SAME WAGES, HOURS.

The corporation has also advised the unions to which its employees belong that for the present, at least, it does not contemplate making any changes in present wages, hours and working conditions.

No reason is given by the company in its communication to the unions for desiring to sever all relations with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Approximately 500 electrical workers in San Francisco, Alameda, Marin, Contra Costa, San Mateo and Santa Clara counties will be affected by the decision of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which employs more electrical workers than any other heat, light and power company in California.

FORMERLY CLOSED SHOP.

In the bay counties the Pacific Gas and Electric Company has for many years operated under the so-called closed shop agreement, and the relations between the company and the locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers have been most cordial. From the viewpoint of organized labor, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company has been considered the "fairest" corporation of its kind in the United States and Canada and there is every reason to believe the same "square deal" will be given its employees by the company even though it does not desire a signed agreement with the unions.

It has been more than a month since the Pacific Gas and Electric Company officially advised the electrical workers' unions that on and after December 1 it would operate without any union agreement. Since then a number of labor leaders have held several conferences with the management of the company in an effort to get them to continue to operate under a so-called closed shop agreement, but without results. The several unions involved have so far taken no action on the decision of the company and, it is said, no action is contemplated.

For some time past the company has been the only heat, light and power corporation in San Francisco operating under a union agreement.

FORMER CALIFORNIAN DEAD IN ARIZONA.

LOS ANGELES AND SAN BERNARDINO MEN SUCCUMB TO HEART FAILURE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX, Dec. 1.—Two former Southern Californians died suddenly today in Arizona, presumably from heart failure. H. B. Lusk, 55 years old, recently arrived from San Bernardino to work in the Santa Fe depot, fell dead on the platform as he was about to report for duty.

Death came in a similar manner to John D. Hicks of Chandler, aged 65, a former hotel-keeper of Los Angeles.

P. J. Munch has been appointed by the Arizona Corporation Commission to take charge of the affairs of the Arizona Fire Insurance Company. The concern is said to be solvent. Much of its business has been taken over by a California company.

It is proposed to honor the memory of Frank Luke, Arizona war hero, by creation in Phoenix of a large stadium and athletic field, to be given his name and to be used by the Phoenix High School, of which he was an attendant.

APPEAL IN WILL CASE SET ASIDE.

COURT RULES IN CHANCERY MUST BE FILED; FIGHT ON KIMBALL ESTATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—An appeal from the order of the Probate Court admitting the will of Mrs. Evaline Kimball, widow of W. W. Kimball, Chicago piano manufacturer, was dismissed today in the Circuit Court. The fight over disposition of the $4,000,000 estate was brought by five heirs who received minor bequests. The court ruled that a bill in chancery to set aside the will must be filed to obtain relief sought and attorneys for the heirs indicated this would be done.

The petitioners are Irving and George Cone and Geneva and Marguerita Burns of Los Angeles, and Josephine Nobel of Chicago. The principal beneficiaries were the Art Institute of Chicago, which received a $1,000,000 art treasure, and Mrs. Warren Salisbury of Chicago, a neice, who received a residuary estate of $2,600,000.

RECOVER REST OF MISSING SPECIE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The remaining $20,000 of the $125,000 in English sovereigns missing from the specie tanks of the liner Sonoma was found today by detectives under the scuppers on a lower boat deck.

The first $28,000 of the loot was discovered hidden in a piece of hose in a ventilator pipe, while $55,000 more was found in boxes tied to oil cans floating under a wharf near the ship.

The gold was shipped by the Commonwealth of Australia at Sydney to the International Banking Corporation. The loss was discovered on the arrival of the Sonoma here last week, locks of the specie tanks having been filed off and duplicates substituted.

BLAMES ALLIES FOR CHINA'S FIX

Correspondent Says the War Caused Trouble.

Militarists Were Sent Into Power by Conflict.

Asks "What if Other Loans Are Called?"

BY GILBERT REID.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PEKING, Dec. 1.—Full use has been made of China's financial troubles, approaching liquidation, to discredit the Chinese delegates to the Washington conference and to place them in an unfavorable position in the estimation of others. There is much in which the Chinese may be blamed for their present predicament, for the Chinese republic is no more perfect than was the former Manchu monarchy.

But relatively, comparing China's finances or military expenditure with those of other countries, blame in being attached to China must also be forthcoming for others. The indebtedness of the central government now amounts to something over $400,000,000 (gold,) over half of which is a foreign debt, and of that over half is debt to Japan.

The particular crisis has come through the nonpayment of a little over $2,000,000 to the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, and a similar amount to another American company. Also at the same time the liquidation of domestic loan bonds, amounting to nearly the same sum, by payment to be made from the Salt Gabelle through the customs organization under English direction. These amounts are not large, but payment is as hard as payment of much larger amounts is found too hard for other governments.

Pressure has been brought to bear by the American government to bring about some kind of settlement, but thus far no source of revenue is in sight. Suppose similar pressure should be brought to bear by the American government on Great Britain, France and Italy, would the interest on indebtedness to the American government or American bankers be met? Or would they all cry, "Non possumus?" Why, then, is China alone to be discredited?

But, it may be said, the financial trouble of these three European governments is due to the part they played in the war, while China was at no expense and did nothing of any importance in the war. Quite ture, but none the less China's present trouble, politically and financially, must be traced to the war, if not to active participation in the war.

If China had not been induced to enter a war which was of no concern of hers there would have been no overthrow of the constitutional government of the republic, no dissolving of Parliament, no strife between the factions of north and south, no rise to power of the militarists, and no need or desire to load China with foreign indebtedness to meet administrative purposes.

All this, if we may form judgment on the basis of happenings prior to the projection of the war issue, for up to February, 1917, China was at peace and all factions worked together.

It is acknowledged that China squanders millions on internal warfare. But how did this come about? Why is there civil strife? It is because the militarists sprang into power through the war issue, and against them the Constitutionalists, being turned out, have been arrayed ever since.

All the Allied powers are concerned in bringing on this lamentable situation. They should be patient with the Chinese till unity is restored.

Morover, it was the militarists who were recognized by the Allied powers for having declared war on Germany, and it is these who have increased China's indebtedness and rolled up loan upon loan, especially from Japan. It ill becomes Japan or any other lending country to dwell too much on China's present predicament. Real helpfulness is needed in these trying days. If these facts are borne in mind by all the delegations, China may yet secure a just treatment at their hands.

BURLINGON ROAD DECLARES DIVIDEND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Directors of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad today declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, and a special cash dividend of 15 per cent, payable December 31 to stockholders of record December 17. The directors also announced inauguration of a pension plan January 1.

Directors of the Colorado and Southern, a subsidiary company, declared a 2 per cent dividend on the first preferred, completing payment of the regular 4 per cent annually, a dividend of 4 per cent on the second preferred and a dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock, all to be paid out of surplus earnings.

AUSTRIAN CROWNS GIVEN HARD BLOW.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VIENNA, Dec. 1.—Upon the issuance of semiofficial statements indicating that abandonment of government control over food and the abolition of all government subsidies will be effected with the new year, foreign exchange became demoralized. The crown went from 7128 to 8500 for the dollar. The bank rate was raised from 7 to 8 per cent.

The index figure issued today showed that the cost of living had increased 241 per cent in the past month.

WASHINGTON AND JEFFERSON INVITED TO PLAY CALIFORNIA ELEVEN.

SMALL COLLEGE TEAM TO MEET THE BEARS.

W. and J. Smaller Than Occidental but Boasts One of Three Undefeated Elevens.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Washington and Jefferson, a college even smaller than Occidental, harbors the football team which will represent the East in the annual New Year's gridiron classic at Pasadena. Thus are the advance pickers and prophets utterly routed. The Tournament of Roses Association so thoroughly camouflaged its activities this year that not a single finger was pointed at Washington, Pa., the seat of W. and J.

California, as everyone well knew, will represent the West. The invitations to Berkeley, Cal., and Washington, Pa., were sent yesterday, following a conference between Lute Nichols, California graduate manager, and the Tournament of Roses Association. W. F. Creller, chairman of the athletic committee, last night announced the invitations to the annual party had been dispatched.

Also it was stated by Creller that absolutely no controversy had developed between the tournament committee and California over an alleged guarantee of $48,000, which it was said Nichols demanded of the association for California's appearance.

The tournament folks are giving no such guarantee, were never asked for it, and the contest will be played under the same uniformly successful conditions which have governed it in the past. The New Year's game has never been placed on the professional basis, the basic idea being to perpetuate all the finer traditions of college football.

When "Tiny" Maxwell wrote the story which appears under his signature on this page he probably had little idea that Washington and Jefferson was to be chosen as an opponent for California. Yet he says of the three undefeated teams in the East—Cornell, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson—that if any one of the three is selected to play California and the eastern team wins, why the title of champion certainly should go to that team.

Probably this is the biggest boost for the Tournament of Roses Association's selection that could be made. Maxwell, former All-American player himself, and who yearly referees such classics as the Harvard-Yale game, is an expert, whose word can be taken as the gospel truth.

Inasmuch as Maxwell recites the victories of Washington and Jefferson over such strong elevens as Syracuse and Pittsburg it is unnecessary to dwell further upon it here.

So little is known here, however, of the Washington and Jefferson players that it is necessary to resort to the football guide to even find out who captains this rough-and-ready gridiron organization.

QUAKERS ON HAND FOR TILT.

Whittier Gridders Arrive at Tucson Ready to Tackle the Wildcats.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 1.—The Whittier College football team arrived here today for their encounter with the University of Arizona Saturday. The two schools have defeated every team in their respective conferences and a tough battle is expected.

The Arizonans claim to have the strongest team in their history this year and have not been scored upon by a southwestern conference team. In their four games they have rolled up 245 points. They will outweigh the Quakers about five pounds to the man.

Coach Perry put his men through an hour's snappy signal drill and reports the squad in perfect condition. Those making the trip are Suggett, Thompson, R. Johns, Reece, Rohrbough, Morris, Wisgert, Brownson, Rayburn, L. Johns, McPherson, Compton, Buckmaster, P. Pickett, E. Pickett, Latson, Rampton, Shafer, Woodard, Madden, Coach Perry and Manager Sheldon.

COUGARS MAY MEET BEARS NEXT SEASON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, Dec. 1.—Plans for a football game next season between the University of California and Washington State College were discussed here this week when the northern Cougars stopped over on their way to Pasadena, where they play the University of Southern California next Saturday. The game, if played, will be on California field, it is thought. California defeated W.S.C. in 1920 and 1921.

GRID TEAM UP TO THE ADMIRAL.

Pacific Fleet Eleven Problem for Next Season; Coach is Sanguine.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Dec. 1.—Whether there will be a Pacific Fleet football team next year or not, depends a good deal on what the admiral of the fleet at that time thinks about it, according to members of the fleet team now here to play Multnomah Club next Saturday. Last year Admiral Rodman, who was fleet commander, heartily approved it, Admiral Eberle, now in command, is not in favor of continuance of football, according to the men.

W. A. Ingram, captain and coach of the team, last night expressed the opinion that football will continue. "I feel sure the Pacific Fleet team will be in the field again next year," he said. "There was some opposition this year, but as the schedule had already been arranged we were allowed to put out a team. Next year I believe the team will be under direct jurisdiction of the Navy Department. If not, it is still possible that another fleet commander may be in charge who would favor football."

FAR NORTH LEAGUE FALLS INTO DISCARD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Dec. 1. — The breaking up of the Pacific International baseball league, comprising the cities of Tacoma and Yakima, Wash., and Vancouver and Victoria, B. C. was announced yesterday by L. H. Burnett, league president, who said the league would not operate in 1922.

That a four-club league is too small, particularly when the race for the pennant becomes a walkaway early in the season, and the salaries were far too high for a class B. league, are the principal reasons given.

PETER KEMP DEAD.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Peter Kemp of Sydney, N. S. W., one-time world's champion sculler, is dead at his home in Sydney, according to a Central News dispatch today.

CAPT. BUELL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Dec. 1.—Charles C. Buell of Hartford, Conn., was elected captain of the Harvard eleven today.

WASHINGTON AND JEFFERSON, CORNELL AND LAFAYETTE ARE ONLY UNDEFEATED ELEVENS.

BY ROBERT W. (TINY) MAXWELL.
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1. — Three teams in the East went through the season without being beaten or tied. The victorious trio is composed of Cornell, Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson. State was not defeated but was deadlocked by Harvard at 21 and played a scoreless tie with Pitt.

The undefeated three all have excellent claims for the championship in this section. The Ithacans, unfortunately, did not meet any of the leading elevens, but Dartmouth and Penn were trimmed so decisively that the Dobie machine must be rated among the most powerful. Cornell has a great offensive and this was clearly demonstrated on Franklin Field Thanksgiving Day when six touchdowns were scored against the Red and Blue.

Three hundred and ninety-two points have been piled up by the Ithacans this season. That's that for the offense. The defense also is good, for only 21 points were made by the opposition. Dartmouth, Colgate and Columbia each tallied one touchdown against Capt. Dodge and his playmates.

The best argument Lafayette has for the mythical title is the victory over Pitt. Other victims of the Eastonians were Muhlenberg, Dickinson, Bucknell, Fordham, Rutgers, Penn, Delaware and Lehigh. Jock Sutherland's athletes registered 274 points and permitted 26 points to be scored against them. Bucknell, Fordham, Penn and Lehigh each crossed the Eastonian goal line once.

Washington and Jefferson also took a fall out of Pitt, winning by 7 to 0. Greasy Neale's boys have trimmed Bethany, Bucknell, West Virginia, Wesleyan, Carnegie Tech, Lehigh, Syracuse, Westminster, Pitt and West Virginia. Two hundred and eight points were scored against 31.

The championship argument never will be settled, but if any one of the trio is selected to play Andy Smith's California eleven at Pasadena, and a victory is scored by the eastern eleven, the title certainly should go to that team.

Cornell led the collegiate world in point-scoring, and there was no other eleven in the East with records near the figures compiled by the Ithacans. However, Georgia Tech was only 33 points behind with 359, and Notre Dame put over 355.

COACH HAS MADE FOOTBALL WHAT IT IS

BY LEEPSON BOWNES.

The following article, written by a well-known local football expert, is an answer to a story appearing in yesterday's paper in which Joe Punt, an ancient football expert, declared the coaches have been spoiling college football. The Times welcomes further comments on the subject.—[Ed.

The coach is the man who has made football what it is today, the greatest little old game played in this country or any other. The outburst from our old college chum, Joe Punt, this morning simply goes to demonstrate that Joseph had better have Father Isaiah hitch a set of goat glands onto his mental processes to bring him up to date.

The suggestion that we need more team play and less coaches is ridiculous. For without the coaches we wouldn't have any football. The coaches are the men who have made the game. The coaches are the men who have bridged the chasm that once existed between the little college and the big university.

WHERE WAS U.S.C.?

Where was the University of Southern California before Gloomy Henderson floated into our midst on a wave of his own briny tears?

Where was the University of Washington after Gil Dobie pulled his freight for Annapolis and points East?

Where was Centre College before old Kid Moran breezed into town and proceeded to put out a team?

The answer to all the above questions is the same, to wit, "No place."

Without good coaching football was always a matter of quality and quantity of material. True it is that if two coaches have equal ability, the one with the best material will win, but it is equally true that a good coach with

SANTA ANA TRIUMPHS.

Eliminates Chaffey Union From Running for Prep Title by Winning Fast Game 21 to 7.

BY CHARLES WEST.

Santa Ana, a city famous for oranges and elopements, won additional renown yesterday afternoon at Fullerton when the Santa Ana High's football machine ran riot over Chaffey Union, 21 to 7, in the semifinal contest of the Southern California prep championship. By virtue of this victory Spud Morrison's men will connect with San Diego for the title December 10.

As usual, Eny Wilcox was the whole show for Santa Ana, pulling off a flock of runs during the afternoon's performance, and crossing Chaffey's line twice for touchdowns. Early in the game the Ontario athletes began to realize that one man couldn't stop the Santa Ana quarterback, with the result that Wiclox was usually on the bottom of a regular dog-pile when the whistle blew.

Stark, playing left end for the winners, featured with a number of brilliant tackles, and Chaffey's speedy halfbacks failed to circle his end while he was in the game. Knight and Jabs, backfield men, helped considerably in rolling up Santa Ana's score.

Chaffey drew first blood early in the second period when, after defending their goal inside their twenty-yard line for the entire first quarter, Manker picked up Jab's fumble and trotted eighty yards for Chaffey's solitary score. Manker converted.

But while Chaffey's men were Boxing Smoker of the Newsboys is Big Success.

The newsboy boxing smoker held Tuesday night in Foresters' Hall, 246 South Hill, was a big success. The show was staged by Carlo Curtis. In the main event, Fidel La Barba defeated Benny Marks, but many thought the real fight of the night was between two little fellows, Bobby Olivas and Joe Cohen, who slugged all the way to decide the winner of a battle royal. Olivas won. Rocky Kansas and Benny Leonard also put on a corking good bout, which was a draw. Kid Chili and Young Red drew in a clever go.

Other results were: Battling Phil won from Kid Bada and Young Hymil and Irish Kilbane boxed a draw. Jack Davis and Tony Geyer and Prof. Procasi pleased in a musical way.

NO DECISION GIVEN IN DENVER FIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER (Colo.) Dec. 1.—Jack Thompson and Harry Wills, negro heavyweights, fought five rounds of a scheduled twelve-round bout last night when the referee stopped the fight without rendering a decision. Thompson claimed a foul and fell to the floor unable to continue. Sport writers said Wills struck Thompson in the groin.

PITCHER ALLEN IS NOW A BENEDICT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HOLLISTER, Dec. 1.—Ernest M. Alten, pitcher for the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League last season, and signed with San Francisco for next year, was married here today to Miss Bernice M. Fihily. His age was given as 27, the bride's 23.

TIJUANA RESULTS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 1.—Star Realm, odds-on favorite, won the feature event today, the one mile handicap, coming from behind in the stretch under the guiding hand of Jockey Bowers and reaching the wire by a head, with Ike Harvey placing, five lengths in front of Belgian Queen.

A spectacular spill in front of the grand stand gave the crowd a thrill in the third race. Maid of Ansell collided with Easter Jim, and both threw their riders just as they were passing beneath the wire. Luckily no one was injured.

The results:

First race, five furlongs—Captain Clever won, Martha Otis second, Beautiful Dream third. Time 1:04.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs—Judy Passion won, El Sabio second, Pewaukee third. Time 1:09 4-5.

Third race, five and one-half furlongs—Early Morn won, Goldie Rose second, Due de Guise third. Time 1:09 1-5.

Fourth race, five furlongs—Mayflower won, Perch second, Hazel Sale third. Time 1:02 3-5.

Fifth race, one mile—Star Realm won, Ike Harvey second, Belgian Queen third. Time 1:40 4-5.

Sixth race, one mile and seventy yards—Woodie Montgomery won, Jake Schaa second, Cavalcador II. third. Time 1:42 3-5.

Seventh race, six furlongs—Yo Yo won, Tivoli Lodi second, Bob Baker third. Time 1:15 3-5.

MILLER HANGS IT ON GARDNER.

Local Mat Artist's Endurance Does the Work.

Loses First Fall by a Head and Crotch Hold.

Comes Back With Force and Grabs Next Two.

A championship record was made at the Athletic Club last night. After losing a two-out-of-three-fall wrestling match to Walter Miller, middleweight titleholder, Pinky Gardner of New York made a speech, and for the first time in history the fans stood and listened to it without a murmur. It's a record that will go down to posterity.

After losing the first fall Miller came back and won the second with a hammerlock in 43m. 38s. Nelsons which Miller clamped on his man weakened Gardner to the point where he was easy victim for the hammerlock. Good sportsmanship prevailed throughout the match.

Weakened by the weight which he made for Miller, Gardner was pinned for the third fall in 18m. 28s., Miller assuming the aggressive immediately after the intermission. Miller secured the deciding hold with a bear arm.

Referee George Retzer called the men to the center of the ring at 9:15 o'clock and after the usual examination of the grapplers' nails sent them on their journey. They sparred temporarily for holds. Both soon secured a good grip and down they went with Pinkey under and here is where he showed to advantage for he had no trouble in extricating himself. Both were on their feet again, but Walter quickly had his man on the mat. Gardener then began to work in earnest from the bottom. Every clutch that Miller essayed was broken with ease and this dexterous work of the new comer caught the crowd's fancy.

SOME HOLD.

The first exciting moment came when the local man got a dangerous arm lock into action. Gardener to save himself resorted to a similar hold and by clever maneuvering pulled himself out of a tight situation. Miller almost floored him. The men were on their feet again

COVERT SNEERS BLOCK CONTEST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Dec. 1.—Anonymous letters and telegrams from Atlanta, containing sneers and insults to Centre College, have prevented Georgia Tech and Centre from arranging a football game for 1922, in Atlanta, it was said today by Dr. S. S. Wallace, of the Georgia Tech athletic committee.

Dr. Wallace issued a statement saying no one connected with Georgia Tech, and no friend of the school, had anything to do with sending such communications to Centre College authorities.

Vernon Hands Out Another Lacing to Hornsby's Falling Cherubs.

TIGERS THUMP ANGELS AGAIN.

Projector Scott's Lack of Control Ruinous.

Hornsby Features Game With Two Triples.

Vernon Bruises Ball Hard in the Third Inning.

One big inning, the third, sufficed to put Sisler's Tigers in front yesterday, and Vernon won the third game of the series, 9 to 6.

This put the series two games to one against the Angels, and makes it practically certain the Tigers and Missions will tangle here in the three-game series for a $3000 purse at the end of the regular season.

STAGED HERE.

Said series, which, under the arrangement, is to be played between the team finishing in front and the runner-up, must be played on the grounds of the leading club, which means it will be staged in the south unless the Tigers go into a terrific slump.

Third was the fat round for Vernon, when four runs were festooned on five singles and a brace of errors. "Death Valley" Jim Scott was inclined to be wild, and the weather was so much like San Francisco that he found himself considerably below top form.

HORNSBY THERE.

Walter Reuther was walloped freely by Hornsby and his hirelings, but proved good enough with his team going out and making a big batch of runs.

Whatever the final result, Wrigley, Patrick and Maier, by bringing a quartet of big league stars to the Coast, and paying major league salaries, gave to thousands an opportunity which they otherwise would not have had to see these headliners in action, and set a mark for future generations of baseball magnates to shoot at. SCOUT FAVORS LOS ANGELES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Ben Connery, scout for the New York American baseball club, reported today to his employers that he favored Los Angeles as a training camp for next spring. The club owners have not yet reached a decision, although they have several sites under consideration, most of them in Texas.

The scout also recommended the purchase of O'Connell, first baseman of the San Francisco club.

GOLF BODY TO PUT LIMIT TO ENTRIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Discussion of means for limiting entries in tournaments of the Professional Golfers' Association so that qualifying rounds of thirty-six holes may be played off in a single day, is expected to occupy the attention of the association's national executive committee at its meeting here December 15. Among those expected to attend the meeting is C. R. Lager of California.

FULL STRENGTH OF YE TROJANS IS MYSTERY.

Tactics Employed to Defeat Oregon Camouflage Their Power; Aggies Big Leaguers.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Any team which licks those tough Oregon Aggies belongs in the big league all right, but the full gridiron strength of the University of Southern California remains more or less camouflaged in mystery.

This is largely because of the tactics employed to defeat Oregon. Except for one short, relentless, all-compelling dash, when they seized an advantage of their own making and turned it into the only touchdown of the game, the Trojans were satisfied for the most park to rely on a kicking, defensive game.

There was considerable criticism of Henderson's tactics by those who had desired to see a Roman Holiday with Grecian trimmings, but to the writer's way of reasoning these tactics were the last word in football wisdom.

Admitting that the Trojans, on the basis of their showing for the short time they opened up, looked from two to three touchdowns better than the visitors, it is a question whether they or any other eleven would be capable of a sustained offensive effort against the husky Aggies.

Had the Trojans worn themselves out in repeated attacks against the massive Oregon line, the result might easily have been reversed. Henderson allowed the Aggies to throw everything they had at his team, and the Aggies were themselves out. The sole result of these efforts was a nice parcel of first downs for Oregon, but nary a touchdown.

Thanks to this conservatism and good luck, the Trojans came through the game without an injury of consequence, and without making corroding demands on the returning strength of the convalescent Capt. Dean, which leaves them solund of wind and limb for the presumably tougher game with Washington State tomorrow. Henderson, of course, was figuring on this contest when he maneuvered his team to defeat Oregon with the minimum of risk and effort.

This may prove to be the battle of the year. Washington State defeated the Oregon Aggies by the narrow margin of 7 to 3. California, unable to make any progress against the Washington line, resorted to its unrivalled passing game, and won 14 to 0. That shows the kind of stuff which U.S.C. beat Saturday, and is going up against tomorrow. Formerly, the South called on the Northwest for its elevens to meet the best in the East. And either Washington or Oregon would today whip two-thirds of the crack eastern elevens.

Of course, on the strength of some of the earlier returns, one would be inclined to pick the Cougars to claw the Trojans. California, as recited, defeated Washington, 14 to 0, while the Bears beat U.S.C., 35 to 7. However, counting on the "breaks," the doubtful decisions, the fact that Dean was ill and Tiernan injured, eyewitnesses of that battle maintain that California looked only about two touchdowns better than the Trojans.

However that may be, the southern fans will have an opportunity Saturday to get their first real line on the Trojans, as Henderson may reasonably be expected in this, the last game of the season, to uncover everything he has in the way of men and mansuvers.

Strangely, at no time this season have the Trojans struck one as being in their real stride. They have not played as good ball as they did in 1920, although they figured better. The writer for a long time believed them under wraps, but there has been a continual raggedness, lack of consistency and absence of sustained snap for which it is difficult to account on that theory.

"We simply haven't been able to get going," to quote from a speech by Capt. Dean at a recent banquet.

There is said to be a division of opinion in the U.S.C. camp as to whether the players are overtrained or undertrained.

Better find out quick, for they will need to be at top speed against the crouching Cougars.

COACH HAS MADE GAME.

only fair material oftentimes get out and whales the tar out of a poorer coach with better material.

Old man Punt doesn't have to get any further away from his own fireside than the University of Southern California to get a first-class example of what a coach can do. He can take a squint back to the year when U.S.C. decided to quit murdering the good game of Rugby and returned to the grand old game of American football.

U.S.C. then, as now, got more seasoned and potentially championship material than all of the conference colleges combined. And yet what happened? Because of coaching which wasn't on a par with the coaching at the conference colleges, the Trojan elevens were unmercifully trampled by Occidental, Pomona and Whittier year after year. The thing that made the difference was the fact that Pipal at Occidental, Stanton at Pomona and Wilson at Whittier knew more in a minute about football than the U.S.C. coaches knew in a week and their knowledge more than made up for U.S.C.'s superiority in material.

That condition of affairs continued right up to the time that Gloomy Henderson hove in view. And then what happened? A good coach took hold of the splendid Trojan material and U.S.C. took the place in football circles that she now occupies, right up with the leaders.

Look at Centre College, which in three years has lost just two games, one to Harvard and one to Georgia Tech. Previous to the advent of Coach Moran Centre had filled the niche that her registration of 250 students would entitle her to, doing well in her own class, but getting murdered by the bigger schools.

Then Moran got busy and developed a real football team and through good coaching was able to bridge the difference of several thousand students that stood between Centre and Harvard and made his team the most talked of football eleven in the entire country, not even excepting Andy Smith's California outfit.

It's all very well to say that too much coaching robs the teams of their individuality, but just the same the thing that has made football what it is today is the fact that by means of good coaching it is possible for the little fellow to wallop the big fellow and for the team that is outclassed on paper to be on the fat end of the score when the final whistle toots.

The American people don't like games where it's all play and no science, all individuals and little teamwork. They showed it when they didn't attend the Rugby games and the American youths showed that they didn't like to play that kind of a game by playing it in their own way.

IOWA MAY GET A YALE MATCH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

IOWA CITY, Nov. 30.—The possibility of an Iowa-Yale football game next season is in the hands of Iowa University athletic officials, it was learned here tonight. According to advices from Yale, Iowa will probably play in New Haven previous to Yale's trip to Princeton.

The date has been held open for the Iowa eleven and if the Hawkeyes want to play Yale, they only have to arrange their schedule so as to accept the date.

MASCOT OF OXY SQUAD IS BURNED.

Famous Stolen Tiger Cremated at Exposition Park; Harmony Prevails.

Never again will Occidental College and the University of Southern California fight over the tiger.

Never again will Oxy's striped mascot fly over a football field in a Methodist-Presbyterian fray.

The feud is over; the battle's done.

Yesterday at 2 o'clock men from the two institutions met at Exposition Park and burned the paper mache tiger stolen from Occidental College by U.S.C. students three years ago.

Feeling that Occidental would feel more friendly if the tiger were returned, the U.S.C. student body voted to return it and authorized Merle McGinnis, student body president, to return the mascot.

However, feeling that the tiger could never again serve its former purpose, William Burns, Oxy president, refused to accept the tiger on behalf of the Occidental student body, and suggested that the mascot be burned by representatives from the two institutions. Expressions of good liiw werxee- v pressions of good will were exchanged by Occidental College and the University of Southern California.

Wearers of the orange and black have fought gamely to regain the tiger ever since it was taken, and the Trojans have fought in the same manner to keep it. The offer to return the tiger was not made in a spirit of conquest, says McGinnis of U.S.C., but simply that good will might prevail and a spirit of friendly rivalry be restored.

Exeter Eleven Expects Tough Battle Sunday.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EXETER, Dec. 1.—The hardest game of the season for the Exeter football eleven is expected to be that of Sunday, December 4, when the Selma team clashes with the local aggregation on the home grounds and every effort is being made this week to place the home team in the best condition possible for the contest.

Sparks, who was out of the game last week on account of injuries, will be in the contest Sunday and will materially strengthen the line-up. Last week's paid attendance was 1500 and this crowd helped put the Exeter team in good financial condition. An even larger attendance is expected for Selma.

OHIO-NEBRASKA TILT IS PROBABLY OFF.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1.—Acceptance of a proposal for a football game between Ohio State and Nebraska, 1921 champions of the Missouri Valley Conference for next year, is not deemed likely by athletic officials at Ohio State. A telegram seeking information regarding a contest was received from the Nebraskans yesterday. It has been tentatively agreed that Ohio State next year will face the same opponents which were on its schedule this year.

VARSITY LETTER IS VOTED FOR JUNIOR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Dec. 1.—The Harvard student council has voted to award the varsity football letter to H. Covington Janin of San Francisco, substitute end on the Crimson team, who was kept out of the Yale game by an injury. The council's action was taken on the recommendation of the athletic committee after the varsity squad had petitioned for the award.

CLUBS SEEK HOT SPRINGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Two Pacific Coast Baseball League teams, San Francisco and Seattle, are after the Byron Hot Springs, near here, for training grounds for their pitchers next spring, it is reported.

Seattle will do most of its training at Stockton, but wants to send its pitchers to Byron. San Francisco pitchers have trained at Byron for several years and George Putnam, secretary of the Seals, is not in favor of the idea of both teams using the grounds. In view of this, Seattle may try for some other camp.

Bob Connery, New York Yankee scout, looked over Byron Springs recently as a possible camp for the American League champions in case they come to California to train.

JACK MAY SCRAP FREDDIE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Notwithstanding all his shortcomings and the many upsets Fred Fulton has suffered it would not be surprising if the big plasterer should be selected as Jack Dempsey's next opponent. Fred has done some wonderful back-diving in the course of his hectic fistic career, but when the rangy mad-slinger gets off to a good start he is rough.

It has been suggested and, perhaps, wisely that Fred has never been properly coached or handled. There have been times when the Minnesota giant would fight his way right up to within a step of the championship and then someone would drop him into the wrong place and bloole would go the whole works.

IDAHO ELEVEN RETAIN TITLE.

Fleet Gridders Bear Down on North Island.

San Diego Squad Shows Lack of Team Work.

Carrella, Clever Half, Makes Spectacular Run.

Playing better football at all stages of the game, the U.S.S. Idaho eleven yesterday retained the 1921 Pacific Fleet championship on the Trona gridiron at Los Angeles Harbor by defeating the North Island Naval Air Station gridders, 14 to 7.

The San Diego squad displayed lack of teamwork, both on the offensive and defensive, and made their only touchdown by a spectacular 35-yard pass in the third quarter. Capt. Grazer shot the ball to Knapp after a fake end run, the lanky end dropping over the goal line with the ball.

ON LINE BUCK.

Both of the Idaho scores came on straight football. The first quarter was scoreless, with the ball in the middle of the field, but in the second the champions marched down the gridiron from the kick-off, Mathard carrying the ball over on a line buck.

Carrella, stellar half of the Idaho, pulled off the only spectacular run of the game when he scored from the aviators' 25-yard line on an end run in the quarter.

Capt. Laubaugh for the Idaho and McCreary, North Island quarter, were the individual lights of the game. The line-ups and score:

Idaho.		North Island.
Bennett	L.E.R.	Melchen
Bigelow	L.T.R.	Hall

Substitutions: Idaho, Schlenberg for Harsh, Mathard for Lobeau; Air Station, Condon for Melchen, Moss for McCreary, Khulls for Logan.

Touchdowns—Idaho, Mathard, Carrella; Air Station, Knapp. Goals from touchdowns, Laubaugh, 2; Grazer.

SMALL COLLEGE TEAM SELECTED

R. F. Stein is the gentleman in question, and he plays tackle.

A. E. "Greasy" Neale, outfielder for the Cincinnati National League baseball team, coaches W. and J., and like Umpire Moran, who tutors Centre College, which is to play at San Diego, is said to lead his men in prayer before each battle.

While the Pasadena problem has been settled, the bugs still have Centre's opponent to pick. Although stories have been printed to the effect that the plum would be awarded the winner of the Washington State-U.S.C. battle tomorrow, Graduate Manager Henry Bruce of U.S.C. said yesterday he didn't know anything about it.

Bruce says Ed Martin and "Shorty" Ames, ex-Stanford managers, who are said to have the job of picking a team for Centre to play, paid him a visit of three hours' duration on Thursday, but no mention of the Centre game was made by them. Bruce asked them if the "Praying Colonels'" rivals had been picked, and they said no. There is a clause in Centre's contract which says a college opponent will be selected. This disposes of the Pacific Fleet eleven, leaving Washington State and U.S.C. in the running.

But the U.S.C. athletic council, composed of Warren Bovard, La Porte, Hugh Willett and Harold Stonier, met Thursday night and went on record as opposed to all post-season games.

Still that doesn't settle the question. If U.S.C. wins tomorrow, it is highly possible the Trojan council could be persuaded to see things in a different light.

George Varnell has been selected to referee tomorrow's game. W. S. Kienholtz will umpire and John L. Griffith, coach of Pasadena High, will be the head linesman.

WALTER MILLER IS VICTORIOUS.

maneuvering for an advantageous clutch. When they went to the canvas Gardener secured a flying head scissors but when about to utilize it to advantage, Miller squirmed outside the ropes.

Walter then got an arm lock and appeared to have his man in a dangerous situation when suddenly Pinky flashed into a head chancery and crotch position and after a short struggle slowly pressed Miller's shoulders to the floor for the first fall. The fall was secured in seventeen minutes and twenty-six seconds.

Gardner seemed to outweigh Miller six or seven pounds. His quickness was a revelation and his baffling work from under seemed to get Miller's goat.

In the preliminaries Jimmie Hueomich defeated Emil Heino, getting two decisions in ten minutes each. Russell Vis defeated J. Kolhmeir in two falls, the second of which was won in one minute and four seconds.

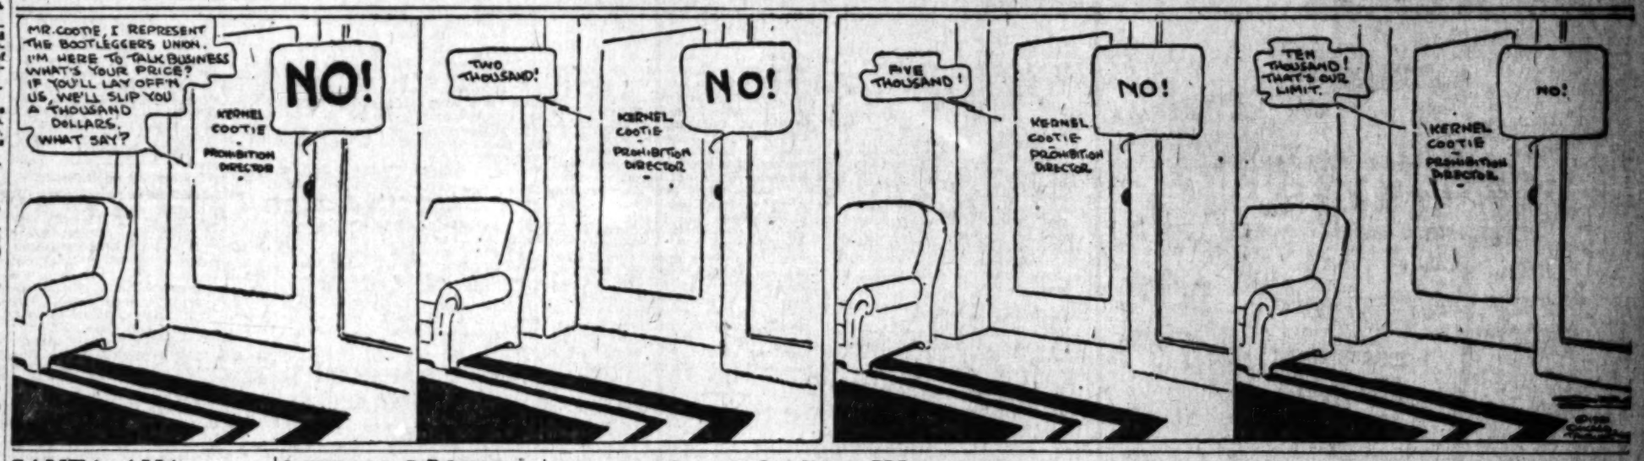
KERNEL COOTIE—THE TEMPTER



SANTA ANA TRIUMPHS.

decisively defeated, they died hard, and it took Spud Morrison's first line-up to turn the trick. Anticipating an easy time of it, the Santa Ana mentor let his second team start the game, but when Chaffey held repeatedly on the threshold of their goal and turned one of Santa Ana's fumbles into a touchdown in the second quarter, Spud thought better of his rash action, and sent his regulars in to stem the tide.

And stem the tide they did. From that time on the game was all Santa Ana's. Runs by Wilcox and bucks by Black and Jabs carried the ball right up to Chaffey's 3-yard line, and Wilcox pushed over the line. Half-time intermission delayed Chaffey's defeat at this point.

Black, Wilcox, Knight, and Jabs took turns carrying the ball in the second half, Wilcox running the ends while the other backs plugged through Chaffey's forwards. Knight scored on a buck shortly after the opening of the third quarter, and Wilcox boosted the ball between the posts for an additional point.

Content with this lead, Santa Ana fell back on the punting game until the last few minutes of play. Chaffey tried desperately to tie the score by some fancy plays that generally lost them yards, and Santa Ana obtained possession of the ball on their opponents' 20-yard line. A series of bucks counted two first downs, and Wilcox again scored on a quarterback sneak.

Santa Ana (21)		Chaffey Union (7)
Metz	LE.	Mortimer
Leland	LT.	Belph
McDonald	LG.	Lyle
Millen	C.	Hersch
Flint	RG.	Khuns
Stevens	RT.	Springer

Buckston	LHR.	Greene
Black	HR.	Manker
Jabs	FB.	Spicer

Substitutions: For Santa Ana—Chvrah for Millen, Best for McDonald, Stark for Metz, Millen for Flint, Knight for Buckston, Cook for Jabs, Bell for Stevens. For Chaffey—Mahler for Belphs, Baxter for Spicer, Cline for Van Fleet.

NEWS NOTES of FLEET

Four magnificent silver cups for the encouragement of athletics among the battleships of the Pacific Fleet have been presented to the new dreadnaught California by a committee of the Knights of Columbus of the State. The presentation was made last Sunday at San Francisco, according to word reaching fleet headquarters yesterday. The cups are for excellence in cutter racing, boxing, baseball and football, respectively. The presentation was made to the California because that ship is soon to become the flagship of the fleet, it was explained, but the trophies are to be contested for by every ship in the fleet.

The marine guard of the California, comprising some 100 men, has just returned aboard ship after a twelve-day encampment at Redondo Beach, where the men went through a course of military tactics and battle maneuvers. Before their return to the ship they were put through a forced march of several miles.

Lieut. Albert Noble has been detached from duty on the dreadnaught Pennsylvania and assigned to instruction in post graduate course in ordnance at the Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Lieut. Andrew L. Burleigh, of the cruiser Frederick, former flagship of the fleet train at Los Angeles Harbor, has been transferred to the destroyer Melville.

Lieut. Rufus B. Langford, navy supply corps, has been detached from duty at the Navy Helfum Products Plant, Fort Worth, Tex., and assigned to duty as assistant supply officer aboard the dreadnaught Arizona of the Pacific fleet.

America's first naval aircraft carrier, the Langley, was placed in commission yesterday on the East Coast. The Langley will be assigned to duty at San Diego, where she will become flagship of the air squadrons of the Pacific Fleet, relieving the mine-layer Aroostook. The Langley was formerly the naval collier Jupiter and was remodelled after the latest type of British airplane carrier. It is equipped with a machine shop and has a balloon well, capable of containing several kite balloons.

Bids are being sought by Rear-Admiral Josiah McKean, commandant of the Mare Island Navy Yard at San Francisco, for the historic old cruiser Brooklyn, recently ordered sold by the Navy Department, together with the old training ship Intrepid. Built in 1895 the Brooklyn became famous as the flagship of Commodore W. S. Schley at the battle of Santiago. Last year she was the flagship of the commander of the Pacific Fleet destroyer forces.

Footballers Entertained at a Dinner.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Dec. 1. — The squad of thirty football players of the University of Redlands were entertained at a turkey dinner at the Contemporary Clubhouse tonight by the Rotary Club of the city, the club having promised the dinner to the boys provided they defeated Pomona College in a football game here. The Bulldogs turned the trick by a score of 17 to 7 and won the dinner.

Coach Guy Daniels of the university was one of the principal speakers. Coach Daniels said he was not completely satisfied with results this year but that his men were not in any way to blame, that they had played hard, clean football all year. He said the outlook for next season is rather good.

The principal speaker was Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, who has returned recently from Riga, Latvia, where for three years he has been helping in the feeding of 25,000 Russian children who would have died from malnutrition but for American relief.

BIG PAVILION IS NEARLY READY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 1. — Stanford's new $90,000 basketball pavilion will be completed in time for home games of the Cardinal varsity this season. A spring floor is being installed in the building. Approximately seventy men turned out for basketball work recently, but only four men of last year's varsity were in the number. Three other members of the 1920 team did not return to school.

Cobler Finds No Terrors in New Fifth.

Most of the Hollywood Country Club golfers admit that the new fifth hole is pretty sporty, but it held no terrors for F. E. Cobler. Yesterday he proceeded to hole out his spoon shot for an eagle 2.

George Lance and Chuck Ross played fifty-four holes at Hollywood Country Club yesterday. Lance had 73, 75 and 71, while Ross was not far behind. On the last round Lance had six birdies, and it appears that he has the grass greens down pretty well now.

H. W. Stringfellow, prominent golfer of Montana, and member of the Hollywood Country Club, has returned to the city and is glad to be back. He has again taken up his game at Hollywood, and, notwithstanding that he has not played for over six months, defeated E. C. Brace and R. H. Robertson.

ANOTHER WEDDING.

JANICE WILSON WILL MARRY BUSINESS MAN.

By Grace Kingsley.

That there still remains the old-fashioned idea among some of our screen stars that marriage should mark the retirement of the player from the screen, is proven once more. This time it is Janice Wilson, sister of Lois Wilson, the latter a Lasky star, who is to marry and retire from professional life.

Janice Wilson is considered as great a beauty as her sister, and has played leads in several pictures. She is to be married, however, and doesn't expect ever to look the camera in the eye again. The bridegroom-to-be is James Bell, Jr., of Memphis, who has come west to claim his bride.

The young people met two seasons ago, when Mr. Bell was in the West spending the winter. A friendship which speedily ripened into a romance resulted from the acquaintance, and on Mr. Bell's return east a correspondence followed between himself and Miss Wilson.

The wedding will take place at 8 o'clock Monday evening, at the Hollywood Episcopalian Church, with Rev. Philip Easley officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Bell will leave at once for Mr. Bell's home in Memphis.

Bill Hart Declines Vaudeville.

No vaudeville for William S. Hart, declares that gentleman. Mr. Hart, who comes to Grauman's Monday in "White Oak," has just turned down an offer from a large vaudeville firm of the East to appear in an act.

Tom Mix Expects Heir.

The stork hovers over the happy home of Tom Mix, according to reports. Mrs. Mix, who was formerly Victoria Forde, well-known in pictures, retired from the screen on marrying Mr. Mix three years ago.

Charles Gordon Forms Company.

Charles Gordon, the promising young English actor, who is remembered for his playing of the page Clarence, in "A Yankee in King Arthur's Court," and for other roles on the screen, has formed his own company, and has gone to Manila to produce films, according to word just received from him.

Walter B. Oakes is at the head of the new company, and has secured five acres of land just outside of Manila. Two acres of this land were obtained from the business community of Manila and three from the Chamber of Commerce.

The objects of the Charles Gordon Production Company will be not only the making of story features, but also, he says in his letter, to produce pictures which shall assist in commercial advertising and designed to create a better understanding between the Filipino and the rest of the world.

It would appear that the Manila folk have taken to picture production, and have given Mr. Gordon every encouragement and assistance in their power, by indorsing his enterprise, as well as by donating land for his studio.

Mr. Gordon left here a fortnight ago, and planned to stop at the Hawaiian Islands on his way to the Philippines. He also expects a little later to visit China and Japan.

Will Rogers Back Soon.

It's all right now. Will Rogers isn't going to desert us after all. Rogers is to return to Hollywood within a few weeks to continue the making of his two-reelers, according to word just received by friends here. At present he is engaged in entertaining Florenz Ziegfeld's audiences in New York. It was the success of his first two-reeler at the Capitol in New York which determined him to continue in the picture business.

New Ince Production.

C. Gardner Sullivan, Thomas H. Ince's kingpin scenarioist, who is said to think about a screen story for three months and then write it in three days, has injected a decided James Oliver Curwood atmosphere into his latest, "Someone To Love," which Ince is to place in production within the next ten days.

The "elephant girl" of a small circus, the elephant and a nomadic young musician are the leading figures. The locale of the story is entirely the Northern Canadian woods and an isolated trading post.

The drama is a distinct departure in type from Mr. Sullivan's innumerable previous originals and is to be enacted by an all-star cast including the elephant whose name we don't know, but hope will be Oscar. "Oscar, the Elephant" sounds very appropriate—sort of Ernest Thompson Seaton-ish.

George Beranger in London.

Evidence that English producers are waking up is shown by the fact that they certainly know a good man when they see him. So when George Beranger, former assistant to D. W. Griffith, put in an appearance at the Hepworth studios, near London, not long ago, he was at once engaged as director, according to word just received by his old chum, Hallam Cooley, who has been helping to put money into the pocket of Carl Laemmle lately in playing leads in Universal pictures.

Following his engagement with Griffith, Beranger served in the World War with the Canadian forces.

Edith Roberts With Lasky.

Life for Edith Roberts is just one picture after another. Having finished the Ince picture in which she was appearing, she has moved her make-up box to her official home at the Lasky studio, and is preparing to appear as leading woman for Wallace Reid in his new Paramount picture, "Across the Continent." Byron Morgan wrote the story, and Philip Rosen will direct.

Others in the cast are Theodore Roberts, Walter Long, Betty Francisco, Lucien Littlefield, Jack Herbert and Guy Oliver.

Melvina Polo Abroad.

There was just no stopping Melvina Polo, daughter of Eddie Polo, Universal star of serials, once she got a taste of screen acting.

She has received an offer from a Berlin picture company, and left yesterday with Mrs. Polo for Europe, via New York.

Sid Grauman to Celebrate.

It's a pretty slow week when Sid Grauman doesn't celebrate something or other. Now preparations are being made for an extensive celebration of the second anniversary of Grauman's Rialto, through the week beginning Sunday, December 4. Besides Sam Wood's "Don't Tell Everything," co-starring Gloria Swanson, Sid Grauman announces that the anniversary offerings will include a special program by Jan Rubini, violin virtuoso, as well as other numbers.

Sadie Burt

Of the team of Whiting and Burt, who are providing gayety at the Orpheum.

Clara Horton In It.

Marshal Neilan isn't overlooking any bets when it comes to "Penrod," so that charming young actress, Clara Horton, has been chosen for the feminine lead in "Penrod," which Marshal Neilan is making with Wesley Barry as star. The part is that of Penrod's "girl," and the role has been built up to more important dimensions than it boasted in the original.

Miss Horton has been appearing in films for three or four years, her first part of note being that of Becky in "Tom Sawyer" with Jack Pickford.

Whiting and Burt Stay.

George Whiting and Sadie Burt, who have been registering high with Orpheum-goers, are to remain over for a second week in their diverting songs and dances. There has been a strong demand for their old songs at practically all the performances.

GARETH IS SURPRISED.

Burbank—the town, not the inventor of spineless cactus—had the thrill of its existence a short time ago, when the special train carrying Gareth Hughes and Ethel Grandin, stars of the new Metro release, "Garments of Truth," pulled into the station. It seems that an ovation had been planned for Hughes's arrival, as part of the production, and 200 townspeople of Burbank, who mostly lived in Los Angeles, had been hired for the occasion, the director fearing that a crowd of bona fide residents might not handle properly. Well—when the train pulled in, there were 2000 instead of 200 out to greet the movie stars, a large part of Burbank's population having risen to the occasion. Hughes made a speech, in which he said that one reason he preferred the movies to the speakies was that in the former one never knew what would happen next, as witness the present circumstances, and so forth. The speech was well received, and work upon "Garments of Truth" then went merrily on.

FINDS VAUDEVILLE OLD.

"Vaudeville is not so new as we are apt to imagine, and even the present rage for this class of entertainment has not gone so far into the realm of the incongruous as it did less than a hundred years after the death of William Shakespeare," remarked Robert B. Mantell, who is playing an engagement at the Mason, yesterday.

"What would you think of me if I should introduce a contortionist between the acts of 'Othello'? But that is exactly what the veteran tragedian, Thomas Betterton, the greatest actor of his time, did, in 1709, at the leading theater in London. He brought over from Holland a posture master, Mr. Higgins, to entertain his audience during the intermissions. So successful was Higgins that the critics present at the first performance sounded loudly the praises of the vaudeville entertainer, dismissing Betterton with a few commonplace remarks on the excellence of his impersonation of the Moor."

GIRD SHOW AT ORPHEUM.

Girl shows have been missing from the Orpheum so long now—after an overplus of them last season that was cloying—that a new one next week, will probably be welcome. It is brought by Corinne "Queenie" Tilton, a California girl, and includes the clever team of Benny and Western, as well as several others, with a chorus of girlies. Miss Tilton left her San Francisco home a year or so ago to make good in the East after being a Coast defender, and she has done so. The "Chameleon Revue," described as "a little of this and of that," is the result. There will be eight other acts, too, making a nine-act bill for a second week in succession.

TO WELCOME BRITISH GOBS.

Herbert Rawlinson, the Universal star, who is of English birth, has been selected to act as chairman of a committee of motion picture folks to welcome and entertain Vice-Admiral W. C. Packenham and the officers and crews of H. M. Ships Raleigh, Constance, Calcutta and Cambrian, the flotilla of British warships which will arrive in Los Angeles Harbor soon. It is planned to give the Britishers a chance to see Universal City and its big zoo; let the sailors appear in a scene for the weekly with Rawlinson and other stars, and to give the party a motor tour around the film capital.

WANTS TO SEE MOVIES.

Alfred Birovitch, another gifted Russian artist, to be heard locally for the first time tomorrow afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium, will arrive today. He has already wired Manager Behymer that he would like to visit several of the picture studios, especially that of his countrywoman, Nazimova. "I have heard so much of this picture production from my countrymen Elman and Heifetz, that I want to investigate the mysteries myself."

RADIOS.

COMES WEST TO STAY.

VITAGRAPH'S CHIEF TO MAKE HIS HOME HERE.

By Edwin Schallert.

With the announced intention of spending practically his entire time in this city henceforward, Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. He was accompanied by his wife, known professionally as Jean Paige, who is shortly to begin work on a starring feature. Immediately upon his arrival, Mr. Smith went into conference with W. S. Smith, general manager of the western studios.

While the Brooklyn plant of the Vitagraph Company is not as yet shut down, it has been indicated that but a few months will elapse before every company is working in California. Within the past few weeks Alice Calhoun, the "baby star" of the corporation, came West. She has been making a picture under the direction of David Smith. It is anticipated that Corinne Griffith will shortly arrive on the Coast.

Mr. Smith himself expects hereafter to make only one or two short annual trips East. By the first of the year it is likely that the activity will attain large proportions at the Hollywood studios.

Mr. Smith announced that William Duncan's new picture will be called "Man Hunters." It is from the pen of James Oliver Curwood. He also declared that Miss Calhoun will continue under the direction of David Smith, as she is regarded as having unusual possibilities. Scripts are now being prepared for Antonio Moreno and Earle Williams.

"LOTUS BLOSSOM" IS APPEALING LEGEND.

One of the fifty-seven reasons why China became a republic may, perhaps, be found in "Lotus Blossom," the unusual picture production, sponsored by an oriental film company of this city, which is showing at the Alhambra Theater. The treatment meted out to the principal characters would undoubtedly justify a more representative form of government than obtained under the regime of the emperors.

However, "Lotus Blossom" is merely legend. It does not pretend to be anything more serious, and as such it contains much of the beauty which is associated with the Far East of high imagining. It doesn't flinch, either, at an unhappy ending, although there is an epilogue which shows the lovers, who have been separated by death, reunited as shadows.

Except for some abruptness in the approach to the climax, the story is a very interesting and a truly appealing one. It is told with a fine sympathy for the leading characters. Some of the roles are enacted by the Chinese themselves, and Lady Tsen Mai is the featured player. The reserve of the oriental is admirably adapted to screen usages, and for this reason the acting is convincing and real.

In addition to the oriental players Tully Marshall and Noah Berry give very striking characterizations. Jack Abbe, as the hero, has the keen vigor of youth. G. Kino, Jim Wang M. Seki and Chow Young form a clever oriental contingent.

MANTELL'S "HAMLET" HAS FINE APPEAL.

Shakespeare's most profound tragedy, "Hamlet," was given an interpretation that encompassed its intellectual strength in a highly fitting manner by Robert Mantell and his assisting players last night at the Mason. The force of the drama, the measured tread of its progress to the compelling climax as its larger emotion were disclosed with convincing stress. If there seemed at times a lack of the deeper introspective subtlety, it was offset by a genuine devotion and high respect for the ideals of the classic poetic drama.

Mr. Mantell's "Hamlet" is perhaps not on a par with some of his other conceptions like Macbeth, Lear and Brutus. Assuredly it is not. For there are certain reasons for the physical order why he is not the ideal. Yet, how many actors are there who have succeded in really interpreting this role before they have lost some of that flush of youth which belongs to the portrait?

Mantell maintains the intellectual attitude. He gives "Hamlet" a fine mental stature. He reads the lines with a ken, sombre, thinking reserve. There is a place for a fluency and finesse, perhaps, which he cannot fully supply, but delineation is well formed as to its broad outlines.

Genevieve Hamper appeared as an Ophelia of beauty. Her quiet demeaour blended admirably with the earlier stages of the role. Her emotional scenes were not so perfectly graduated, yet she made a striking picture as the mad Ophelia.

Excellent, indeed, were the interpretations of Guy Lindsley as Horatio, Genevieve Reynolds as Gertrude, Agnes Elliott Scott as the player-queen, Franklin Salisbury as the ghost, A. C. Henderson as Polonius, and John Alexander as Laertes. Vaughan Deering appeared to advantage as the King, and the other parts were quite effectively played.

The staging, especially of the scenes of "Hamlet" with the ghost, had distinction and reality.

GRAUMAN'S PROGRAM HONORS FRENCHMAN.

Opening with the "Marseillaise," and devoted mainly to music of French composers; the program to be given next Sunday morning at Grauman's weekly concert will be dedicated to Marshal Foch, the great Allied leader, who will spend that day in Los Angeles.

Other numbers on the program are Maillart's "Hermit Bell;" selections from Massenet's "Thais;" Debussy's symphonic poem, "The Afternoon of the Faun;" and Litoff's overture to "Robespierre."

Two solo numbers of interest will also be included. William F. Myers will sing an aria from Meyerbeer's "Robert le Diable," and G. C. Coloneus, first trumpeter of Grauman's orchestra, will play a fantasia by H. L. Clark, "The Shores of the Mighy Pacific."

CHANGE IN PROGRAM.

A change in the Grauman Symphony program for Sunday will present Ethelynde Smith, soprano, who has just completed a recital tour. This appearance Sunday will afford local music lovers their only opportunity of hearing this artist at least this season, for she leaves Tuesday for St. Louis, where she is booked for a recital. This latter is in the nature of a return engagement for she has already sung twice with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. She has given successful recitals in New York, Boston, New Orleans, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and in all the large cities of the East. Her numbers on Sunday will include "Depuis le Jour" from his "Louise" by Charpentier; Liza Lehman's "Little Damozel," and "Berrybrown" by Ward-Stephens.

"DREAM STREET" MUSICIAN.

Composer of the musical score for "Way Down East," "Dream Street," "Peacock Alley," and several other large motion picture productions, Louis Silvers will soon arrive in Los Angeles to confer with a number of producers regarding the music to accompany forthcoming features. Silvers's work in such musical plays as "Greenwich Village Follies," Al Jolson's "Bombo," and Ed Wynn's "Perfect Fool" won him a national reputation, whereupon Griffith, who saw in his compositions unique possibilities for screen use, weaned him away from the legitimate. His successes in this new field are said to have created such a large demand for his services that in the future he will devote himself solely to the composition of music for film accompaniment.

GIRL HIKERS AT GRAUMAN'S.

Having just arrived in Los Angeles after a transcontinental hike from New York, the Misses Mabel Beatrice Smith and Ethel Evans Smith are appearing at Grauman's Theater this week in a special act in conjunction with the showing of "The Golem." Both sisters are artists, one an illustrator and the other a miniature painter; and both expect to hake their homes in Los Angeles. They left New York, June 4, with thirty pound packs, and slept out of doors nearly every night of the trip. They were not molested, nor did either fall ill during the long journey.

ART CENTER TO GIVE DANCE.

The Los Angeles Art Center will give a dance and card party this evening at Goldberg-Bosley Hall, Sixteenth and Flower. Proceeds will go to a scholarship fund for talented students in need of financial aid. There will be prizes for card players. Miss Rhea La Forte, oriental dancer, and Lee Moran and Miss Edith Roberts, Spanish dancers late of the Orpheum circuit, will dance. Tickets may be obtained at the Art Center headquarters, 3018 West Seventh street.

FOCH WILL BE "SHOT."

Marshal Foch, hero of France and the World War, will arrive in Los Angeles next Sunday morning for a short visit only. All of the events scheduled in his honor will be "shot" by a special cameraman from the California Theater, and will be flashed on the screen Sunday evening as a special feature with the Leroy Scott story, "The Poverty of Riches."

WHO'D HAVE THOUGHT IT?

Max Linder, the comedy film star and director of his own company at Universal City, where he is now making a burlesque on "The Three Musketeers," announced that after being in the United States four years, he had finally discovered what the public wants in the way of motion pictures. "Ze East," claims Max, "is want to have western pictures; and se West he want to see how se New York people live."

DANCERS PLEASE.

A number of dancers from Ernest Belcher's Celeste School are receiving praise for their work in the atmospheroic prologue to "One Arabian Night" at the Kinema this week. L'Indenne is the premiere and Arnold Tamon is her partner. Other dancers are Dorothy Patterson, Ruth Miles and Kathleen Huntington.

NEW STAHL FEATURE.

Work has been started on the new picture, "One Clear Call" at the Louis B. Mayer studios, with John M. Stahl directing. This picture is to be an all-star cast production, and among four of the leading people selected are Claire Winsor, Annette DeFoe, Milton Sills and Henry B. Walthall. The scenario is by Miss Bess Meredith.

READJUSTMENT HURTS MEXICO.

Trade Commissioner Tells of Conditions.

Money Tight and Gold Has Disappeared.

Imports Drop and Costs Are Going Down

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The readjustment process continues to be distressing in Mexico, states the monthly cable from Trade Commissioner R. M. Connell, Mexico City, under date of November 25. However, it has brought an air of encouragement, particularly since it is known that several concerns have safely passed through the crisis. Prices on general food supplies are lower, while labor is plentiful and cheaper. There is overstocking in several markets with decreases in imports.

Money is tight and higher interest rates are expected. The disappearance of gold from circulation is causing great concern, and it is thought that silver of intrinsic value will replace the yellow metal. Collections are difficult and minor failures are occurring, especially in the Syrian colony. Bank deposits are decreasing, particularly deposits of foreign currency, and little immediate investment taking place. The government's financial condition has not improved, but the projected issue of bank notes is being held in abeyance. The railways are reported to be operating at a loss.

PRICES DECLINE.

Imports are decreasing and prices are slowly declining; importers are placing few orders, and those carefully. There is a fair demand for some necessities, but the movement of import stocks of luxuries continues to be sluggish. It is expected that duties on luxuries will be increased by 50 per cent, especially on leather, silk textiles, jewelry and tobacco.

Export stocks of oil are decreasing. Shipments of oil for the first nine months of the present year approximated 121,000,000 barrels. Nearly 15,000,000 barrels were exported during October.

Domestic textile manufacturers say the market is greatly overstocked with imported textiles, and the Puebla mills have threatened to reduce operations. Dry goods stocks are heavy in proportion to the demand, and the movement is light.

It is reported that an oversupply of groceries exists, and prices of beans, corn, wheat and other food necessities are ruling lower. The efforts of local manufacturers to reduce stocks has forced down prices on some manufactured products. Crops reports show no improvement; on the contrary conditions in the Laguna cotton district are worse, while there are also indications of a light coffee crop.

RAILROAD MOVEMENTS.

The railroad movement is falling off so that preparations are being made to resume the distribution of importations through Tampico. Congestion is practically cleared up. The return of American freight cars is generally being satisfactorily accomplished.

Although political conditions continue quiet, industrial unrest is general. The latter is attributed to the failure of the government to make a favorable settlement of the agrarian question affecting farmers, and to Article CXXIII of the constitution of 1917, providing for the regulation of the hours, wages and conditions of labor affecting industrialists.

The principal cause, however, is believed to be the distressing readjustment process. There is apparently a growing wave of sentiment against the strict application of the agrarian law, as evidenced by the government's approval of amendments. There also is agitation for the federalization of labor legislation to prevent the repetition of such legislation by other States as the laws passed by the States of Vera Cruz, Puebla and Michoacan. Labor is plentiful and cheaper. An increase in unemployment is anticipated, particularly in the textile manufacturing districts.

There is no activity in the building trades. The legislation of July 9, having for its purpose the stimulating of building in the Federal district, has been ineffectual.

RENT CAR OWNERS APPLY FOR PERMIT.

WANT TO CONDUCT TRANSIT SERVICE BETWEEN BAY CITY AND HERE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—A group of rent car owners who said they had been advertising in San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers for some time "Going to Los Angeles (or San Francisco) can take a few passengers to help pay expenses," or in some similar phraseology, applied to the Railroad Commission today for authority to start the San Francisco and Los Angeles Rapid Transit Company.

Their application said they wished to establish "passenger rent automobile touring car service" between the two cities without stops, to make the trip in sixteen and one-half hours. Authorized stage lines recently protested to the commission against the carrying of passengers by these car owners on the ground that they had no certificate. At a hearing it was brought out that the ordinary fare charged by these operators was $10.

The directors of the transit company are C. W. Bowman, C. R. Peck, H. W. Cummings, C. Christie and Jack M. L. Hall.

Infant Mortality Down.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 1.—Infant immortality in 1921 will be lower than ever in the history of California, according to estimates made by E. T. Ross, director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health. During the first nine months of 1921 the figures show a total of 3199 infant deaths, as compared to 3939 for a like period during 1920, or a death rate of 60.7, as compared to 75.1. The record low infant death rate for the State is 70.

HOMICIDE FIGURES SHOW SOUTH LEADS.

MURDERS OF 1920 WERE 500 LESS THAN IN THE YEAR PREVIOUS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Homicides in the United States during 1920 totaled approximately 9000, a decrease of 500 from the 1919 record, according to a computation by Frederick L. Hoffman, statistician of the Prudential Life Insurance Company of America. The figures, made public last night, showed Memphis, Tenn., still in the lead with a killing record of 63.4 persons for every 100,000 population.

In general the tables showed that in Southern States the proportion of negroes slain was from three and a half to seven times that of whites.

Tabulation for the period 1915-1919 grouped geographically showed the New England States had the lowest homicide rate of 2.8 for each 100,000. The southern group had the highest rate, 10.8. In the Middle Atlantic States the rate was 5.1; Central States, 6.1; Rocky Mountain States, 9.4, and Pacific Coast States, 9.2.

EDITH KELLY GOULD GETS COUNSEL FEES.

WINS FIRST ROUND IN APPEAL OF DISMISSAL OF SUIT FOR SEPARATION.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Edith Kelly Gould yesterday won the first step in the legal proceedings she has instituted against Frank J. Gould in this country as a result of the divorce she obtained in France about a year ago. Justice Guy of the Supreme Court signed an order granting her $5000 counsel fees for purposes of prosecuting her appeal for a decision dismissing her suit for separation from Gould.

It has been Mrs. Gould's contention that she is still the wife of Mr. Gould, on the ground that the French court was not operative in this country and to test the validity of that decree Mrs. Gould has instituted a suit in this country alleging misconduct. In this action the plea of Gould that he had obtained a divorce from his wife in France was sustained.

BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR DELAYED TRIALS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—All records for postponement of trials are said to have been broken in a case which came to light yesterday when Justice Mulqueen of General Sessions learned that two men, indicted for third degree burglary, had been called for trial seventy-two times and that each time the District Attorney's office had replied "not ready." The justice forthwith discharged the $7500 bail bond of each of them and declared the men free.

The men were Harry Braverman and Herman Edson, indicted with Philip Levine on charges of stealing $8000 worth of goods from a loft in West Twenty-third street, in May, 1919.

MOBS LOOT BIG HOTELS IN VIENNA.

Crowds Also Smash Shops Where Luxuries Are Sold; Police Powerless.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

VIENNA, Dec. 1.—Rioting of a serious nature broke out in Vienna today following a great demonstration before the Parliament Building, where red flags were raised on improvised masts. The crowds then began smashing windows and looting shops dealing in articles of luxury.

Large crowds also attacked a number of fashionable hotels, most of which were those where foreigners reside. The new Bristol was the first of these hostelries to be assaulted. Its great doors were battered down, thus permitting the crowds to pour through into the building. They began to break windows, some of which were as high as the third floor, and to hurl bedding and furniture into the mob crowded in the street below.

The old Bristol Hotel later suffered the same fate, its costly furniture being hurled out to the cheering crowds.

The Grand Hotel, the largest in the city, and the Hotel Imperial also were looted.

The Vienna police were apparently helpless, many squads of them being seen standing quietly by as onlookers.

The Coroner's jury will meet tomorrow at 11 a.m.

CANNOT TAKE MORSE OFF FOREIGN SHIP.

DENBY HAS RECEIVED NO REQUEST FOR DESTROYER TO INTERCEPT FRENCH LINER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Secretary Denby said late today he had not received a request for a destroyer to intercept the steamer Paris and that he could not take Charles W. Morse off a foreign ship if he were asked to do so.

Navy Department officials pointed out that international law prevents the taking of a passenger from a foreign ship at sea.

While neither Atty.-Gen. Daugherty nor other Justice Department officials would discuss the reported departure, it is learned that every agency of the government would be used in effecting his return to this country.

At the State Department it was said Morse's passports had been issued in the name of "C. Morris."

The Navy Department, up to noon, according to its officials, had not received the request to dispatch a destroyer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Joseph Bourgeois, publicity director of the French line, today confirmed reports that Charles W. Morse, whose shipping contracts are said to be under investigation by Federal authorities, sailed for Havre, France, last Friday on the liner Paris. He said he was at the gangway of the steamer and personally examined the passports which had been issued to Mr. Morse.

LOAN FOR STARVING OF RUSSIA HINTED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

RIGA, Dec. 1.—The United States government soon may be asked for funds, probably as a government loan to be controlled by the American Relief Administration, with which to supply sufficient food and seed grain to provide for the 15,000,000 of starving persons in the Russian famine district. A loan under plans informally discussed by the relief administration in Russia would be made to the provincial governments in the famine region, guaranteed by the central government and to be repaid at the next harvest.

The amount of the loan would be about $50,000,000, which the relief administration investigators say would save virtually the entire famine situation. The plan was brought to Riga by Walter L. Brown.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Revenue Act of 1921; the Lemon Growers' Lemon; Big Stock Issue Authorized for California Edison.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The new Revenue Act of 1921 is corrugating furrows in the brows of the tax experts.

Copies of the new law have been received in Los Angeles and are now undergoing analytical consideration.

Inquiry among these experts develops a lack of enthusiasm over the law, which extends to corporation attorneys and individual victims.

"It's a makeshift," it the trend of this opinion. Some go so far as to say that it isn't a very good makeshift at that, and that further tinkering will be necessary next year.

However, for better or for worse, it is what we have to deal with for this year, and after January 1, the big job of compilation and preparation will be undertaken in earnest.

At the office of Eugene M. Berger & Co., tax specialists with offices in the Pacific Finance Building, it was said, yesterday that the Revenue Act is not really a new act in the true sense of the word, but only a revision and modification of the Revenue Act of 1918. The relief which the average taxpayer was hoping to receive through this new act is at this time rather questionable, according to Mr. Berger.

"Certainly," he continued, "no relief of any consequence can be found in the new act for the year 1921. The surtax rates are the same as they were during 1918, 1919 and 1920. The excess profits tax is the same as it was in 1919 and 1920. Of course, after Jan. 1, 1922, those taxpayers whose earnings are in excess of $100,000 gain a material benefit. Likewise, corporations will not have to pay any excess profits tax, but instead the corporation normal tax rate of 10 per cent will be increased to 12½ per cent.

One of the outstanding features of the new act is the decided measure of relief granted under Section 204, whereby a net loss on one year's operations becomes an offset against the net income of succeeding years. In other words, should a taxpayer sustain a net loss in this or any subsequent year, he is allowed to offset all of that net loss before paying any tax on the income of other years' operations.

No deduction is allowed for any loss claimed to have been sustained in any sale, or other disposition, of shares of stock or securities where it appears that within thirty days before or after the date of such sale, or other disposition, the taxpayer has acquired substantially identical property.

Under the Revenue Act of 1918, the basis for computing gain or loss on the sale of property acquired by gift was the fair market price or value of the property at the date of acquisition. Under the Act of 1921, property acquired by gift after Dec. 31, 1921, is valued as if still in the hands of the donor.

For instance, where an individual owned a block of stock for which he paid $100,000 a share; over a period of years the stock increased in value and was worth $120 a share; the owner of this stock made a gift of it to some other individual, and this latter individual subsequently sold this stock for $150 a share. The seller only made a profit of $20; the difference between the value at the time the stick was given to him, $120, and the amount he received upon the sale of the stock, $150. Under the new act, this stock is valued in the hands of the donee at $100, the amount which the donor paid for it, and if sold for $150 a share, the profit would be $50.

Corporations are not allowed to withhold earnings from distribution. If it is found that a corporation accumulates a surplus which is in excess of the reasonable needs of its business, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may levy a tax of 25 per cent on such earnings, unless the stockholders signify their willingness to be personally taxed on their respective shares of the earnings even though it is not distributed.

LEMON GROWERS.

The Fillmore Citrus Fruit Association has just issued its twenty-fifth annual report, which points with pride and views with alarm. However, the prideful pointings predominate. A word of caution is sounded against the use of too much water. Earlier irrigating and less waste is the remedy recommended.

The author of the report pays his respects to the lemon situation in the following trenchant sentences, but Southern California growers agree that the corner has been turned in the lemon deal and that if the advice is followed, i. e., to "keep up his courage and his grove," all will be well.

"The lemon grower," he says, "has indeed found the road sandy, the wind hot, and the watering places far apart. We might write an essay of considerable length, and possibly some depth, on the fallacy of predicting what will happen next to the owner of a lemon grove. Prohibition, which was expected to prove that lemonade was almost the elixir of life, failed in that as it has thus far in some other respects. No successful method of bootlegging lemons has as yet been devised to help out the producer and take the money of the unemployed. If prohibition may be said to have knocked one prop from under the lemon tree, government of the people, by the politicians, for the railroads, has kicked out the other.

"To sum up briefly, the past year has seemed to demonstrate that advertising helps little, if any; that people will buy lemons regardless of price if they think they are dying from a cold or being killed by the heat; that most retailers do not yet know the war is over; that the shippers invariably overreach and injure the business by asking too much money when the market does become strong; that a lemon grower, if he is to stay in the game, must keep up his courage and his grove."

NEW EDISON ISSUE.

By formal order issued yesterday, the State Railroad Commission has authorized the Southern California Edison Company to sell an additional $7,500,000 of its common stock.

A. N. Kemp, vice-president, testifying before the commission, stated that these stock sales were necessary on account of the company's budget of expenditures for the year 1922, calling for a total expenditure of $19,750,000 for construction of new water-power plants, with appropriate transmission and distribution lines, and including the paying off of $3,750,000 of maturing obligations.

A detailed statement of the company's proposed $16,000,000, of construction expenditures, is in course of preparation for the approval of the Railroad Commission, and the company in the meantime has agreed not to disburse any of the proceeds from the sale of new stock until the commission has formally authorized the disbursement of the proceeds.

It was brought out at the hearing that during the year 1921 the company has sold to it sconsumers, its employees and the public generally, approximately $14,500,000 of its common stock, which sales have exhausted the amounts previously authorized by the commission, and subscriptions for more than $500,000 additional stock were on hand, waiting for authorization by the commission. The total outstanding capital stock of the company in the hands of the public on Sept. 30, 1921, was $44,249,172, and its funded debt, consisting of bonds and debentures, amounted to $72,626,000.

General Counsel Roy V. Reppy conducted the case before the commission, returning yesterday with the commission's formal order authorizing the company to proceed with its stock sales, and it is expected that a new offering by the company, in accordance with the authority of the Railroad Commission, will be made within the next few days.

TWO NEW BANKS.

Announcement was made yesterday from the office of Jonathan S. Dodge, Superintendent of Banks, that a charter for a new bank, to be known as the Western State Bank, has been issued. The new bank will be located on Western avenue, at the corner of Sixth street, and it will be authorized to conduct both a commercial and savings bank business.

The wonderful growth of Western avenue in a business way makes it desirable that more banks should be established for the convenience of the business men on that street.

The new bank will be fully financed, having a capital fully paid up of $300,000, with a surplus of $30,000 additional. The organization committee of the bank consists of J. E. Casady, J. W. Childress, Roy Burton, Edward A. Dickson, Hewlings Mumper, C. W. Rodecker, William B. Hubbard, William B. Brown and B. R. Brundage.

Mr. Casady has had many years' experience as a banker, having been located at Des Moines, Iowa, and in other cities in that State. It is probable that he will be president of the new bank.

Mr. Brundage will probably be selected as cashier. He has been in the banking business for many years, his last location being with one of the banks in Imperial Valley.

Application has also been made to the superintendent for permission to organize a banking corporation, to conduct both a savings and commercial banking business in the town of Garden Grove, Orange county. Garden Grove has become the center of a large development in the way of small farms.

The parties interested in the new proposition are prominent men of that vicinity, and some of them have been interested in the banking business in other States.

F. H. Felberg, former connected with the Dakota Bank, will probably be selected as cashier. The organization committee consists of P. N. Larsen, C. A. Emerson, F. H. Felberg, H. A. Lake, J. G. Allen and Marco Hellman.

The capital stock in the sum of $25,000 will be fully paid up, and there will be a surplus of $5000 in addition.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES.

The largest municipal bond sale scheduled for December will take place on the twenty-second at Sacramento, when $7,000,000 California State highway 5 per cent bonds will be sold by the State Treasurer. Other bond sales that will take place this month, according to information available yesterday at the offices of R. H. Moulton & Co., are: $30,000 Newport Beach, Orange county, waterworks system 5 per cent bonds on December 5, $35,000 Eagle Rock City High School 6 per cent bonds on December 5, $250,000 Tustin, Orange county, Union High School District 6 per cent bonds on December 6, $110,000 Fillmore Union Grammar School District, Ventura county, 6 per cent bonds on December 6, $800,000 Oakland High School District 5 per cent bonds on December 12, $200,000 Oakland School District 5 per cent bonds on December 12, and $260,000 Glendale City School District 6 per cent bonds on December 19.

NEW ISSUES.

Two new issues were offered yesterday by Stephens & Co. One was an issue of $12,500,000 Philadelphia Electric Company twenty-year first lien and refunding 6 per cent bonds offered in conjunction with an eastern syndicate headed by Drexel & Co. The bonds are being sold at 99 to yield 6.10 per cent. The issue is noncallable for the first five years. Thereafter, it may be redeemed at 107½.

The other offering was one of $125,000 Coronado High School District 5 per cent bonds, maturing from 1922 to 1951. The bonds are priced to yield from 4.85 to 4.95 per cent.

NAME IS CHANGED.

Formal dissolution of the partnership of Frank & Lewis was completed yesterday. In the future the business will be conducted under the name of M. H. Lewis & Co. The firm has offices in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

INSURANCE NOTE.

Cass & Johansing, insurance brokers, announce the addition of a bond and burglar insurance department. Thomas A. Herne, a specialist in these particular insurance lines, will be in charge.

REPUBLIC PETROLEUM.

The Republic Petroleum Company reports that its No. 1 well at the Huntington Beach field has increased production to 500 barrels daily, with less than ½ of 1 per cent of sand, and no sign of water. The No. 2 well is said to be producing at the rate of 500 barrels daily with prospects of even greater production when the cleaning-out process has been completed. Preparations for drilling a No. 3 well have been completed. The company also claims an increased production in its wells in the Midway district, where the shut down during the strike allowed the sands to become saturated and brought about an increased flow after operations were resumed.

BANKING INSTITUTE.

The campaign for the dissemination of banking information among high school students that is being conducted by the local chapter of the American Institute of Banking is meeting with a continually growing success. It was reported yesterday that the number of speakers assigned to lecture to the different school classes had increased 40 per cent since October.

Under this plan, the students in the city high schools are given lectures by local bankers, members of the institute, on banking practice. Bank loans and discounts were taken up last month and the topics chosen for discussion during December are drafts and letters of credit. The next dinner of the Institute will be held at the City Club on December 9.

TICKER TICKS.

California Petroleum for nine months ended Sept. 30, 1921, surplus after charges and Federal taxes, $2,090,222, against $1,795,399 for the same period 1920.

Steel trade organs, while featuring continuance of railroad buying, find industry still unable to maintain operating average better than 50 per cent.

Director Deterding of Royal Dutch, indicates possibility of new share issue in near future. Meeting to act on change in by laws to allow scrip dividend payments postponed.

Federal reserve board's survey of general business and financial conditions, indicates steady progress back to normal may be expected, although no boom is in sight.

Average price twenty industrials 77.20, off .46; twenty rails 76.33, off .33.

According to census announcement percentage of population over ten years old engaged in gainful occupations in 1920 was, Idaho, 47.1; Arizona, 51.1; Utah, 45; Nevada, 58.8; Washington, 52.5; Oregon, 50.4; California, 52.6. Males gainfully employed in these States ranged from 74 per cent in Utah to 84.3 in Nevada; females from 12 per cent in Idaho to 21.4 in California.

YESTERDAY ON THE HOME EXCHANGE.

More active trading marked the sessions of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Oil stocks were particularly favored by the traders to the extension of the mining group where the interest surged noticeably. Prices were generally firm although the leading oil stocks weakened slightly. Union Oil of California dropped ½ to 152 and General Petroleum closed a full point to 93¾. Union of Delaware was up ⅛ at the close, selling at 20⅛. United Oil was strong adding 2 cents to its gain on Wednesday and closed at 87½ cents. Southern California Edison common was the most active of the industrials, closing with a gain of ¾ at 95¾. There was considerable interest in Liberty Bonds, especially among the 4¼s, and the trend continued upward.

Ask Any Iowan About this Company

THE famous Tri-Cities of the Mississippi River—Davenport, Iowa, on the one side and Rock Island and Moline, Illinois, on the other—are served gas and electricity by the well-known United Light & Railways Company.

In these cities, such manufactories as the John Deere Plow Company, Davenport Locomotive Works and the United States Government Arsenal all receive driving power from one of the many generating plants of this Company.

A total of nineteen gas and electric properties are owned and operated by this great Middle Western public service company, which serve fifty-five communities in this section, with a total population of over 650,000 people.

These plants are spread over five States—Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Tennessee and Indiana. The Company has support from different sections of this rich, agricultural district—thus assuring regularity of income through diversification of location as well as of industries.

The sound business prosperity of this Company is the basis for our recommendation of its First and Refunding Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, due 1932. Priced at $83.50 and interest to yield 7.25%. These bonds are an attractive investment offering. For full information, write or call at our office.

The Decreasing Investment Dollar

The dollar today will buy proportionately more of the world's goods than a year ago. Accompanying this decline in prices of commodities has been a sharp drop in interest rates and a rising price of bonds. The Value of the Investment Dollar is Decreasing. Have you thought of the time when you will be investing in securities yielding 4% to 5%? Right now, however, you can invest your money to yield from 6% to 7½%. We have just published our Investment Offerings for December, a copy of which we will be pleased to send to you.

THE SHORTEST DISTANCE

Between two points is, for practical purposes not a straight line, but

A PAVED ROAD

The Harbor will be much closer to the Courthouse when the Truck Boulevard is paved. It will be closer in wear and tear, closer in money, closer in human effort, closer in service, closer in time.

All of us sense the importance of, and the necessity for, Good Paved Roads.

News of Southern California.

SAYS JITNEYS ROB RAILROAD.

Board Hears Traffic Troubles at Pasadena.

Children to Welcome Famous French Warrior.

Crown City Man to Raise Fund for "Y" Work.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Dec. 1.—Unfair competition by jitney busses was studied by representatives of the Pacific Electric Railway at a conference on local street car service and rates and also interurban rates affecting Pasadena held here today with engineers of the State Railroad Commission and Pasadena city officials.

Richard Sachse, chief engineer of the Pacific Electric, stated that unfair competition by jitney busses in Pasadena took annually $35,000 in revenue to which the Pacific Electric was entitled and with which it would be able to maintain better service at minimum rates. At the present time the Pacific Electric is asking the Railroad Commission for an increase in rates.

City Director J. H. Simpson asked what the railway company would do if the city eliminated the jitneys. Frank Karr, chief counsel for the Pacific Electric, said undoubtedly the railway company would make an interesting proposal, but he was not prepared at the moment to state it. He suggested that the city directors have a vote of citizens on the elimination of the jitneys where they compete with the railway and Director Simpson's inquiry suggested that perhaps the plan will be tried here.

City Manager C. W. Kolner stated that jitney busses are permitted here now because the street railway service is insufficient without them. He said the city would also oppose the rumored abolition of transfers. O. A. Smith, general passenger agent of the railway, had stated that the elimination of transfers had been suggested by the Railroad Commission. Pasadena is being one of the few cities in the State to which enjoyed this privilege. He said the elimination would save $50,000 a year, yet commuters would not suffer, as commutation books providing rides on local as well as interurban lines, would be substituted.

There was no discussion of the problems of Glendale, South Pasadena or other outside cities. No action was taken, the meeting being purely one of discussion. D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric, was among the officials at the conference, which was held in the City Hall.

GANGWAY FOR KIDDIES.

It will be "gangway for the kiddies" Sunday afternoon when Marshal Foch flits down Orange Grove avenue from the Colorado street bridge, upon his arrival by motor from Los Angeles. Local American Legion officials have asked spectators to let the school children have right of way to the best points of vantage to see the war hero. Marshal Foch's car is to be numbered one, but will be fifth in line in the procession.

DIRECTS "Y" WORK.

Edward Grace, secretary of the Pasadena Y.M.C.A., has been appointed chairman for the Pacific Coast to raise $200,000 for the foreign field work of the association. The sum of $40,000 has been allotted as California's quota. It is hoped to raise all the money in December. Mr. Grace has just returned from a conference in San Francisco on the subject.

ENTERTAINS GOVERNOR.

John F. Calkins, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, San Francisco, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by Dr. John Willis Baer at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo last night, at which the other guests were leading Pasadena bankers.

FOR PARK OR SCHOOL.

Tentative plans of the school board to buy Monk Hill, an eminence of local fame in the northern part of the city, as part of the site for the new junior high school has revived an old project to make the hill part of a city park. The proposal was rejected some years ago. The school authorities, replying to the suggestion of citizens that the hill be used for a park instead of a school, say they believe a park bond issue would be voted down, whereas the school district is ready to beautify the hill, by erecting a beautiful school plant there.

It is saying a good deal, but it is a fact, that no gift shop in the West is showing such a wonderful lot of exclusive Holiday requirements, all reasonably priced, as Grace Nicholson's Pasadena Oriental Shop at 46 North Los Robles avenue. A new lot of Maori coats and a few regular Chinese suits and banker's coats in silk brocades have arrived.—[Advertisement.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 1. — The body of H. P. Wenig, alias H. E. Stewart, Los Angeles real estate man who died here Tuesday, is being held at the undertaking parlors of Amstutz, Glenn and Press, awaiting orders from the man who identified the body here today.

The verdict of Coroner Dickson was that Wenig came to his death from an overdose of veronal.

POMONA MAN TO ACCEPT OFFER.

Park Official Secretary of Commerce Chamber.

Automobile Club to Build New Headquarters.

November Building Permits Not Equal Last Month.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Dec. 1. — J. M. Paige, Pomona's superintendent of parks for thirteen years, was named secretary of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting of the board of directors this afternoon.

Mr. Paige will assume his new duties Jan. 1, 1922, as he already has accepted the offer tendered him today by the Chamber of Commerce board.

He has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce since he came to Pomona in 1907 and succeeded the late Frank Balfour as a director of the organization and as a director of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley.

He will tender his resignation as park superintendent at once in order to give the city officials an opportunity to find his successor before January 1.

NEW CLUB BUILDING.

Plans have been completed and work will soon be begun on a new home for the Pomona branch of the Automobile Club of Southern California, to be erected at the northeast corner of Second and Rebecca streets, it was announced today at a meeting of the directors of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce.

The building, which is to be erected by Harold C. Dewey, W. B. Frederick and W. A. McCormick, will be located adjoining the American Legion home and will be on the main thoroughfare of the city and also on the Pomona Boulevard.

The structure will be of the mission type and will be finished early in 1922.

PERMITS FALL OFF.

Falling about $10,000 short of the October report, the building permits for November reached the final total of $121,480, approximately three times the total for November, 1920.

There were in all sixty-five permits issued during the month just past, thirty-five of the permits being for residences totaling in value $82,900. By far the greater part of the building for the month was residences, for of the $28,550 in nonresidence property, $12,000 was for alterations at the Pomona Valley Ice Company; $5000 was for M. P. Silva's new service station, and $2000 for Hibler's building of the same kind, leaving only about $9000 of small garages, alterations, additions and similar construction.

NO DEVELOPMENTS.

Nothing substantially new was brought out today at the Coroner's inquest to determine the cause of the death of Marion Teagerline, who fell to his death down the elevator shaft of the Pomona Investment Company's Building, Monday night, except the fact that S. E. Walcott, who had just boarded the elevator, saw the boy as he fell between the floor and the elevator into the shaft.

The jury composed of O. E. Rose, Robert Fairley, C. C. Caves, C. W. Talbott, I. T. Murill and J. Smith, rendered their verdict that the deceased had come to his death by shock and hemorrhage, following rupture of the liver and spleen and other injuries received by falling into a shaft while attempting to board an elevator.

The body, following the inquest, was taken in charge by J. B. Draper, who removed it to Ontario, where the funeral was held this afternoon.

San Diego Jury Charges Coroner With Misconduct

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 1.—Willful misconduct in office is charged to Schuyler C. Kelly, County Coroner, in accusations returned today by the grand jury.

The charges preferred by this body include five counts, four of which set forth that the Coroner accepted sums ranging from $20 to $35 from an undertaker and that in doing so he was guilty of misconduct. The fifth alleges that he kept for his own uses jewelry and a small sum of money which was on the body of an unidentified man.

The sums of money received from the undertaker, it is charged, were in the nature of a gratuity and reward for delivering the bodies of four men to the undertaking establishment of J. T. Barkley. Specific dates and the amount of money alleged to have been received are mentioned in the charges.

Kelly has been cited to appear in Superior Court on December 12 to answer the charges.

The Coroner today declared he was innocent of all charges and was eager to appear in court. He said the trouble was due to one undertaker whose antagonism he had aroused and that the grand jury did him an injustice in not asking him to appear and make a statement.

ATTORNEY DIES.

Well Known Practitioner Passes Away at San Pedro.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Dec. 1.—Edward H. Bautzer, aged 47 years, well-known attorney, died at the Hillside Hospital today, due to injuries received in an automobile accident yesterday.

Death was the direct result of heart failure which, in the opinion of physicians resulted from the accident. Mr. Bautzer was driving his car on Lomita avenue when the machine was "sideswiped" by an automobile driven by A. H. Easton. The attorney's car turned turtle and he was severely cut about the face and head.

The widow and one son, Greeson, survive. No funeral arrangements have been announced.

CITY ABANDONS PLANS FOR PARK.

Millions in Oil Takes Place of Golf Links.

May Receive Income Four Times Its Expenditures.

Forty Wells May be Added to Producing Field.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Dec. 1.—This city will, in all probability, permanently abandon its comprehensive plans for the establishment of a magnificent park on the city's 200 acres on Signal Hill just west of Cherry avenue, as a result of the increasing petroleum activities in that section.

City Manager C. E. Hewes has been advised that the city's property in this locality is probably the richest of any in the local oil field and that the apex of the hill anteceline will undoubtedly be found on the municipality's acreage.

As many as forty wells may be drilled on the 200 acres owned by the city in the district west of Cherry avenue, according to the City Manager. He said geologists believe this territory is directly in the path of the probable extension of the oil field which begins at Huntington Beach and runs northwesterly.

That Long Beach cannot afford the luxury of a park where one of the world's great oil producing areas may lie, is Mr. Hewes's idea. What would be the wholesale production of oil from the 200-acre tract was roughly calculated. Forty wells, producing 1000 barrels a day, with 40 per cent going to the city, would give it 16,000 barrels a day or a revenue of $24,000 at $1.50 a barrel. This amounts to $8,760,000. The city's total budget this year is about $2,000,000.

The Ramsey Brothers and the California Mexico Petroleum Company are eager to lease the municipal holdings which the manager has in mind. Plans to convert the tract into a park were made by Charles Deusner, landscape architect, for the municipal administration that went out of office last July. Drives, walks, golf links, tennis courts, bowling greens, amphitheater, stadium and a lake were projected as features of what was designed to be "The Golden Gate Park or Southern California."

ARREST SWINDLER.

Man Who Robbed Women Victims in Jail in New York.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, Dec. 1.—Boasting of having duped women in various parts of the United States out of more than $50,000, a bunko man, who, last spring victimized Miss Sabra Hayden, principal of the South Euclid-avenue school, out of $200, is now in jail in New York, according to word received tonight by his local victim.

In victimizing Miss Hayden, the man posed as a cousin of Miss Ella Fife of New Rochelle, N. Y., a warm, personal friend of the principal's sister, who visited her in Ontario about a year previous to the man's appearance.

The fellow told a story of just having come to Los Angeles from Mexico, where he was engaged as a mining engineer for some big concern, and declared that through a misunderstanding his mail had been forwarded with the result that he found himself without funds and scheduled to act as best man at the wedding of his only sister in the East in just four days.

He told of having had a long distance telephone call from his cousin, who directed him to come to Miss Hayden with the declaration that she would be glad to accommodate him by advancing him the money necessary for transportation and incidental expenses, which she did.

NEAR DEATH FROM GUNSHOT WOUND.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OXNARD, Dec. 1.—Angus F. Palmer, 45, employed on the George C. Power ranch in the east part of Ventura county, was found at midnight last night lying between a cot and the wall of a tent in the employees' camp with a bullet hole in his right temple.

He was taken to the Bard Hospital at Ventura, where his condition is said to be critical.

Palmer was a Santa Paula resident, having a wife and one child. He was known to be an eccentric person and had been carrying a gun for some time. No note was left and fellow workman at the camp cannot account for the act.

BUSY BOOSTER CLUB.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Dec. 1.—Ventura has a new organization. It is called the Commercial Men's Club and does not believe in boosting, publicity or talking ahead of time.

Most of Ventura did not know of its existence until a big electric sign costing more than $400 was swung across Main street yesterday. The sign reads "Ventura."

"Not start something, but finish something;" "One thing at a time and put it over;" "Little oratory and more action" are some of the club mottoes. One article of the constitution reads, "Put over one worth-while proposition at a time." What the next one is to be, club members are not saying. The membership is made up of about forty of the younger business men of town. A. N. Lovvorn is president.

CITY MARSHAL IN COUNTY JAIL.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Dec. 1.—City Marshal J. E. Stone of Brea is in the County Jail charged with a felony.

Stone is held for accepting a bribe of $100 from J. M. Chavez. This amount, it is said, was to purchase immunity from interference in bootlegging operations claimed to have been carried on by Chavez. Stone appeared before Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox this morning, and his preliminary hearing was set for December 27. Bail was fixed at $2000.

Investigation by Brea city trustees concerning rumors of Stone's alleged laxity in enforcing the liquor ordinances resulted in the action being taken against the officer following a meeting of the trustees last night.

REACH EASTERN MARKET.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 1.—Porterville oranges have reached the eastern seaboard and will be in the kiddies' stockings for Christmas.

According to a late wire received at the Tulare County Citrus Fruit Exchange the first car of local fruit sold at auction in Boston brought $6.40 per box, which is considered a good average.

Some of the Porterville fruit is small this season, but of superior quality. Daily shipments of about thirty-five cars will be increased next week when the peak of shipment is expected to be reached. Fruit is being rushed into the packing-houses.

PORT NOTES.

Announcement was made at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday that the Campania Naviera de los Estados de Mexico, commonly known as the Mexican Steamship Company, will soon place on the line between California and Mexican ports the steamers Chihuahua, Sonoma, Sonora, Oxaca, Tepic and Sinoloa, and that Los Angeles Harbor will be a port of call.

The steamers are sister ships and were originally built by the British government in the strenuous days of the war to cope with Germany's destructive submarine program. It is announced that Walter Wheaton, prominent shipping man of the local port, will be the company's local representative in the operations of the ships.

The vessels are said to be fitted out with excellent passenger accommodations and have a speed of about sixteen knots. Each ship registers 2200 tons net and is of light draught.

Los Angeles Harbor has broken all world records as a lumber port, according to local shipping men. During the past four weeks the port has received 99,025,000 feet of lumber. Of this 81,765,000 feet was fir and 17,260,000 was redwood. A total of 105 vessels brought the lumber here.

A series of reductions in the freight rates governing shipments moving via water from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific Coast and the addition of several new commodities to the committee's tariff book have been announced by the Pacific Coast-North Atlantic Westbound Conference. The commodities affected and the new rates, effective November 29, are as follows:

Commodity.	Min. C.L. weight (pounds)	New C.L. Rate	Rate C.L.
Reduction depilatory	30,000		1.00
Reduction lamp chimneys, founts, globes, bowls, glass, semi-indirect lighting, lamp shades, actual value not to exceed $24 per dozen	16,000	2.65	1.95
Correction: wood joint fastenings, metal, Hartwood, Wahkeena, Santa Inez and Ernest H. Meyer.	30,000		1.80
Reduction barrels, steel, K. D., heads in bundles, sides nested in rolls	30,000		1.00
New household laundry ironing machines in crates	16,000	2.65	1.95
New cotton waste	30,000	3.30	2.30

New toy drums		6.00	6.00
Reduction zinc plate (not including engravers' plates) or slab (not sheet), zinc sheet, in boxes, not smooth			.75

Vessels arriving at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday from North Pacific ports brought stories of high Sound to Point Concepcion. The southeast, all the way from Puget Sound to Point Conception. The Henry T. Scott, Capt. Thorsell, was a full day overdue and came into port with her deckload of lumber badly awry, although the chain lashings prevented a good portion of the cargo from going overboard.

The steamer Ryder Hanify, Capt. Olsen, made fairly good time after he started from the Columbia River, but was compelled to put back on her first attempt because of the size of her load. Some 30,000 feet of lumber was lightered from the vessel before she put to sea again.

The steamer Daisy Freeman, from Coos Bay, and the Daisy Matthews, from Portland, were due yesterday, but may not arrive until some time this morning because of the storm.

Twenty vessels are reported as being tied up at Gray's Harbor until the storm abates.

GLENDALE NEWS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, Dec. 1.—The Chamber of Commerce moved into their new quarters in the Citizens' Building yesterday. A formal opening and reception will be held in two weeks.

SCHOOL HOLIDAYS.

At the last meeting of the Board of Education, the board voted to have the city schools close for a two-week Christmas holiday. School will be in session until the afternoon of December 20, and will not open until January 2. An additional appropriation of $500 for library purposes was made, the money to be expended for books and maps.

ANNEX TERRITORY.

Annexation of 500 acres of land to the north and west of Glendale, between Raymond avenue and the Burbank city line will enhance property values in that section.

Out of the ninety voters in the district there were seventy-seven votes cast, forty-five voting for annexation. The annexation of this property has long been the subject of debate, elections having been held twice for Burbank annexation, and the issue being lost.

At the time of filing the petition for election another one was filed to annex to Burbank, the matter was taken to court, and it was decided that in the event of calling an election, priority should go to Glendale.

TO MAKE PEACE.

Police Chief Confers With Officers of Pacific Fleet.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Dec. 1.—Peace and good will between the sailors of the United States Navy and the Long Beach Police Department must be maintained, says City Manager Charles E. Hewes. To this end he has requested Chief of Police Ben W. McLendon to seek a conference with the officers of the Pacific Fleet that past misunderstandings and present friction may be explained away.

"We want the sailors here and we want them to be well entertained in Long Beach," said Hewes. "But while we want them to have a good time, we also expect them to obey the laws and ordinances.

"It is charged that certain members of the police force have been too severe with the Navy boys. I am investigating these reports and if I find they are true there will be no further grounds for complaint for the conditions will be corrected.

"I am also told that a feeling exists among the sailors that Long Beach has got it in for them and never fails to show this antipathy. I do not know what the basis can be for this sentiment, but if we are at fault, the proper remedy will be applied. We want this unfortunate idea cleared away."

PLAN SERVICE BARGE FOR WORK AT HARBOR.

SHIPBUILDING COMPANY BUILDS CRAFT FOR DELIVERY OF OIL AT SEA.

Work is being pushed at the plant of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company on the construction of a combination oil, water and service barge, which, when finished, will be operated by the company to serve shipping in Los Angeles Harbor.

The barge will be of steel, 88 feet long, 34 feet wide and 9 feet deep, with an oil tank capacity of 434 tons. It is to be equipped also with water tanks and can be used for the transportation of deck loads of lumber or varied cargo. The barge is designed for the installation of 75-foot shear legs, capable of lifting up to fifty tons, such equipment being in constant demand for the lifting of machinery, boats and heavy material off the decks of vessels lying in the harbor.

With the tug boats for ocean and harbor service maintained by the shipbuilding company, this barge, when completed, will provide a service equipment in constant demand by the growing shipping of the harbor, it is stated.

MORE WRECKAGE OF SEA EAGLE IS FOUND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ASTORIA (Or.) Dec. 1.—More wreckage from the tug Sea Eagle was found today on the beach between Columbia Beach and Gearheart. Six life preservers, a hat marked J. Doyle, a quantity of redwood decking and other wreckage was found by Ed Wiseman of Clatsop.

This wreckage is believed here to be conclusive proof of the Sea Eagle's destruction. The tug was last heard from while towing the schooner Ecola to Marshfield.

STEAMER AND TUG TO AID BARKENTINE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Dec. 1.—The salvage steamer Algerine has been despatched to the assistance of the barkentine Simon F. Tolmie, reported disabled in a heavy storm off Neah Bay, Wash., according to advices from Victoria, B. C.

The tug Oregon left Port Townsend, Wash., for Neah Bay this afternoon immediately after receiving a wireless message from the steamer President that the Tolmie had been sighted with her steering gear out of order.

CHAMBER OPPOSES FREE CANAL PASSAGE.

Action was taken yesterday by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce against the bill passed in Congress making free toll for coast-to-coast ships. Resolutions voicing the disfavor of the board members were based on two grounds—first, that the measure is a violation of The Hague treaty with foreign powers, and second, that a large and legitimate revenue will be cut off, without special benefit accruing to shippers. The foreign trade and harbor committee of the chamber submitted a report opposing the bill. The Pittsburg has notified the local chamber of its dissatisfaction with the bill.

FORCES FORMER WIFE TO LEAVE COMPANION

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 1. — Accused of having taken his divorced wife and a girl friend from their escort at the point of a revolver, and attempting to force them to accompany him in his automobile, Henry Kruts, 23 years old, was arrested early today and following an investigation of the affair a warrant charging him with assault with intent to commit murder was issued by the District Attorney's office. The complaint was sworn to by Marguerite Kurts, his former wife.

Kurts was placed under arrest after he had voluntarily come to the police station, although he fled when the timely arrival of a policeman foiled the alleged abduction.

E. J. Speak, who was driving the women to their apartment, told the police that Kurts, who had followed in a machine, attempted to force him into the curb and failing, followed his car to the women's home. There, it is alleged, Kurts brandished a pistol and the women, under threats, entered his car. The approach of a policeman caused Kurts to speed away, but not before the women had jumped from the machine. The policeman pursued in Speak's automobile, but could not overtake the fugitive.

NEW DOLLAR SHIP TO PLY FROM HERE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1. — The passenger steamship Callao, formerly the German liner Sierra Cardoba, purchased by Robert Dollar, is to be operated between Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles Harbor on schedule opposite to that of the President, officials of the Admiral Line announced today.

It will take the place of the Governor, lost in Puget Sound several months ago.

ANTIBEER LAW IS ATTACKED IN COURT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—A suit attacking the antibeer law as unconstitutional has been filed in Federal court by the Falstaff Corporation, a local brewery.

Attorneys for the brewery declare in their petition "that it was not the purpose of Congress to prohibit the use of liquor for nonbeverage purposes, as is evidenced by the wording of the title of the National Prohibition Act." They also quoted the opinion rendered by former Atty.-Gen. Palmer permitting beer for medical purposes.

MEMBERS OF FRAT EXPELLED.

Boys of Santa Barbara High School Refuse to Withdraw from Society.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 1.—Santa Barbara is scandalized over discovery of a secret society in the high school and expulsion today by their own volition, because they refused to abandon the society, of Kenneth Conkey, president of the club, Clarence Ward, Leo Navet, Eldon Triplett and Harry Richardson.

Navet is captain of the high school football team. Seven students withdrew from the society, after Principal Homer Martin had explained that the society violated the State law and the regulations of the school.

For weeks, it is said, rumors have been persistent that a secret society had blossomed forth in the school. The fact became too obvious for the school authorities to overlook with an initiation by the society which took place last night.

The society members flaunted their initiation ceremonial down the main business street, opening the stunts in two machines crowded with members, dashing down the street, the occupants yelling like mad. A boy in a nightgown, a stocking for a nightcap, was set to sweeping the sidewalk with a toothbrush.

A boy attired as a ballet dancer was compelled to say to the women pedestrians: "I'm a nut. I'm a nut." He was also obliged to race through traffic, acting as a maniac, while his keepers followed with a stretcher.

Some of the boys in the club belong to leading families of the community. At assembly today Principal Martin called all members of the society into his office and gave them the opportunity before the whole school to withdra

NAVAL HOLIDAY COSTLY.

Difficult to Estimate Definite Money Lost or Effect On Communities; to Shift Workers to Other Lines.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The report adopted yesterday by the American advisory committee on the economic and industrial questions involved in the proposed ten-year naval holiday was understood tonight to indicate it is nearly impossible to calculate its effect in tangible factors. The committee concurred in conclusions presented by Rear-Admiral Rodgers of the general board.

The report, presented today by Secretary Hughes, deals chiefly with the American aspect. Admiral Rodgers is understood to have discussed the effect of the sudden stoppage of government work in ship building and armor plates. Major commercial yards now are practically supported by naval works. The report is said to have stated it was difficult to figure how they might fare and the industrial changes in the communities where they are located, if the building of war craft should be halted ten years.

MUST SHIFT WORKERS.

It was pointed out that the effect on labor would cause restlessness and it was urged that some concerted effort should be made to shift the idle workers into other remunerative lines.

The report is also understood to have pointed out the phase affecting the naval organization. With the regular process of developing new ships abandoned, it was said that the morale of the organization retained would be adversely affected.

WOULD LOSE EFFICIENCY.

In a word it was held that the Navy would cease to be a going concern when confined to old ships and repair work and that the end of the ten-year period would find it behind its present high mark of efficiency as to personnel.

Taking up costs to the United States alone in scrapping fifteen capital ships, some idea of the expense involved beyond the $385,000,000 already expended on construction was developed. Estimates as to the costs of breaking up ships ranged, it was said, from 10 per cent of the balance required for their construction to 55 or 60 per cent of the balance. This added cost might run as high as $150,000,000.

JAP NAVY CAMPAIGNS IN PRESS.

Demand for Greater Ratio Than Hughes Offered is Manufactured.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TOKIO, Dec. 1.—The frantic campaign now being waged in the Japanese press is manufactured by the navy department to show America there is a popular demand for a higher naval ratio. But the real object of this inspired demonstration, which includes public meetings, is to save the Mutsu, which was commissioned today.

This vessel costing 40,000,000 yen (normally about $40,000,000) is the pride of the Japanese people, who regard throwing away the fleet's queen as a loss to their naval prestige. The Jiji and Kochi say America countered Admiral Kato's proposal with a demand which would reduce Japan to a 45 per cent ratio.

The Asahi says that unless Japan's proposal, or a compromise, is affected, the conference cannot avoid reaching a deadlock. The Nichi Nichi says that Admiral Kato asked for final instrutions before his latest interview with Secretary Hughes.

It is important that the American public understand that the truth in these alarming statements are propaganda, as otherwise it might lead to the impression that Japan is determined to bring a deadlock so that it can carry on its 8-8-8 program.

It should be recalled that Ambassador Warren, in his speech at Yokohama last Wednesday, warned that if Japan rejects the 60 per cent ratio which is now offered by Secretary Hughes, then Japan, being excelled in resources by America, must witness a steady decline in the ratio each year that unrestricted construction continues.

Prince Hirohito, the regent, received the foreign diplomats to Tokio Tuesday afternoon, at the same time taking another step towards democracy. As a result, Ambassador Warren appeared in a frock coat instead of evening dress, which heretofore has been customary.

Ambassador Warren will exchange cards with the German Ambassador, Dr. Solf, this being the first opportunity since the ratification of the treaty. Dr. Solf having been absent in Korea.

DENIED ADMITTANCE; STAGE WAR DANCE.

THREE RUSSIANS REFUSED ENTRY HERE DISCARD CLOTHES IN PROTEST.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Dec. 1.—Three men from the Doukhober, or Russian nonconformist settlement, near Nelson, B. C., discarded all their clothing in a waiting-room of the Canadian Pacific Railway station here, and paced off a protesting war dance when they were refused admittance to the United States. They were later arrested by Vancouver police for disorderly conduct.

U. S. Immigration Commissioner Zurarick had questioned them as to their fitness to proceed on their journey to the State of Washington as prospective settlers. He alleged that their views coincided with the accepted definition of philosophical anarchy, and declined them the hospitality of his government.

They are said to have threatened an undress parade in Vancouver by a large number of their fellow - Doukhobers in protest against their arrest.

AUTHORIZES SALE OF EDISON STOCK.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA COMPANY WILL RAISE MILLIONS FOR CONSTRUCTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The Southern California Edison Company was authorized by the Railroad Commission today to issue and sell at not less than $94 a share, $7,500,000 of its common capital stock of the par value of $100. The proceeds are to be used for construction work and to meet maturing obligations.

The commission quoted A. N. Kemp, vice-president of the company, as stating that $16,000,000 was needed for new construction next year.

A. N. Kemp, vice-president of the California Edison Company, was out of the city last night, and other officials authorized to discuss the financial matters of the company could not be located. Mr. Kemp, it was explained, has full charge of the sale of stock authorized by the Railroad Commission.

Colorado Coal Price Lowered.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PUEBLO (Colo.) Dec. 1.—A reduction of $1 a ton on lump and out coal at the mines was announced by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company yesterday. The reduction is effective December 1, and is in line with the recent reduction in wages at the mines which caused a miners' strike.

AMERICAN IS SLAIN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The killing of an American citizen named Hartmix at Santa Cruz, Bolivia, November 29, was reported to the State Department today from La Paz. The message stated nothing was known concerning the man than his name and that he was an American.

BACKS AMERICAN NAVAL PROPOSAL.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE STANDS WITH DELEGATES; REPORTS ON SUBMARINES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Four reports dealing with submarines, land armament, aircraft and new weapons of warfare, including poison-gas, were adopted today by the American arms advisory committee.

Prepared by experts at the request of Secretary Hughes, Chairman Sutherland declared the reports contained much information bearing vitally on the big problems of the conference. But whatever the viewpoint set down by the experts, Mr. Sutherland emphasized that the committee of twenty-one stood solidly behind the American naval proposal.

Adoption today by the American advisory committee of a report on submarine warfare, prepared by Admiral Rodgers, was construed as indicating no divergence of view between civilians of the committee, and navy officers as to the legitimate place of submarines among naval weapons.

The Navy generally holds that underwater craft are a desirable addition to the fleet, and no more subject to misuse than battleships. It is believed the committee, which is representative of American public opinion, indorses this view. Illegal use of submarines naturally, it was said, would be condemned by both naval officers and civilians.

When the question of submarines comes up, the American arms delegation will have the backing of American public opinion as gleaned by the American advisory committee to support American opposition to any proposal to abolish submarines or to limit their size in any drastic degree.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN WORKING RULES.

LABOR BOARD PLANS TO SAVE ROADS $50,000,000 YEARLY; DOUBT EXPRESSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Two important changes and an estimated saving of $50,000,000 to the railroads annually were the outstanding features of new working rules governing the 400,000 members of six federated railroad shop crafts as promulgated today by the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The two chief changes were:

Representation of minorities in presentation of grievances to meet the contention of the railroad that the old method virtually forced a closed shop.

Permission to apprentices to do certain repair work previously restricted only to journeymen workers.

The new rules supplant the old national agreement, formulated by the United States Railroad Administration during the war, so far as the shopmen are concerned.

The rules hereafter will form the basis of adjudicating all wage disputes. They were adopted unanimously.

Doubt that the new shop rules promulgated by the Railroad Labor Board would save the railroads as much as $50,000,000, the amount estimated by Labor Board statisticians, was expressed by railroad executives here today.

The main comment on the new rules was that the board had, in effect, set up a new national agreement, a thing that the roads consistently fought in the rules hearings before the board last spring.

SUSPECT IN MAIL THEFT HERE IS HELD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Bert R. Chapman, arrested recently in New York as he was leaving for Europe on charges of having received part of the loot of $400,000 in a mail robbery in Los Angeles last March, was held for the Federal grand jury today.

Carl Solomon, held on similar charges, was released yesterday.

TELL SUFFOCATION OF CAPTIVE MOPLAHS.

POLICEMAN ON TRIAL IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF INDIA PRISONERS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

TIRUR (India) Dec. 1.—Testimony as to the circumstances surrounding the suffocation recently of sixty-four Moplah prisoners while being transferred from Shorapur to Bellary in a closed railway wagon, was taken by the commission of inquiry Tuesday.

The reserve policeman in charge of the wagon told of prisoners shouting for water during the journey, and said he refused to heed their cries because it was not customary to furnish water on these trips before reaching Podanur. He said he had taken prisoners over the route in similar vans on a previous occasion without such attention.

The inspector for the South Indian Railway testified that the mesh of the wire ventilating gauze in the van had been blocked by a fresh application of paint, but that this condition was revealed only after the tragedy.

NEEDLE WORKERS STRIKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Five thousand needle trades workers employed in the shops of members of the Chicago Cloak and Suit Manufacturers' Association walked out this morning when a new system of piecework pay was to have been started.

WHITTIER MAY BE TAXLESS.

That is, if Oil is Found by Operator Who Leases Town's Sewer Farm.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WHITTIER, Dec. 1.—Whittier may be a taxless town—if it strikes oil. The city has leased its sewer farm, four miles from town, to an oil operator, who agreed to pay a rental, and also a royalty, if he got oil. He is going to start drilling soon. Should he find oil, and there are producing wells all around the sewer farm, the royalties would probably more than suffice to meet municipal expenses.

ROADS WILLING TO HELP BOARD.

Will Cancel Agreements to Aid Merchant Marine.

Two Contracts That Expire Not to be Renewed.

Great Northern Official is Concerned in Move.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Willingness to abrogate preferential contracts with foreign shipping interests was expressed today before Shipping Board officials by six of the eight American railroads having such agreements. Two roads which were invited to appear before the board's Interstate Commerce Committee as being party to preferential contracts, announced those contracts which they had held had expired and would not be renewed.

The roads whose representatives agreed to recommend the cancellation were: The Baltimore and Ohio, Northern Central, Southern, Mobile and Ohio, Boston and Albany. The Pennsylvania Railroad, according to its general traffic manager, R. C. Wright, had only a business understanding with the International Merchant Marine, which could be easily canceled if the board desired.

HEARINGS ADJOURNED.

The hearings were adjourned pending the filing by the individual roads of statements as to their intent.

D. O. Wood, general foreign agent of the Grand Trunk, said it would be necessary to discuss the proposed abrogation further with his principals before he could act. The tenth railroad represented, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, offered to cancel its agreement with a Japanese line if the board would guarantee to replace the business, which, he said, inevitably would be lost.

Commissioner Thompson declared that the contracts had the effect of diverting American trade to the ships of other nations, and said that the Merchant Marine Act "clearly defined that intent of Congress that American railroads be preferential feeders of tonnage for American ships."

TELLS OF AGREEMENT.

W. P. Kinney of the Great Northern said that while his company had entered into an agreement with a Japanese steamship line without the approval of the Shipping Board, at the time of conclusion of the agreement, Oct. 18, 1921, the board did not have sufficient facilities out of the port of Seattle for handling shipments.

He declared his road would consider cancellation of the contract if the board desired, but that he believed the Japanese line would transfer its docking port from Seattle to Vancouver in the event of a cancellation and that the American port would lose the great quantity of imports now landed at Seattle.

No Cramp in Fun Riot at Writers' Cramp

The most festive scenario during the present season of film activities was enacted by a combined cast of stars, writers and the social elite at the Writers' Cramp, the first annual affair staged by those who wield the pen for the sake of the screen, last night at the Ambassador Hotel. No less than 1200 took part in the radiant scenes, which transpired amid merry banqueting, elusive strains of melody and gay brilliance of a veritable pageant of dancing. The plot for the evening was written by the members of "The Writers," a branch of the Authors' League, and ranked as one of their most effective contributions to picture history.

Among the featured stars was a constellation of filmland's newest sparklers, who, escorted by officers from the ships of the Pacific Fleet, aided in receiving the guests and later wandered among the tables offering bouquets of flowers. Included among these were Madge Bellamy, Helene Chadwick, Betty Ross Clark, May Collins, Mildred Davis, Marjorie Daw, Marguerite De la Motte, Virginia Faire, Clara Horton, Leatrice Joy, Bessie Love, Colleen Moore, May McAvoy, Doris May, Carmel Myers, Edith Roberts, Pauline Starke, Lois Wilson, Gladys Walton and others.

The entertainment comprised speeches and songs, and finally as the headliner a sketch, "Lo, the Poor Writer," written by Thompson Buchanan, and enacted by a group of film celebrities. This was followed by a boxing bout and a battle royal to determine who wrote the first scenario.

As midnight approached, dancing assumed away, with an increase in the festive spirit pervading the gathering. The dance floor was scintillant with players of stellar prominence. A matchless variety of beautiful gowns lent to the glamour of the spectacle, which blended with the gleam of colored lights and the background of floral decorations.

Master of ceremonies for the affair was George Foster Platt. The dinner-dance committee included Marion Fairfax, as chairman; Mrs. Thompson Buchanan, Mrs. Albert Shelby Le Vino, Miss Jeanie MacPherson, Miss June Mathis, Miss Mary O'Connor and Mrs. Rob Wagner.

Representatives of practically every studio were present and hardly a table but boasted some noted luminary of the films. Writers of national prominence took part. A large attendance from the social world lent to the quality of the assemblage.

Among those of prominence, who appeared on the program were George Ade, Frank E. Woods, president of "The Writers;" Basil Ruysdael, Theodore Roberts, Tully Marshall, Wanda Hawley, Ben Turpin, Sylvia Breamer, Enid Bennett, Bert Lytell, Herbert Rawlinson, Roy Atwell, Lionel Belmore and others.

The Tale of a Coat

(Peter B. Kyne in "Pride of Palomar" says: "Fighting and loving are the only two worthwhile things in life.")

Fighting and loving!
One just the opposite of the other!
One, all cave man;
the other all lovey-dovey!
Yet, it's too true!
Life is made up of such.
We fight and die for love!
We love and die for a fight,
at least, some of us.
Some people can't be happy without a fight.
They fatten on discords!
If they smell a bit of peace in the air
the air doesn't smell good to them.
They're just "raving" for something to break the monotony!
Oh, how I,
the peaceful overcoat, sheared from a peaceful sheep
do hate to get on the back of a discordant soul!
Buy me as a raincoat at $15 and $20
in a stylish moleskin and I'll keep your body dry when it rains and I'll keep discord out of your heart.
Buy me for $25, $30, $35
in a gabardine and I'll make you so happy that you'll love everybody.
Buy me in a brown or gray or olive, belted coat, plaid interior and plaited back at $25 to $50
and you'll take ten years from your age.
For, a happy heart and kindly thoughts for everybody is the elixir of life.

STRANDED SHIP FLOODING.

Four Men From Destroyer De Long Swim Ashore When Their Boat Capsizes; Will Save Crew.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—One officer and three seamen came ashore safely from the destroyer De Long, which went ashore early today on the rocks a mile and a half south of Halfmoon Bay. Early in the afternoon the engine room flooded, the destroyer swung broadside against the shore and began to pound badly, according to reports from the scene.

The officers and crew number about 100 men. The oil tanks also began to empty into the engineroom, it was reported. Several destroyers and tugs stood by.

SWIM TO SHORE.

The four men started ashore in a small boat, which capsized in the surf, but they reached land by swimming. They were: Ensign R. J. Townsend, Fireman G. M. Leeper, Torpedoman Sherman and Seaman Kirsch.

The De Long was reported to be near shore, with seas breaking over her and the water just past high tide. The destroyer was on its way to San Francisco from San Diego.

Twelfth Naval District headquarters said a line had been passed to the destroyer and that the crew would be taken off safely.

DANGEROUS PLACE.

The point at which the De Long is stranded is a rocky and dangerous strip about nine miles north of Point Pedro.

Tonight the officials of the Twelfth Naval District ordered the Sea Monarch and Sea Ranger, tugs of a private tug line here to proceed at once for the De Long. Whether or not attempts would be made to disengage the destroyer when the crafts arrive at the scene where they were due about 8 p.m. was not known here. The tug line officials said the tugs' crews would be governed by orders from naval authorities on the destroyer or on other governmental vessels represented tonight to be standing by.

The Sea Ranger was one of the tugs which with the Fearless left here this morning, returning to port without finding trace of the destroyer.

The destroyer De Long is a unit of the Sixteenth Destroyer Division, Pacific Fleet destroyer force, which was recently ordered from the base at San Diego to Mare Island navy yard, San Francisco.

Her commander is Lieut. J. A. Jahn.

Other destroyers of the Sixteenth Division, which were with the De Long when she went ashore are the Ballard, Coghlan, Chase, Badger and Babbitt.

GO TO LIGHTSHIP.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BOSTON, Dec. 1. — The lighthouse tender Azalea was bound for Nantucket Shoals today to find out why the relief lightship stationed there has not been heard from for several days.

There was no anxiety over Capt. Arthur I. Barry and his ten men, it was stated at lighthouse headquarters here.

The trouble was believed to be with the radio equipment rather than with the vessel itself.

Make Progress Towards Normal.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Progress toward normal conditions has been continuous during November despite a relative "slowing down" as compared with the previous two months, the Federal Reserve Board said last night in its monthly review. "On the whole," the board said, "the best opinion now looks to a steady, even if locally interrupted, progress back to normal, although no immediate or sudden expansion or boom is in sight."

HONOLULU SHIP LINE ASSURED.

Palatial Vessels to Make Voyage Direct.

Local Company Allocated Large Steamers.

Los Angeles Port Wins Harding Approval.

Marking a great forward step for Los Angeles Harbor, Earle M. Gosd, vice-president and secretary of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, yesterday received a message from Washington announcing the allocation by the Shipping Board of the two former German passenger liners, Aeolus and Huron, for service between this port and Hawaii. The vessels will be operated by the Los Angeles company now operating the Maui and Harvard between here and San Francisco.

The opinion has been fully expressed by shipping men nationally that the inauguration of the first class passenger service between Los Angeles and Honolulu would be the most important development yet standing to the credit of the enterprise of Los Angeles business men. While Hawaiian and oriental liners already in operation from northern ports have been receiving a large percentage of their passengers from Southern California, the establishment of a direct line of "home-owned" ships of the highest class from Los Angeles to Honolulu, abolishes the differential between Los Angeles and northern ports and provides a direct, short-route service to the islands.

RECOGNIZE THIS PORT.

Mr. Leaf, who has just returned after three weeks in Washington and New York with Shipping Board and administration officials on this matter, attributes the success of his negotiations to a recognition, on the part of all with whom he came in contact, from President Harding down, to the fact that Los Angeles, through its location, its tourist attractions and its industrial development, is entitled to the consideration which is now been given her by the allocation of the passenger vessels.

The Aeolus and Huron are fifteen-knot, oil-burning vessels, palatially equipped and representing the last word in passenger comfort and convenience. They have recently been in the South American service of the Munson Line. The Aeolus is 540 feet long and the Huron 538. The former was the German ship Grosser Kurfurst. The Huron was the Frederich Der Grosse. In the South American service, the ships crossed the equator twice on each round

"DEATH VIGIL" OF BURCH AND MADALYNNE TOLD.

State Witnesses Relate Asserted Watch Over Kennedy from Hotel Before Murder.

The two weeks' death vigil which the prosecution declares Arthur C. Burch kept on J. Belton Kennedy just prior to the latter's murder last August 5 was related in detail before the jury yesterday in Judge Reeve's court, where Burch is on trial for the slaying. In a day during which sensation followed sensation, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine and Deputy Keyes drew from the lips of seven witnesses testimony tending to show:

That Madalynne Obenchain, also accused of the crime, visited with Burch and joined in his asserted watch on Kennedy's office in the Laughlin Building, opposite Burch's room in the Hotel Russell at 316½ South Broadway.

That Mrs. Obenchain came to Los Angeles last July 6, and registered for a $6-a-day room at the Alexandria and that Burch came from Chicago, bringing a shotgun case, and later registered for a $12-a-week room at the Hotel Russell on Sunday, July 24.

That Burch left the hotel on the night of the murder with a package wrapped in newspapers and which appeared about the same as would "a shotgun case wrapped in newspaper."

That Burch checked out of the hotel on the morning after the murder and departed with his suit case.

BONUS FOR ROOM.

That Burch offered to give a bonus to occupants of another room—more nearly opposite the Kennedy offices—if they would exchange rooms with him.

That the actions of a man strongly resembling Burch—if it were not he—attracted the attention of a tenant in the Laughlin Building, who saw the man in Burch's room keep an almost constant watch in the direction of the Kennedy offices.

These links in the State's chain of evidence were forged following the introduction for identification of thirty-one telegrams said to have been exchanged between Burch and Mrs. Obenchain, and Kennedy, Mrs. Obenchain and Miss M. Louis Wilson, through whom the correspondence of Kennedy and Mrs. Obenchain is said to have been handled. Most of these telegrams are held by the State to be strong evidence of a conspiracy between Mrs. Obenchain and Burch, and to show the motive for the crime.

Some of the telegrams were sent by Burch after his arrest, and some were sent by Mrs. Obenchain after she was held. While the telegrams were not admitted into evidence, they became available for the first time last night, and disclosed to a considerable extent the scope of the evidence in the hands of the prosecution.

PEN EXPERT TO TESTIFY.

The State plans to follow up its bombshell drive by calling to the stand Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, who is expected to testify about the handwriting on the originals of some of the telegrams, and thus pave the way for their introduction into evidence today. This plan is certain to bring a bitter clash between the prosecution forces and the attorneys for the defense, as some of the telegrams are typewritten. In some instances, however, the signatures of Mrs. Obenchain for the delivery of the telegrams are in possession of Mr. Woolwine.

The jury and the court trying the Burch case are expected to take a trip to the Russell Hotel and inspect the room from which Burch is said to have kept his death watch on Mr. Kennedy. Judge Reeve said yesterday that the time for this trip will be fixed today.

The court session closed soon after a rigorous cross-examination by Mr. Schenck of the prosecution's star witness to date, Thomas M. Haley, the proprietor of the Hotel Russell. The defense strongly indicated that several witnesses to discredit Mr. Haley's testimony will be called in rebuttal.

Mr. Haley had been called after the prosecution made it clear to the court and jury that the State will attempt to show Burch and Mrs. Obenchain conspired to kill Mr. Kennedy and that the actions of both will be gone into thoroughly.

Mr. Haley explained to the jury, under direct examination by Mr. Keyes, that his hotel is across Broadway from the Laughlin Building. Throughout his testimony Mr. Schenck peppered the examination with objections and several clashes, some of much heat, developed.

On Sunday, July 24, Burch telephoned shortly after 2 p.m. and asked whether any rooms were vacant facing Broadway. When he was told that one could be had, he arrived at the hotel twenty minutes later, Mr. Haley said.

HOTEL MAN'S STORY.

Important parts of his story follow:

"He said he was Burch, the party that had telephoned for a room, and would like to see it, so we went into the room. In place of him looking at the furniture in the room as a roomer usually does when he is renting one, he immediately went to the front and pulled the curtains back and began to look across the street.

"And he said, 'This is pretty good, but I would like to be just a little further this way' (indicating south.)

"And he says, 'Haven't you got a room a little farther that way?' And I says, 'I told you over the phone I only had one vacancy, and this is it,' I said.

"Then he stepped back to the window again and began to peer out of the window again and he repeated that it was pretty good, and he guessed it would do, but that he would like to be just a little farther that way. And I says, 'Well,' I says, 'this is all the room I have.'

"Then he asked the question who occupied—'Who is in that room?' he says, and I says, 'A lady and her daughter who is playing over at the Grauman Theater.' So he says, 'Do you suppose it would be possible to get her to exchange rooms with me, let me have that one and her take this one?' He

Grins at Acquaintances as State Strikes Blow.

Attorneys Lay Basis for Dual Defense of Suspect.

Testimony of Hotel Man to be Strongly Attacked.

As Arthur C. Burch looked about the room in Judge Reeve's court yesterday and smiled at acquaintances, while witnesses were aiding the State to forge a circumstantial chain of evidence around him, his attorneys, Paul W. Schenck, Richard KIttrelle and John J. Sullivan, were busy establishing points throughout the testimony on which to base their defense to the charge that Burch murdered J. Belton Kennedy.

The double nature of the Burch defense was strongly emphasized. First, the Burch attorneys are fighting every inch of the ground to keep out of the records every bit of testimony tending to establish guilt on the part of their client. The objections of Mr. Schenck are sprinkled liberally throughout the transcript of the trial.

But beneath the surface the attorneys are beginning to bring out bits of testimony here and there to strengthen their position that Burch is insane—that he was legally insane at the time of the murder.

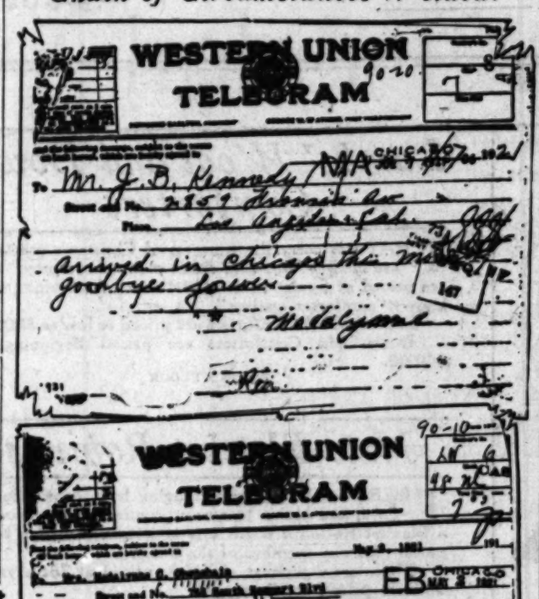
That an attack will be launched upon statements of Thomas M. Haley, hotel proprietor who described a supposed watch Burch kept on Kennedy's offices and of other important links in the State's case, was clearly indicated in the cross-examination by Mr. Schenck. The defense will undertake to show, it is understood, that Mr. Haley previously had declared Madalynne Obenchain was not the woman who visited Burch and that he did not see Burch leave the hotel with a package about the size of a shotgun wrapped in newspapers. Mr. Haley's description of the woman does not fit Mrs. Obenchain, is another contention of the defense and several rebuttal witnesses on these points will probably be called in an effort to discredit Mr. Haley's testimony.

Mr. Sullivan entered upon another line of attack when he cross-examined J. T. MacLaren, a broker, who had testified he saw a man resembling Burch in the latter's room peering across the street toward the Kennedy offices.

By repeated questions Mr. Sullivan brought out that the man, presumably Burch, for hours each day stood or sat at the window and gazed in the one direction without shifting his glance, so far as the witness knew. This single point, brought out by the defense, is expected to be one of the factors that later will figure in the contention that Burch is insane.

Other testimony on this point will be sought in Montana from eleven witnesses who knew Burch there several months ago.

Chain of Circumstances Welded.



Threads in Tangle of Burch Case.

Telegrams linked with actors in love tragedy (above) and Thomas M. Haley, proprietor of hotel where suspect lived. Mr. Haley yesterday on the stand described the so-called "death watch" that the prosecution says Burch kept on J. Belton Kennedy.

STATE OFFERS TELEGRAMS.

Series of Messages Between Actors in Kennedy Tragedy Prosecution's Trump Card.

The prosecution in the Kennedy murder case yesterday laid on the table one of its big trump cards when it offered for identification thirty-one telegrams said to have been exchanged between Arthur C. Burch and Mrs. Madalynne C. Obenchain, the co-defendants charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, and between Mrs. Obenchain, Mr. Kennedy and a few of the other principals in the case.

It was a card that the defense has been looking for with considerable anxiety, for in these telegrams the State believes it holds the evidence of the motive and conspiracy between Burch and Mrs. Obenchain, as well as other important links needed to complete the chain with which it seeks to connect Burch with the slaying of the insurance broker last August. Most of the telegrams have never been mentioned. Others are given in full for the first time since the investigation started.

The telegrams, grouped chronologically, follow below. Those signed "Jeff," the prosecution will try to show, were sent by Burch. "Jeff" is said to be the name under which he was known to Mrs. Obenchain. "Goddess" is the name Mrs. Obenchain signed to some of her telegrams. "Ross Duke" and "Russ Duke" are said to be abbreviations for "Russian Duke." This is the nickname, the prosecution will try to show, Mr. Kennedy assumed in his correspondence with Mrs. Obenchain. "M. C. O." is taken to mean Madalynne Connor Obenchain. "Glanys" is Mrs. Obenchain's sister, Miss Glanys Smart. Mrs. M. L. Wilson is the close friend and confidante of Mrs. Obenchain. It was through her that the Kennedy love correspondence was handled.

Program is Complete for Marshal's Welcome.

Figueroa Street Held Best for Spectators.

Hanford S. McNider, national commander of the American Legion and known as the most decorated man in the American Army, will be present Sunday at the reception to be tendered Marshal Foch. A telegram to this effect was received here yesterday. Commander McNider will join the Foch party at San Francisco tomorrow.

Portland's tribute yesterday to Marshal Foch constituted a full day of events, including a parade through the downtown district, a sightseeing trip with luncheon at a chalet on the Columbia River Highway, inspection of the school children of Portland and a banquet at 6:30 p.m., followed by a mass meeting at the Armory. His special left Portland for San Francisco at 11 o'clock.

Chairman of the various committees of the American Legion activities of the program here Sunday were announced as follows:

Leo D. Daze, general chairman; Buron Fitts, master of ceremonies; H. C. Huntington, transportation; P. F. Roller, parade; Orville Jonas, Disabled Veterans; Philip Dodson, Foreign Allied Veterans; H. O. Wheeler, reception; E. V. Rosencrans, entertainment; H. Z. Ferguson, official photographer, and J. W. Sutphen, press and publicity.

PARADE CURTAILED.

Owing to the many episodes of the six-hour program, the parade has been very much curtailed. It was originally intended to make this feature a mammoth affair, to include almost every uniformed organization in the city, but time will not permit.

"Forward, March!" will be given promptly at 12:45 p.m., the parade moving south on Figueroa from Washington street. The "Sammy Sisters," who won distinction during the war by sounding bugle calls in sixty-three different camps, will head the procession, with the grand marshals of the parade, Sheriff Traeger and Chief of Police Jones. The massed band of 300 pieces, donated by Los Angeles Lodge of Elks, will follow. Other units in order will include a battalion of the Regular Army from Ft. MacArthur, commanded by Maj. A. B. Dearne; a detachment of sailors and marines from the Pacific Fleet and the flagship band; a battalion of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard, in command of Col. Walter P. Story.

OTHERS IN AUTOS.

The remainder of the parade will be made up of automobiles which will proceed slowly. Heading this division will be the chairman of the parade committee, P.

BULLETS FLATTEN ON SKULL.

Suicide Fails Because the Bones of Head Are Too Thick to Penetrate.

Discouraged because two shots fired into his head had not killed him, Janpolsky Moses, 33 years of age, of 734 California street, yesterday called his landlady from another part of the building and asked to be sent to a hospital. At the Receiving Hospital police surgeons discovered that the two bullets fired by Moses in an attempt to end his life had flattened against his skull and inflicted only flesh wounds.

According to the story told by Moses, he was in poor health and unable to secure work. With his last $10 he purchased a revolver and while seated on his bed placed the revolver against his right temple and fired one shot. A short time after firing the first shot Moses recovered consciousness and fired a second shot into his left temple. Then he yelled for help.

Both bullets, the police surgeons later declared, struck the skull in a direct line and flattened out like buttons. When treated Moses was suffering from two flesh wounds and a slight concussion of the brain. He was removed to the County Hospital and will recover.

JOB AT HARBOR AROUSES MAYOR

Inquiry to Determine Need of Traffic Head.

Appointment Held Up Till More is Learned.

Charge of Politics Also Interests Cryer.

Mayor Cryer took a hand yesterday in the troubles of the Board of Harbor Commissioners resulting from the board's creation of the job of statistician and assistant to the president and the offer made by the board to John T. Hendricks to become traffic manager of the port at a salary of $4800 a year.

"As long as Mr. Hendricks has asked for additional time to consider the offer," said Mayor Cryer yesterday, "it gives the board an opportunity to hold up his appointment until an investigation can be made into his qualifications and connections, and I have asked that no further steps be taken until this investigation is made.

"I am solely interested in the development of the harbor, and I had hoped that the harbor board would attend strictly to the business of the harbor development.

TO ASK EXPLANATION.

"I shall at the first opportunity ask Harbor Commissioner Richards to explain what he meant when at recent meetings of the harbor board he said that 'politics' was interfering with the board's work. If there is any politics in the harbor department, I want to know it.

"Of the appointment of E. A. Heffner as assistant to the president of the harbor board at a salary of $250 a month, I took no personal interest, and had never met Mr. Heffner but once in my life. I understand that his name was suggested by Harry Hawgood, chairman of the harbor development committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Charles Terry, who was appointed port warden by the harbor board, did work for me in my campaign.

"I am investigating all of these harbor matters."

MUST PASS TEST.

President McKee of the harbor board yesterday conferred with Secretary King of the Civil Service Commission and it was agreed to abandon the effort to employ Mr. Heffner under a ninety-day contract and to seek exemption for him from civil service. Mr. Heffner, President McKee said, would assume his duties today as an emergency employee and must take and pass an examination before the Civil Service Commission before being given permanent employment.

John T. Hendricks, who was offered the position of traffic manager of the harbor at a salary of $4800 a year, wired the harbor board yesterday from New York that he is considering an offer there at $6000 a year and asked for additional time before replying to the board's telegram. Mr. Hendricks stated in a former telegram to the board that he had been traffic manager of the Western Maryland and other railroads, and was until recently eastern representative of the Salt Lake Railroad.

PREPAREDNESS URGED BY MILITARY EXPERT.

POSSIBILITY OF WAR WITH JAPAN HINTED BY MAJ. COTTON.

Hinting at the possibility of a war with Japan within the next four years "when all the prettiest land in California is owned by foreigners," and declaring that, while American military officers hate war, they do not believe the United States should be caught napping in case war becomes necessary, Maj. Robert C. Cotton spoke yesterday before the Optimists Club at Paulais at a luncheon under direction of The Times with men of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry as guests.

Maj. Cotton said that lack of preparation on the part of enemy nations had been largely responsible for the victories won by the United States in the Mexican War, the Civil War and the conflict with Spain.

"After winning these wars at tremendous and wholly unnecessary sacrifices, the people of this country settled down at their ease and forgot to make preparations for possible future trouble, yet that trouble always came, with the same unnecessary sacrifices in men, money and time," said the speaker.

Maj. Cotton advocated military training in schools.

Frank G. Hogan, former president of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses and well-known Los Angeles and Pasadena business man, discussed plans for the million-dollar athletic stadium to be built next year in the Arroyo Seco.

"I congratulate the newspaper publishers and other business men of Los Angeles who worked so zealously for the success of the coliseum to be erected here next years," said Mr. Hogan. "Now that your project has been assured Pasadena urges you to support the movement for our big stadium where the East and West annual football games will be held."

The meeting was presided over by J. Clark Thompson. Col. Walter P. Story told of "Rebuilding the One Hundred and Sixtieth," which regiment he commands.

AWARDS ANNOUNCED IN EMBLEM CONTEST.

The awards have been made in the contest by pupils of the Commercial Experts' Training Institute, the following being winners, in their order: First, Wilson Jones; second, Charles F. Stogmaier; third, Elizabeth Merrill. The subject was the emblem of the institution, the staff of Mercury, conventionalized and used as the background for the letters of the slogan: "Commercial Experts' Training Institute." Originality, composition and clarity in presentation of the ideals for which the emblem stands were considered in making the awards, which were decided by a committee from representative Los Angeles newspapers.

D CROSS TO ENROLL PUPILS.

ildren Permitted to Join Junior Chapter.

hool Board is Told How to Stop Accidents.

isters' Plea for Room Causes Smiles.

Re-enrollment as members of the Los Angeles Chapter of Junior Red Cross will be granted pupils of local schools next January, according to a motion made by the board of Education yesterday following a petition presented by Mrs. J. A. Van Kaathoven, director of the Junior Red Cross. Mrs. Kaathoven referred to the Junior Red Cross of Los Angeles as "the pride of the nation for its efficiency, unselfishness and achievement," citing the splendid record of the organization during the last few years.

A plan for the prevention, in Los Angeles, of accidents similar to one which recently occurred at Long Bluff, was presented by E. B. Roberts, manager of the department of public safety of the Automobile Club of Southern California. The board took under advisement that in cases in which trucks carrying children to and from school, one of the pupils be appointed to look out of the machine and make an inspection at every railroad crossing before the truck is allowed to proceed.

DENY FREE WATER.

The board received a communication from J. P. Vroman, secretary of the Department of Public Service, in which the department asked the petition of the board which had asked the department to reconsider its recent action discontinuing the granting of free water for public school gardens.

A communication which brought a smile to the faces of members of the board was from the Ministerial Association of Van Nuys. The board was asked to grant the use of the Van Nuys school auditorium on January 9 to the Anti-Saloon League, for the purpose of a meeting at which Col. Dan Morgan, chief of the "Battalion of Death," is to be the speaker. The announcement of a letter from the ministerial body was received with equanimity by the board members who did not even change expression at the mention of the Anti-Saloon League.

ACCUSED MUTE ON CHARGE.

Because, he did not want to give testimony that would tend to incriminate him, Dr. Reginald S. Potter refused to take the witness stand yesterday in Judge Houser's court in the suit of Mrs. Geraldine McWhirter for $50,000 damages. She is suing Dr. Potter because of an unauthorized operation while she was his patient.

According to Mrs. McWhirter's complaint, Dr. Potter got her undue his influence with the use of drugs and then committed various acts. She says that after Dr. Potter learned that she was about to bring suit, he met her outside her attorney's office and took her to a mountain cabin, where he kept her two weeks.

One of the features of the case is the attempt of the plaintiff to bring the charges of Mrs. Potter in a divorce complaint into the evidence in this case. A stiff legal battle was waged yesterday on this point and it will be decided later. Mrs. Potter sued for divorce recently, charging that Mrs. McWhirter is one of two corespondents. The charges of Mrs McWhirter is on of two cormeasure, it is said, by the divorce complaint.

Considerable delay was experienced in selecting a jury, as attorneys and the court did not want to subject any women to hearing the testimony. It is the first jury composed of men that has sat here for some time. Immediately across the hall was a jury composed entirely of women.

Burke to Take U.S. Attorney's Office Today.

Joe Burke, Santa Ana attorney, yesterday received his appointment as United States Attorney at Los Angeles. He will be sworn into office at 11 a.m. today at the Federal Building. Mr. O'Conner's resignation was effective yesterday, but delay in the mail between Washington and Los Angeles delayed the change one day.

MATTER OF BREATHING.

It is said that some of these Hindoo medicine men have so trained themselves that they can hold their breath for a full day. The average person can hardly hold it half a minute and Senator Borah cannot hold his at all.

THE SOFT AND EASY ROAD.

When cotton cannot be marketed in the Salt River or Imperial valleys they use it to help out on the roads. Mixing cotton with the sand makes a fleece-lined road that is quite favorable for traction and most comfortable in passage. It is not as firm as concrete, but it has its compensations.

DISARMAMENT PROBLEMS.

Advertisers are urging us to send $4 to somebody in the East and get a massive automatic revolver worth $30 by return mail. There are no questions asked. So long as Young America can go out and buy all the shooting irons he can carry the world can hardly be said to be safe for democracy. What is wanted is a little more home disarmament. Even a 50 per cent limitation on our footpads would help a lot.

A BANNER SCHOOL.

The city of Flint, in Michigan, bears a hard name and it used to have a Mayor named Stone to emphasize the fact. But the place is mellowing under the influence of the motor interests and it is really a rich and worthy town. Further proof is furnished by the fact that the city is building a high school which will cost $1,500,000. No town in America of less than 100,000 inhabitants has attempted anything so ambitious for its freshmen. It will be equal to the best efforts of the great cities.

FOR CLEAN LIVING.

Some soaps are said to be delicious eating. At least that is the tale carried by an expert who has made a business of tasting soaps for almost half a century. Now that the bar has gone out a nibble of Castile may not be a bad thing. It should help in making one clean within and that is what counts. The expert says further that a soap diet is fine for the complexion and is also beneficial in stomach ailments. If this story goes much further folks will be substituting ivory soap for prunes down at the boarding house.

THE ALIMONY QUESTION.

It is set up in a recent case of domestic embroilment that the wife is now drawing alimony from three different husbands. She is now parting from the fourth and the neighbors are wondering whether she will soon be drawing alimony from him. Usually a divorcee uses her alimony as bait or provision for the next husband. To be getting alimony from two husbands is unusual; from three remarkable. If the judges keep on providing alimony the League of Nations may have to take hold of the problem. How deep can alimony go, anyhow?

POWER BY WIRELESS.

Now that scientists are learning how to transmit power by wireless it begins to look like a hard winter for the Rockefellers. The old man may yet bring up in the poorhouse. There is said to be an awful waste of power in even the little wireless now in use. If it is all harnessed and worked to its capacity all the machinery of the world could be operated. At least that is what the professor says. The automobile of the future, the airship, as well as every other means of transportation or source of power will be based upon radio transmission and the Hertzian waves. The wireless will run everything from the family coffee mill to the superdreadnaught.

WEEK OF WISDOM.

We have Education Week—opening on the 4th inst.—and President Harding calls attention to the fact that there are still more than 5,000,000 boys and girls in America who are not availing themselves to the full of the opportunities afforded by the public schools. It is not expected that they can acquire an education in one week, but in this particular week it is hoped to direct the heart and thought of America to its schools—to find out what is the matter with them, if anything, and to see that they are given their full force and effect. The schools of America are certainly costing the taxpayers heavily and as an investment should be made as effective as possible. During Education Week we ought at least to be able to learn something about Santa Claus. Let everybody try and get wise during Education Week and there will be no more buying of gold bricks or taking counterfeit money.

WANT THE CARS BACK.

Des Moines citizens had a quarrel with the street car interests and ordered the company out of the house. The cars were banished and the people announced that bus lines were to be the transportation of mankind for the rest of his days. That was a couple of months ago. Now the citizens, by a vote of more than two to one, have demanded a return of their beloved and long-lost street cars and have decreed that the bus lines must go. The people are always right once, but they never know it for any length of time. That is what makes a joke out of the initiative and referendum. Its chief purpose is to demonstrate the foolishness of the voters. It shows that they never know what they want until they don't want it. Any city that fancies it can get along without a definite transportation system for its residents is foolish to begin with.

FRIENDS AND ALLIES.

Premier Briand of France, who has been called the greatest master of debate in the world, has gone home from Washington to face again that Chamber of Deputies in which he has been so many times attacked and where he has snatched numerous victories from seeming defeats. Expecting to come to America is Lloyd George, hailed in some quarters as the most dexterous politician living and who has measured verbal swords, not without effect, with M. Briand. It is interesting to note that both these leaders of nations have climbed from the ladder's lowest rung to the top. Briand is a peasant of Brittany, where his father kept a small inn in a small town; Lloyd George's father was an itinerant schoolmaster and preacher and died so poor that his brother, a bootmaker of Wales, had to raise the family, which included a future Prime Minister of Great Britain. It is small wonder that when these two amazing men get together they clash, for both are Celts. A writer in a London review declares that the success of both can be traced to the same capacity of each to dominate a situation, to live politically from day to day, from hand to mouth. But this is not to infer that these Premiers are alike; those who know both well assert that they are really as the poles asunder. This extends even to their manner of speaking. Both are eloquent, but as an Austrian newspaper man once neatly put it, "Lloyd George comes down to earth when he makes a speech, but Briand rises to the skies." The Curzon speech directed to France may or may not have had the approval of Lloyd George, but the Germans should not take too much comfort from it, for, despite their seeming differences, the French and British Premiers remain, as Briand remarked, "friends and Allies."

THE HARBOR CRISIS.

The people of this city are proud of Los Angeles Harbor. They have shown that they realize the success or failure of Los Angeles as a world port depends upon the development of the harbor and the voters have authorized the issuance of millions of dollars of bonds for construction work at the city's industrial and commercial front door, which is at the ocean.

Steamship companies, knowing full well that through Pacific Coast ports must pour the great streams of shipments to the Far East and to South America and Central America, which are to place the United States in the front rank of the world as a world trader, are clamoring for accommodations at the harbor. The voters have loaned the credit of the city to raise money to spend in building new docks and terminals and to do necessary dredging.

During the next two years the Board of Harbor Commissioners will supervise the expenditure of $6,900,000. The manner in which this public money is spent will tell the story of whether or not Los Angeles is to have a real harbor, designed and administered along forward-looking, business lines or it is to be a costly joke and a roosting place for politicians who will have the picnic of their lives wasting the people's money—and grafting. If this is to be the outcome, the disgusted people of Los Angeles will close their pocketbooks. They will vote no more bonds. Los Angeles Harbor will become deserted, with rotting, empty docks. Los Angeles will be the laughing stock of the shippers of America, who are working night and day to place this country in the front rank in world trade, particularly with the markets of the Pacific.

Mayor Cryer has a grand opportunity to make glory for himself and his city if he will take a firm stand on harbor affairs, compel the majority members of the Board of Harbor Commissioners to quit playing politics and to work in harmony with the Chamber of Commerce and all others unselfishly interested in development. The Mayor and the Chamber of Commerce tried their level best to secure men of widely known ability and standing to accept places on the Board of Harbor Commissioners. Politics "gummed the cards" and many able men declined to become political footballs by accepting places on the board. The Mayor must work with the tools he has. These men have taken office with every opportunity to make good. If they fail, it will be their own fault, and the Mayor, if he omits to take a strong hand in harbor affairs, must share in the blame for their failure.

The future of the harbor is at stake. The next two years will make or break it. Mayor Cryer and his Board of Harbor Commissioners must accept their responsibility. The fate of Los Angeles is in their hands. Is it to be a haven for politicians or a real world port?

KICKING THEIR OWN SHINS.

Some of the union carpenters in Chicago were themselves anxious to escape that by-law of their organization which forbade members working for less than $1.25 an hour. The court, however, upholds the officers of the union in enforcing the by-law. The judge says that the union has a right to enact its by-laws and require the members to adhere to them. The members, however, can quit the union if they want to and many of them are doing that very thing. If they don't they will have to get along without work. Practically all the builders and contractors of Chicago and the entire citizenship of that city have accepted the findings of Judge Landis in the matter of the labor disputes in the building trades. That award gave the carpenters 95 cents an hour as a maximum wage. All the unions had pledged themselves in advance to agree to the decision of the arbitrator, but the carpenters now refuse to accept. As a result many of the carpenters are leaving the union in order to obtain work and hundreds of nonunion carpenters are flocking to Chicago to take the places of those men who are standing by the union demands for $1.25 an hour. Building operations have been all shot to pieces during the wrangling in Chicago and the city is behind in its housing. There will have to be a lot of building in the early spring and it is now agreed that the open shop will entirely govern the field so far as the carpenters are concerned. The unions which refuse to accept the Landis scale are considered as outlaws. The judge held, among other things, that a member of a union had to deliver a day's work for a day's pay. This was considered as a knock at those unions which were endeavoring to restrict the output of the individual. Under any analysis the findings of Judge Landis call for a square deal. Practically all of the union members admit this themselves, but certain of the walking delegates and agitators are still fighting because their interests lie not in contented industry. They fatten on strife alone.

DEARTH OF COLLEGE PRESIDENTS.

The recent voluntary retirement of President George F. Bovard of the University of Southern California calls fresh attention to a well-known fact of contemporary educational life—the conspicuous shortage of thoroughly qualified, all-round men to serve in the important capacity of college and university presidents.

Distinguished by length of service, notable advances in educational programs and moral guidance of thousands of students, California has produced three outstanding university administrators—David Starr Jordan of Stanford, Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the State University and George Finley Bovard of the University of Southern California. And now the last of the big three, after devoting the best energies of a score of years to his great and triumphant work, has secured merited release from the burdens of active administration.

There is no adequate system of training schools for presidents in our entire American scheme of education. Our law schools turn out young lawyers by thousands—and other professional schools their respective products—teachers' colleges are having their day with enormous output of teachers of all grades and every variety, here and there moderate success is achieved in training the material for principals and superintendents; but where can the institution be found that might, with any semblance of truth, be called a fitting school for college presidents?

The fact is, the educational institutions of today offer relatively fewer advantages for this extremely exacting task than did those of the generation now past. Today the typical college student knows little of the urbanity of culture, he is seldom required to gain real mastery of oral or written expression, he enjoys but slight personal contact with his best teachers. The fraternity is likely to crowd out the debating society, the "jolly-up" has supplanted old-time "rhetoricals," and the athletic contest empties the halls of oratory to fill the bleachers.

To be sure, there is no lack of compensatory values in present-day education; but the point is, the present-day system leaves an acute shortage of materials out of which great college presidents are made.

Secondly, the demands made today upon the president of a great American college or university, numbering its students by thousands and figuring its budget into millions, have become virtually impossible to satisfy by any one individual. A writer who has himself been president of a State university and is now editor of a prominent educational journal expresses the situation thus: ". . . The office of university or college president is one of the most exacting in the world. The incumbent is expected to excel in so many different and unrelated fields of action that he is almost certain to fall short in some and to become a target of criticism. If he is broad and cultured he may yet lack in sympathy and tact, and, possessing all these qualifications, he may fail as a speaker, a 'mixer' or a good money raiser or, worst of all, he may be found wanting in force or courage."

The presidential office should no longer include all the indiscriminate functions commonly demanded. The many and sometimes incongruous duties render it impossible to maintain the contemplative life; under existing conditions the president feels compelled, sooner or later, to make his "compromise with the crowd and with Mammon." The anomalous situation leads a keen writer to express himself in these trenchant words: "The president of an American university combines the functions of the head of a small college with those of the vice-chancellor of an English university and those of the rector of a German."

The entire financial responsibility is a burden too heavy for the president to bear. It is precisely at this point that many a worthy leader in education has broken under the strain. It is equally a mistake, on the one hand, to break the back of a true educator with financial burdens, and on the other to conclude that a successful "business man" as such will make a satisfactory college president.

"Business methods," says Nicholas Murray Butler, "have debauched and are debauching politics on every hand, and the treasure house of education must be protected from their inroads at all hazards. The idealism which American life so sorely needs must be furnished in large part by the universities and the two first questions for their governing boards to ask are, 'Is it timely? and does it pay?' Moreover, the typical business man cannot, in the nature of the case, be successful in such a post. His standards of success are the reverse of educational. . . . The more important the college or university the more surely it needs expert educational supervision."

The ideal university president is to be the intellectual leader, of the institution—that is his chief function. Like Daniel C. Gilman of Johns Hopkins, he should give much time to the selection of his faculty, who are the intellectual leaders of the students. While it is too much to expect that he should be wholly released from financial obligations, he should not, on the other hand, be entirely robbed of opportunity for intensive study, and the great body of students should not be deprived of inspiring contact and stimulating association with the great personality of their common leader.

Universities should be strongly represented by financial directors of experience and ability. The city should cherish the university within its gates as the apple of its eye.

America has produced a few outstanding university presidents—men like Gilman, Eliot and Angel. California has made a notable contribution—Jordan, Wheeler, Bovard. These great leaders have wrought imperishably—civilization has been enriched by their fruitful labors.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

That fine old sentiment, "Vox populi, vox Dei," may be true so far as it goes, but for practical purposes it doesn't go far enough. Because so much of the "vox populi" never speaks at all.

In truth, if the voice of God were mute to the same extent divine government might be no more successful than human government—which even in the United States is still decidedly fallible. Conversely, if the voice of the people were heard speaking to its full capacity we could at least decide how near it came to being the voice of God.

But since it never has been so heard, and in all probability never will be, we must worry along with things as they are; and "things as they are" prove sadly that the majority of the people have too little interest in mundane affairs even to take the trouble to register any expression of opinion.

The only way the people can speak with authority is through the ballot box—and the ballot box registers the unpleasant fact that the greater part of the American people prefers to remain politically dumb.

At the last Presidential election, in the city of Dayton, O., which heads the list, only 43 per cent of the census population cast a vote. In Norfolk, Va., at the other extreme, but 7 per cent of the people attended the polls. In an average of fifty representative cities at a national Presidential election, which always calls out the maximum voting power of the country, not more than a quarter of the voters exercised their privilege of helping to choose a new head for the nation.

Of course, we cannot expect a mere fourth of the voice of the people to equal the fully expressed voice of divinity. Indeed, if the full vox populi were as determinate as a quarter of the vox Dei, we might attain a degree of success in government that at least would banish both autocracy and anarchy forever from the earth. But, since so many of our people fail to speak, we can only conclude that they are satisfied with things as they are. And, since the majority is satisfied, the country must be pretty well managed, after all.

Messrs. Tumulty and Dooley.

About the only thing gleaned from Private Secretary Tumulty's history of ex-President Wilson's life, so far, is that Tumulty was a much greater man than the country or world had any idea. You can read it in almost every line. Wilson might have faltered at times, made mistakes or judged the future incorrectly. Not so Tumulty. No crisis ever arose that Tumulty did not vision that outcome. Events always proved Tumulty to have been right. Tumulty's only rival, it seems, was our late lamented Mr. Dooley. As a matter of fact, Tumulty has not done Wilson any good by writing his history.—[Clay Center (Kan.) Times.

Russia's "Experiment."

Every time I seat myself comfortably to read I soon encounter a statement that "a gigantic social experiment is being worked out in Russia."

The statement isn't true; what is going on in Russia is revolution against social experience. It is an attempt of idle men to live as comfortably as industrious men; of thieves and drunkards demanding the respect accorded honest and sober men; of fools trying to show they are the real wise men of the world.—[H. W. Howe's Monthly.

THE INSPECTOR.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

This business of government by inspection is being extended further into our lives every day. If inspectors didn't hate to get up so early I should say we would soon be having them for breakfast.

As it is, the inspector is on the front porch with his deadly fountain pen and he leaves a little pink notice that last month's garbage contained traces of noxious vapors and had been condemned by the insanitary section of the public welfare bureau. It would be necessary for you to lay off a day and go somewhere to be fined.

While you are trying to figure where to go, another inspector gum-shoes up to the door with the heart-breaking news that little Willie has metamorphosis of the adenoids and unless his tonsils are eviscerated an epidemic of kleptomania is almost certain to follow. He will have to remain out of school until the surgeons have done their full duty.

If you leave your car hitched to the curbing downtown the traffic inspector pins a notice to it that you have offended the peace and dignity of the commonwealth by parking within seventeen feet of a spark-plug. For violation of Section 47 of Ordinance 319,753 you are subject to a fine of not exceeding $50.

If you happen to ride on a street car and think you want to alight at the Plaza some inspector is liable to butt in and tell you that your transfer is only good at the postoffice. He will tell you where to get off.

If you are building a little home you have hardly shaken off one inspector before another is at your neck. The man who put in the open plumbing left the switch box closed or else the wiring was done by a deaf mute who was not a member of the wire-workers union. Anyhow, you will have to take your corkscrew and rip it all out. After you have finished your house the inspector from the building department drops in and informs you that the joists are three feet apart and the sills only 2x6. It will be necessary for you to tear down the home and make a fresh start. While you are trying to open negotiations with the inspector another drops around with the glad tidings that the weed commissioner has found a crop of burr clover in your parkway and it will be necessary to call out the militia and blast it out.

The other day a trained scientist in the round of his duties visited a home where they had seven children, but no dollies on the piano. The mother had a washing machine, but no jazz records. One of the children had incipient mentality and another had isolated proboscis. Naturally they were undernurtured. Consequently the inspector left word that no more children would be allowed. This left the household in an embarrassing position.

It seems that hereafter we are to get permits from the commissioner before we may have children. Any woman who tries to sneak one by the inspector is likely to be shot at sunrise.

We will wind up by having the professor of eugenics as matrimonial inspector. He will not permit a man to enter the marriage state until he has had his teeth pulled and his hair shampooed. Then he will be unable to harm the State. The bride will have to have her hair bobbed and her toe nails trimmed before she can approach the altar. Our weddings must be sanitary, b'gee!

When government by inspection reaches its glorified stage man may be absolved from the intricate processes of thought. The administration may do his thinking for him. The food inspector who checks up his early fodder will leave a blue card describing his routine for the day and specifying where and when to report. After while maybe we can wear tags around our necks and the inspector can punch the ticket for evidence that he has examined us for weak eyes, lost manhood and barber's itch.

Government by inspection should be a great boon.

Drainage of Zuyder Zee.

At the Inland Shipping Congress held at Rotterdam recently the drainage of the Zuyder Zee formed the most important subject of discussion. It was pointed out that the drainage would necessitate the construction of a number of new canals. One speaker pleaded that the building of new villages and factories in the polders should not be left to mere chance. Villages with churches should be built near the canals, but industrial works near the dykes. Such an arrangement would prove of advantage to shipping and would prevent any pollution of the polder water. A number of the waterways connecting the Zuyder Zee ports are to be preserved, but wherever polders form a continuation of the existing land new harbors will have to be made.—[Scientific American.

Where Uncle Sam Is Weak.

We are tired of seeing weak or wicked State governments wink at lynchings and entirely in favor of letting the Federal government try its hand. But if the United States doesn't try harder than it tries to enforce the provisions of the Constitution conferring the suffrage on negroes conditions will not be improved very much.—[Buffalo Express.

The Substitute.

"Your Honor," said the prosecuting attorney, "your bull pup has went and chawed up the court Bible."

"Well," grumbled the judge "make the witness kiss the pup. We can't adjourn the court to get a new Bible."—[London Weekly Telegraph.

How to Get a Wife.

Let a man get the reputation of paying liberal alimony and he will have very little trouble getting married.—[Arkansaw Thomas Cat.

EDITORIAL OPINION.

It is not the truth or falsity of Col. Harvey's assertions, taken by themselves, that chiefly concerns us. What we are concerned with is that he should assume, of his own motion, to formulate a foreign policy. It is the business of an ambassador to express precisely the policy and attitude determined by his superior, the Secretary of State, and if he departs from this and exceeds his instructions or improvises other views, he becomes a source of embarrassment and danger. This is the position in which Col. Harvey has now placed himself, and his usefulness in London is at an end. Like Walt Dad in Kipling's ballad, he "carries the curse of an unstanched speech," and is liable at any moment, in a fit of irresponsibility, to cause irreparable harm by his looseness of tongue. It is time that President Harding found for him some other field of usefulness.—[New York Independent.

You cannot have read thus far into Mr. Tumulty's account of Mr. Wilson as he knew him without being impressed with the Tumulty indispensability. Was there a stunning problem of politics or statesmanship confronting Mr. Wilson? Mr. Tumulty always happened along at the right time with just the right suggestion, which Mr. Wilson always accepted with a glad cry, "Capital!" Mr. Tumulty is yet in the days when everything was rosy. Later on, when affairs take a different turn, we suspect that somebody else will be making the suggestions. Over Mr. Tumulty's solemn protest.—[Kansas City Star.

All holidays should be on Monday. Doubtless thousands of workers would like to eat their Thanksgiving dinner with their parents, but cannot do so, as Thanksgiving is on Thursday. If all holidays were on Monday all workers could leave business on Saturday evening after business closes and be with their parents Sunday morning, returning home Monday evening, to be ready for work Tuesday morning.—[Letter in New York Herald.

Joseph P. Tumulty's almost identic repetition in his "Woodrow Wilson Disclosed" of George Creel's version of the Gen. Wood incident in "The War, the World and Wilson" is quite too bald to be artful plagiarism, even if the ostensible author were to be suspected of that. From this sample, however, of Mr. Tumulty's literary ware it must be admitted that, as was said of Disraeli, he has "extraordinary power of appropriating phrases of others." The acknowledgment of indebtedness which he says he is to make in the preface to his volume will not be out of place, even if belated. —[New York Herald.

The permanency of a building depends not alone upon the foundation, but upon the bedrock on which the foundation rests. Character and principle are bedrocks upon which the foundation of a business must rest if that business is to remain permanently successful. Trade names, trade-marks or copyrights are valueless unless they are upheld by character and principle, supplemented by the confidence of the public. No amount of advertising of a trade-mark or any particular brand of merchandise can permanently popularize that product unless there is built into it the elements which the purchaser expects to find when he invests his money in it.—[Boot and Shoe Recorder.

The test of any Far Eastern agreement at Washington will be the treatment accorded to China, but China cannot be saved merely by stabilizing the loot or arriving at an understanding as to the exact amount of foreign aggression that will be regarded as not detrimental to the interests of the other nations concerned. There must be a geographical China whose integrity is guaranteed, and means must be found to aid the Chinese people in establishing a political China that can perform the functions of government.—[New York World.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

CHAOS AND THINGS.

There's some new crisis every day, some new and ghastly evil; and people wring their hands and say, "Now for the great upheaval! Our native land! The coming wind will from its moorings drive it; this crisis has all others skinned and nothing can survive it. Oh, yes, we have been scared before, our feet have oft been chilly; but this new crisis at the door is bound to knock things silly. Now chaos comes, and no mistake, the future's bleak and foggy, and, while our well-known bulwarks break, palladiums are groggy." And still the country jogs along, despite our frenzied dreaming, and still there sounds the dinner gong and still the eagle's screaming. And as of old the son of toil can amply store his larder, if he will plow the fertile soil and hoe his beans with ardor. The man who promptly pays his debts will see no crisis prod him; he ranks among our safest bets and all the boys applaud him. The man who wisely saved his rocks when t'other men were blowing can smile, though crises come in flocks, when he is homeward going. There is a crisis every day, with matinees bi-weekly, but when it meets the thrifty jay it pulls its stunts quite meekly.

Naming the Baby.

"I've decided on a name for baby," said the young mother. "I shall call her Euphrosyne."

Her husband did not care for the suggestion but being a tactful fellow he was far too wise to say so.

"Splendid," he said cheerfully. "The first girl I ever loved was called Euphrosyne and the name has very pleasant memories for me."

There was a brief silence. Then: "We will call her Elizabeth, after my mother," said the young wife, firmly.—[Watchman and Examiner.

ROMANCE .. IS .. ECHO .. OF .. WAR.

Foch Aide's Widow Engaged on Eve of Hero's Visit.

Mme. Katherine Odemour.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

WITH preparations for the entertainment of Marshal Foch on Sunday, a pretty romance was revealed yesterday in the announcement that Mme. Katherine Odemour of Paris, France, widow of a French army officer who fought directly under the command of Marshal Foch, is to marry Alexander de Turenne of Seattle.

Mme. Odemour and her little son, Bernard, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien N. Vawig of West Adams street. The wedding will take place at St. Vincent's Church, Los Angeles, on the 19th inst., and a reception will follow at the Brunswig residence.

Mme. Odemour's husband was Capt. Bernard Odemour of the French artillery, who went to the front Aug. 1, 1914, the first day of the great war, and was killed in the battle front twenty-eight days later. His little son was born the following April. Mme. Odemour is highly connected socially in Paris.

Aimar de Turenne is a lineal descendant of Marshal de Turenne, one of the distinguished leaders of French armies in the seventeenth century-period of Louis XIV. He now resides in Seattle, where his father is president of one of its largest banks.

FOCH RECEPTION PLANS COMPLETE

F. Roller, a veteran of the Spanish War, followed by Marshal Foch, whose car will be distinguished by its lack of ornate decorations and by the flag of the Marshal of France. Six French officers of high rank and six representatives of the American Legion, who are in charge of the marshal's national tour, and the heads of committees of the general civic committee and the American Legion will conclude the parade.

Cars in the parade will be numbered and only those cars officially chosen will be admitted to the line. Certain visiting mayors and dignitaries of foreign Allied countries will also be in the parade.

Figueroa between Washington and Santa Barbara avenue has been designated as the most desirable point of vantage for the public to congregate to secure a "close up" of the guest of honor and to witness the parade.

The reception at 3528 West Adams preceding the parade is to be strictly an ex-service men's affair. Admission to the grounds will be to those in uniform, by Legion button, by Legion card and to those wearing the Victory Medal only. Special arrangements have been made for all disabled veterans to occupy seats close to Marshal Foch. Refreshments will be served to the disabled veterans by the Women's Auxiliary of the Los Angeles Post No. 8 and Victory Post No. 54, American Legion.

TO ENTERTAIN GUEST.

Entertainment during the luncheon hour at the Ambassador is to be furnished by the "Sammy Sisters," Kaiper's orchestra of Victory Post, Mme. Constance Balfour, star of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, Mme. Francis Gray, also of the Metropolitan, who sang for Marshal Foch in New York City and Ester Rhodes, harpist.

All veteran organizations wishing to be assigned places on the race track for the Exposition Park reception are requested to communicate with P. F. Roller, phone 15266. Also all R.O.T.C. units are requested to get in touch with Col. Clark, care of the Board of Education, 814 Security Building.

A suite of rooms set aside for the comfort of Marshal Foch at the Ambassador is to be especially set and decorated in the style of the Louis Seize period, as a tribute and pleasing surprise. Learning that the guest of honor is a lover of the arts of that particular period in French history, General Manager Frank of the Ambassador Corporation and Manager Boice are planning to make a real feature of this suite.

PROBATION GRANTED.

Former Legion Adjutant Evades Jail Term.

Sidney F. Schumacher, accused of embezzling a sum variously estimated at between $500 and $1000 while adjutant of Post No. 8, American Legion, was granted probation yesterday by Superior Judge Houser for a period of three years. A number of prominent people appeared in Schumacher's behalf asking that despite the protests of Legion officials, the man be granted probation. The report of the probation officers states that the Legion had no system of accounting. Schumacher was arrested at Reno after leaving this city.

CHANGES IN INCOME TAX LAW SHOWN

Some Exemptions Increase and Large Allowance for Children is Made.

The new income tax law, which became effective November 23 at 2:50 p.m., is being studied by Collector Carter and his force of internal revenue agents with a view of its intelligent enforcement. There are many important changes Mr. Carter stated yesterday, that will interest the average taxpayer.

As under the old law, there is an exemption of $1000 for every unmarried person, but the exemption of $2000 under the old law is increased to $2500 for married persons, provided the income is less than $5000. If it is more than $5000, the exemption is but $2000, as under the former enactment. The allowance for each dependent child is increased from $200 to $400.

The surtax, under the old law was as follows: 1 per cent on all sums from $5000 to $6000; 2 per cent, from $6000 to $8000, and 3 per cent from $8000 to $10,000. Under the new law it is 1 per cent on all incomes from $6000 to $10,000.

All these taxes are operative from and after January 1, 1921, and returns made next year must be prepared in accordance therewith. These returns must be made between January 1 and March 15, 1922.

The transportation tax is repealed on Jan. 1, 1923, and there will be no collection of taxes on tickets after that date, but transportation companies making a report not later than March 15, 1922 will include the collections on this account for the present year.

The most of what are known as the luxury taxes are repealed, but a few are transferred to the manufacturers' taxes.

The excess profits tax is repealed on Jan. 1, 1922, and those liable for such tax will pay that year for 1921, but will not pay in 1923, or thereafter, under the present law.

DRY AGENT LEAVES.

Wheeler to Join Bay City Force After Vacation.

H. C. Wheeler of San Francisco, who has been connected with the prohibition enforcement force for some months, left yesterday morning on his annual vacation. He will not come back to Los Angeles, but will join the force in San Francisco. He was originally sent here by State Prohibition Agent Mitchell. Mr. Wheeler will be succeeded by Frank Driscoll, for twenty years connected with the internal revenue force in Montana and Idaho. It is understood that there will be other changes in the enforcement agents here, but the shift will have no effect on D. J. O'Leary, who will continue on the job.

The arrests for violation of the prohibition law just now are made almost entirely by members of the city police force.

Domestic Life Too Strenuous, Says U.S. Sailor

Life on the bounding main is not so smooth as it might be, but the roll of the waves is tranquillity itself compared with the ups and downs of domestic life, according to a divorce suit filed yesterday by Chester M. Lash, bandmaster on the U.S.S. Idaho, against Rebecca A. Lash.

When Mr. Lash visited his home, he complains, he was forced to do the housework and wash the dishes. Then, to make it worse, his wife sued him for divorce, charging that he was like the proverbial sailor with a sweetheart in every port. This suit was dismissed, however, but now Mr. Lash asks that the ties be cut.

The complaint, which was prepared by Attorney Frederick M. Hall, states that the couple were married in June, 1920, and separated May 8, this year.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Elizabeth Jordan's Column.

OUR CLOSE-MOUTHED YOUNG.

In a recent novel by a leading author there is a character who utters one refrain every time a son or daughter comes near him.

"Nobody ever tells me anything," he says wistfully.

It is true that nobody does. Everyone in the family keeps all the family cares from him for fear that he may worry. Therefore, the man, unquestioned head of his family in his day and now a prisoner of age, in the silent, affectionate circle, worries all the time. He suspects that things are all wrong or there would not be this secrecy, and he imagines that new and great troubles are constantly coming up.

THOSE SECRETIVE YOUNGSTERS.

Today a similar condition exists in many of our American homes, especially in those where the young still nest a year or two before going out into the world or into homes of their own. But they are already as independent and as self-sufficient as if they had gone, and they are close-mouthed with their parents to a degree that is amazing.

Mabel, the 18-year-old debutante daughter of an adoring mother, and who no longer dreams of making a confidante of that devoted lady, was kind enough to give me the other day a brief insight into her mental processes.

"I keep my affairs to myself," she said coolly, when the subject came up. "For one reason, mother simply wouldn't understand them. Her standards are very narrow. Another reason is that she would worry, and begin to ask questions—and it took me a whole year to break her of the habit of asking questions, so I certainly don't want to start her up again! Of course it hasn't anything to do with my affection for her," she hastened to add.

THE YOUNG MAN'S SIDE.

Her brother, a youth two years older than she, looked a little shocked by his sister's bluntness and tried to palliate it.

"None of us tells much to the old folks nowadays, I fancy," he cheerfully began (the "old folks" in his case being a mother and father of 40 and 42) "but it isn't always for Mabel's reasons. In my own case I found that if I opened up to either father or mother, I was immediately flooded by advice. Now, the point I am making, and I am making it with all due respect, is that, to be brutally frank, their advice doesn't help me!

"The whole world has been made over since mother was Mabel's age and father was mine," he went on, warming to his subject. "They haven't the slightest conception of the difference between conditions then and now. They haven't the least suspicion of what we are up against. But they think they have. And, if we let them, they would put us into leading strings and keep us there, and give us advice from morning till night."

NO ADVICE WANTED.

"So that's why the girls and boys of today are so careful to keep their interests to themselves, is it?" I asked.

"That's why," said the lad promptly. "Ask almost any fellow or girl in our position and you will get the same answer. Our fathers and mothers are always fussing because we don't tell them things. They would fuss a whole lot more when we did and no one would be helped in any way.

"You see," he ended grandiloquently, "we've struck new conditions all along the line. They're mighty serious conditions. Great Scott, if you knew what we young folks are up against sometimes. But the point is that in this particular period of the world's history young people have to stand on their own feet more than ever before. Wasn't it on us you called to save the world? Didn't we save it—or some of it, anyhow? When we did that," he added solemnly, "we won our individual freedom. We can't be put back into the cradle. That's all there is to all the talk you hear about young folks not confiding in their parents any more."

"It seems a good deal," I meekly commented.

To Help the World.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The business situation of the world seems to be in a tangle; especially confusing seems to be the question what to do with the loans due the United States from European countries. The statement has occurred with more and more frequency that the United States should cancel these loans. It does not seem to me that this would be wise, and I do not see how this alone would help the present depression in business.

What I should propose is the following: Let the loans stand as they are, but let the United States, whenever any amount is paid, be it great or small, give to these countries the merchandise they need so much, even, if necessary, to the full amount or value of the money they have paid on their loan. This would mean that the money paid to us by European countries would be immediately invested in products of this country and returned to European nations. Thus we would help ourselves while at the same time helping others. Suppose, for instance, that France pays us $5,000,000 on its indebtedness. Then suppose that France needs wheat and cotton. See how it would help the farms at once by having this money invested in their products. France would also be helped by giving to it the things it does not raise itself, in a manner that would be bound to aid its people in regaining their full equilibrium.

Other countries would receive other products, so that in each instance the money paid us, being returned in the form of merchandise, would be used to build up that country and would not become a source of depletion. Our own people, on the other hand, would be benefited as much as the European countries, and it would not be long before the spectre of business depression would be routed from the entire world.

I believe many of us would feel, if this plan were carried out, that we had solved a delicate and difficult situation, and that the sense of mutual respect between this country and the nations of Europe had been much enhanced.

Of course this plan is given "in the rough," but I believe it needs but little revision. It is broadly honorable and it is more important right now than the Disarmament Conference. "Let's carry on."

S. F. SWANTEES.

Still a Live Question.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—[To The Editor of The Times:] From the newspapers and articles that appear from time to time in the various periodicals and magazines, to say nothing of the numerous remarks and conversations that one hears on all sides, it would seem that the question of prohibition is still beofre us, and I think it is safe to say that as long as three-quarters of the globe remains wet, it always will be before us.

I wonder how many of those indorsing prohibition have analyzed the story of the Garden of Eden and that unfortunate episode of the forbidden fruit. Human nature is human nature and has not changed since the days of Adam and Eve. These extreme reformers argue that prohibition has helped the cause of the workingman—that he now has more money, is better clothed and that his family is better off. Prohibition has done no such thing, but the abolition of the saloon has, and this weak and misleading argument is still floated around in the faces of those who do not seem to have enough intelligence to see beyond the tip of their noses.

Another equally absurd argument is that the coming generation will grow up knowing nothing of liquor, etc., or the manufacture thereof. In the first place, may I ask, if a previous generation discovered all about the making of liquors, what guarantee have we that a future generation will not discover it all over again, and perhaps a great deal better than we ever conceived. As to their last argument—that is a direct lie, for half the homes in the country have stills, wine presses and beer-making appliances and therefore the rising generation is brought up in actual contact with the making of liquor, and that of a very inferior quality.

Prohibition may be enforced in communities, where, on account of the sentiment of that community there is little or no need of enforcement, but in communities that are opposed to it, it never can be enforced. It is silly for the prohibitionists to argue that other laws are violated, but everyone knows, even those who violate them, that murder, burglary, stealing, swindling, etc., etc., is a sin and a crime, yet how many people would you find that say that taking a drink is a sin, and what is not a sin you cannot make a crime—therefore millions upon millions will violate this law and continue to violate it.

We will admit that the Eighteenth Amendment is a part of the Constitution and should be respected by every law-abiding citizen, but only an imbecile can have any respect for the Volstead Act. Nature itself laughs to scorn such benighted fanaticism.

CHARLES D. HUNT.

Calls it Business.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—[To the editor of The Times:] It is with a feeling of relief, not to say satisfaction, that I note that the ministers of this city have risen as only the ministers of this city can, and have denounced in no uncertain words the plan of holding a parade in honor of Marshal Foch on Sunday. It would certainly be regrettable after having acted in a consistent manner for years to have failed in this hour of crisis and not denounced a celebration such as this.

It has opened a much-needed way for other organizations. For years the merchants in the downtown district have been injured by parades. It is a well-known fact that sales in department stores drop as much as fifty per cent on parade days. But heretofore the merchants have been powerless to act. Had they said that their business was being lessened by parades the public would, not doubt, have turned an unsympathetic ear and had their parades anyway.

But now the ice has been broken—a great step forward has been taken. The ministers have denounced the parade because it would interfere with their "business." It would keep people away from the churches. And being kept away, the collection boxes would not be filled in their customary manner. And not being filled no revenue would be derived and, as a whole, conditions would be very much upset.

And what would be gained? Why, a great deal. The event would be heralded throughout the country, yes, the world, that Los Angeles is a great religious city, that our belief in God and humanity has been developed to such an extent that we would not alter our mode of living to pay homage to one of the greatest men of the times. We would most certainly advertise ourselves as "good," but it would be the goodness of a bigot.

No, ministers of Los Angeles, religion is more than mere lipdevotion; it is something in the heart, in the mind and in the soul. If all our churches were to close on Sunday and their congregations turned out to welcome Foch, a greater sermon would be preached than has ever been uttered from a local pulpit. It would be the tribute to a people to a man who went through hell for right, for a principal. It would be a tribute to a man who opposed the army of Satan, who opposed the force that tried to overthrow the decent, the respectable and the believers in the justice of God.

But why go on? As has been said, the Los Angeles ministers have run true to form.

EARL SPRING.

No Hope In Mind.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Although thousands of your readers may rise to call me iconoclast, ikon-smasher and perhaps a few other unpleasant names, I would appreciate space in your valuable paper in which to voice my protest against our so-called civilization and to say that the curse of the world, from the beginning of time, has been the madness to know.

To know what? Ah, there's the crux of the whole matter! We do not know what it is that we want to know, yet in our inordinate desire to acquire knowledge our minds greedily swallow every morsel of relative knowledge that crosses our mental path in the hope that one day we will know everything and be satisfied.

I submit that this is a sad illusion, and that mankind's attempt to gain contentment or happiness through the acquisition of knowledge, and the consequent acquisition of substance and power, is but an evidence of lack of wisdom. The dissection or analyzation of phenomena proves nothing because there is no criterion of certainty concerning any quality of the thing examined nor of the intellect that examines it. The mind knows nothing of itself, does not know whether the thing analyzed is real or illusory, and cannot define the difference between reality and illusion. Thus, the attempt to establish any fact or principle is defeated at the outset.

An example of the folly of trying to understand life through mental effort is to be found in the astronomer. To study the stars is a pleasant pastime, no doubt, but can a man be called really learned in stellar wisdom simply because he knows (or thinks he knows) the names, dimensions, construction and distances of only 1000 planets when, according to astronomy, there are untold millions of planets floating and whirling through the immensity of space? It may be that back of all thought and all substance there is a Something that knows and knows it knows. If that be the case, then man's only refuge is in the identification of himself, his will and consciousness of that Something. However, one thing seems certain, and that is that our madness to know is leading us into deeper and deeper quagmires of confusion from which even God (if there be one) may find it difficult to extricate us.

Christ said that man must become as a little child if he would enter the Kingdom. Instead of taking His advice on this matter, we have been trying "to become as gods," and the result is a distracted social order of humanity which in its blindness labels itself Civilization and proudly boasts of its perverted progress.

J. T. ESCALON.

Has Bone to Pick.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] May I pick a little bone with Alma Whitaker? For in yesterday's issue of your wonderful paper, under "The Last Word," it is stated:

"There is too much practical discretion in Princess Mary's choice to win much sentimental acclamation"—now that she has chosen the man of her choice.

If Princess Mary is marrying for money, for money's sake, then it is to help the royal family, for we have just read about the King having asked permission to sell some of his estates to keep things going, to keep up appearances. The royal family are feeling the pinch and King George, rather than ask his people through Parliament to allow him a further increase in the allowances, wishes to realize on some of his property. England should be very proud of its King.

If—mark the word well—if it is for money's sake that Princess Mary is going to marry one of England's finest men, then it is also for the sake of the family, but I cannot and will not believe this, for King George loves his children far too well to ever allow any one of them to sacrifice their happiness on his account.

Alma Whitaker says the Princess ought to have eloped with her chauffeur or should have selected either a prince or a pauper. This is rot from A to Z. Should Princess Mary so forget herself to carry out an elopement, either with some prince, or say, an American "Banana" King, or American "Chewing Gum" King, despite the millions, then the people of England would be up in arms, they would be mad, they would be shocked and would never forgive.

How many rich American beauties have netted English dukes, lords or barons, have planked down fabulous sums to buy a title? But Princess Mary—God bless the girl!—has stepped in and won a rich viscount and believe me, despite the great difference in ages, she would not marry this man unless she loved him.

The Princess is proud, many say she is haughty, but I think dignity is the right term, and as one of the leading ladies of the world this is her right. She is ever ready to help and has worked very hard indeed for the poor in England—this "haughty" Princess.

Get into the habit of writing nice things about people and you will do a lot of good, whilst the majority of readers will be thankful. To quote Emerson: "If you should transfer the amount of your reading day by day from the newspapers to the standard authors—but who dare speak of such a thing?"

H. L. JONES.

Can't See the Difference.

CORONA, Dec. 1. — [To the Editor of The Times:] I was much pleased with your recent editorial, "Prophets of Evil," relative to the Hearst papers, and also with the one concerning the bandit, Roy Gardner. I confess, however, I do not quite see the consistency of your condemnation of Hearst, while at the same time you publish such matter as appeared in in recent issues under the heads, "Japan Convinced" and "John Bull's Big Program," for they are of the same type, though somewhat milder, as the Brisbane articles you condemn, cynical, full of intimations that Japan and England have ulterior motives, and in every way calculated to cast discredit on them. Also, why does not Harry Carr's recent interview with Mrs. Obenchain, and the sloppy stuff he wrote about her "fatal gift of beauty" and her "eyes like a stricken antelope," etc., ad nauseam, belong in the same category with the eulogies of Gardner? I am honest in saying I wish you would write us another editorial pointing out wherein the difference lies.

WOMAN A HOG KILLER.

Mrs. Thomas Sladek, mother of six children, most of whom are small, testified in Police Court that she worked in the hog-killing room at one of the packing-houses, received 45 cents per hour for her work and supported her husband and her six children. She charged her husband with abusing his family.

The work in the hog house performed by Mrs. Sladek is usually done by men. It is hard work, and the woman seemed small and fragile for such strenuous labor.

Sladek, according to his wife, has not worked for two years, but the hogs, chickens and family cat amuses himself by taking care of and by abusing his family. Sladek was given the next ninety-day sentence in the County Jail. [Omaha World-Herald.

CLUB WOMEN TO PAY TRIBUTES.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. Robertson Tomorrow.

Ebell Members Mourn Loss of Former President.

Death Follows Operation for Painful Malady.

Funeral services for Mrs. Matthew S. Robertson, officer of several women's clubs and known by club women throughout the State, who died at 6 a.m., yesterday at the Good Samaritan Hospital, following a brief illness, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m., in St. John's Church by Dr. George Davidson, the rector. Cremation will follow. At 4 p.m., Sunday members of the Ebell Club, of which Mrs. Robertson formerly was president, will hold memorial exercises in the clubhouse.

At the sunset services at the Ebell Club, members who knew Mrs. Robertson intimately will take part. Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, closely associated with her for many years and who served this year with Mrs. Robertson on the advisory board, will make a short address. Gertrude Ross, composer and pianist, will have charge of the musical program. A trio, of cello, harp and violin will play. The Jameson quartet will sing and at the close, Mrs. Harmon Ryus will play Handel's Largo, a recessional.

FOLLOWS OPERATION.

Mrs. Robertson's death followed an operation in an effort to relieve a serious and painful disorder. She was removed from her home, 701 South Van Ness avenue, a week ago and the operation was performed Saturday. She had been ill for more than a year, but regaining much of her health at the close of the summer, she became president of the newly-formed Woman's Athletic Club.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Robertson was Miss Margaret E. Skelly of Georgia, of the old Southern family of that name. She was born Nov. 16, 1862. She came here more than twenty years ago and soon joined the Galpin Shakespeare Club, becoming its president. She was a profound student of the great dramatist and could recite much of his works.

MADE PARLIAMENTARIAN.

She was active in the Woman's Parliament in existence at that time, and after formation of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, became its parliamentarian. She was urged to run for the presidency of the State federation at the last convention, but declined because of her high opinion of the candidates already in the field.

Mrs. Robertson became affiliated with the Ebell Club in 1900. She served as recording secretary from 1904 to 1906, as vice-president from 1916 to 1918, becoming president in the latter year. She served two years, preceding Mrs. Charles H. Toll, the inumbent.

Mrs. Robertson leaves a widower and a son, W. Ardis Robertson; Thomas Skelly, an attorney of Calhoun, Ga., is a brother.

The first few days of the rally were given over to the securing of members among the girls and women in commercial houses, stores and offices. Activities now are to be carried into the residential sections, to reach the girls who live at home, the mothers and the housewives.

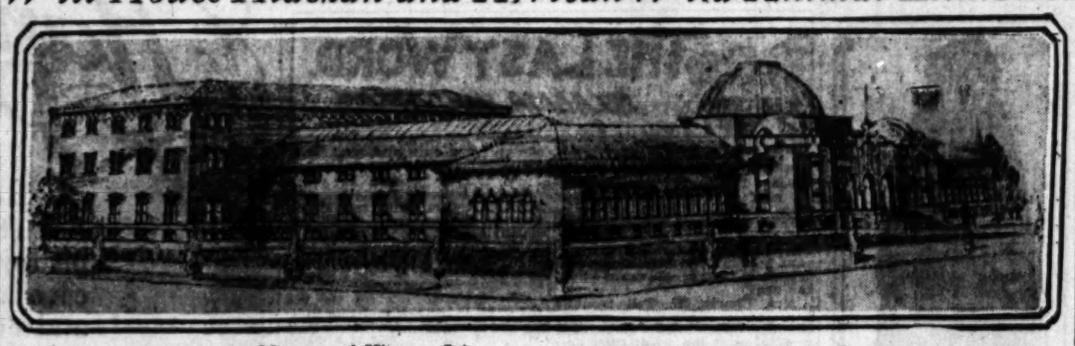
The downtown headquarters have been closed and from now on the membership rally will be directed from the association's building at 941 South Figueroa street.

Funds secured through membership will go toward the proposed building, which will be one of the most modern in the country.

DESPONDENT MAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Despondent because of ill health and business troubles, Sol Amstell, 42 years of age, of 248 South Olive street, a newspaper circulation man, shot himself in the head yesterday afternoon after locking himself in his apartment. The body was found by others in the house and the police notified. It was removed to the Pierce undertaking establishment.

Will House Alaskan and African Wild Animal Exhibits.



County Museum of History, Science and Art, with Proposed Addition in Rear.

BUILDING PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED

County to Spend Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars on Structure.

Architect's plans for the new $350,000 addition to the Museum of History, Science and Art in Exposition Park were made public yesterday. When completed the building will house one of the finest collections of wild animals in the world, according to officials of the museum.

The Alaskan animals were shot by Supervisor McClellan and his party. The African exhibit will represent the prowess of Leslie Simpson, wealthy Alameda county man. The third shipment of African wild animals has reached Exposition Park. There are 151 specimens and thirty-two species of wild animals.

The main portion of the building which is to house the animal groups will be three stories in height, 160 by 170 feet. It will be connected with the present museum building by an addition to be used as an art room, 76 by 80 feet.

Later on it is proposed by those in charge to extend the new addition and the wings as additional floor space is needed for the wild animal specimens.

Mr. Simpson, who has been in Africa many months, expects to arrive home about January 1.

NO SMOKING IN THEATER LAW URGED.

Fire Board Asks Council to Pass Ordinance; Would Extend Parking Zone.

Smoking in Los Angeles theaters and motion-picture houses will be unlawful hereafter if the City Council adopts the recommendation of Fire Chief Scott and the Board of Fire Commissioners. Chief Scott told the fire commissioners that his recommendation against smoking was made in the interest of fire prevention and public safety.

The fire commissioners also forwarded to the City Council a recommendation made by Chief Scott and approved by the board asking that the City Council prohibit the parking of vehicles on First street between Hill street and Grand avenue; on Second street, between Hill and Grand avenue; on Fourth street, between Hill and Grand avenue, and on Fifth street between Grand avenue and Hope street. The Fire Chief complained that particularly on First, Fourth and Fifth streets, due to the grade on these streets, automobiles are parked at right angles to the curbs, making only a narrow lane through which the fire apparatus and other traffic must pass, and that this practice interferes with the work of the fire department and constitutes a menace to public safety.

MAYOR ACTS TO SAVE HISTORIC ADOBE HOUSE

ONE OF TWO IN GRIFFITH PARK TO BE PRESERVED BY CITY.

Mayor Cryer conferred yesterday afternoon with President Bowen of the Board of Park Commissioners, regarding the disposition to be made of the two historic adobe houses in Griffith Park, destruction of which has been opposed by the Native Sons of the Golden West. The park board had already started to demolish the two-story adobe structure, known as the Lizzie Baldwin house, which was built in 1880, to make way for extensions of the municipal golf links.

Following the protest of the Native Sons, Mayor Cryer ordered the work stopped until an investigation could be made. As the result of yesterday's conference, efforts will be made to convince the Native Sons that no useful service could be accomplished by restoring the Baldwin house, and to secure the organization's approval to the board's plan to restore the smaller of the adobe houses, which was built in 1856, and place a caretaker in the house.

It will cost $2000 to restore each of the houses and the Finance Committee of the City Council has shown an unwillingness to appropriate the sum for rebuilding the larger house.

GIVES HIM CHANCE.

Man Tells Mate He is Going Back to First Love; She Sues.

Harold F. Wheeler is said to have told his wife, Lela M. Wheeler, that he had a "real sweetheart," that he was going back to his "first love," that he was going to marry again and the bride would be his "original love." Mrs. Wheeler is going to give her husband a chance, it would seem, for she sued him for divorce yesterday. She is represented by Attorney Clyde Doyle. The complaint recites that the couple were married Jan. 20, 1919, and separated last July 16.

WAREHOUSE FIRE LAID TO ARSON.

Investigators Find Blaze Started in Five Places; Loss Quarter Million

Police detectives and officials from the fire department yesterday established that the fire which damaged to the extent of $250,000 a department store warehouse at Second street and Central avenue early Wednesday evening was started by incendiaries. Police Detectives Bean and Smith and Capt. Enos of the fire department said yesterday morning their investigation shows the blaze broke out in five different places in the warehouse at the same time.

From persons living near the warehouse, the investigating officers learned that two men were seen about the building just before the fire was discovered. When the police and firemen arrived at the burning building the front doors of the establishment were locked, but three fires were burning inside the building and two on the outside.

For more than three hours ten fire companies fought the blaze from all four sides of the building. Several firemen were overcome by smoke and a number were injured by falling glass.

The Jewish Consumptive Relief Association of California has adopted resolutions lamenting the death of its former president, B. Forer, and extending sympathy to his family and friends.

OLD ROSTER FOUND.

Stanton Post G.A.R. Given Interesting Relic.

A printed roster of Stanton Post, No. 55, G.A.R., printed in 1886, at a time when the post listed only three on its roll of deceased members, was found yesterday afternoon by R. E. Groh of 502 West First street, when he was working at the demolition of the old adobe house on the Capt. Clarke Rancho at what is now the corner of Eighth and Slauson avenues.

At the time the roster was printed the G.A.R. post members met in the old Masonic Hall at 229½ South Spring street. The post then boasted of 151 members, many of whom have since become known as leaders during the pioneer times in Los Angeles.

The Relief Corps of the post had sixty-nine active members when this yellowed roster was printed thirty-five years ago.

SALESWOMAN ARRESTED

Realty Buyer Charges She Was Victimized.

Irene B. Wilson, a saleswoman formerly in the employ of George W. Race, realty broker, is accused of accepting a commission for the sale of five lots to Grace E. Murphy, without having previously taken out an agent's license. Following an investigation by Commissioner Keiser of the State Real Estate Department, to whom Miss Murphy, who says she was the victim of misrepresentation and sharp practice in the lot transaction, complained, the saleswoman was taken into custody. She later was released on her own recognizance.

DICTIONARIES MOVING FAST.

The demand for the New Universities Dictionary, which The Times is distributing among readers at wholesale price continues to grow from day to day, yesterday's sales being the largest so far recorded. "Repeat orders" are now in evidence, many business men buying extra copies for home use.

Almost everyone has expressed surprise at the quality of the books and their many attractive features. They are bound in semi-limp covers resembling black seal grain leather, good paper with round corners and red edges, and the type is scientifically arranged to promote rapid use.

Three dictionary coupons must be presented at the time of purchase. Today's coupon appears elsewhere in this issue of The Times, and is self-explanatory.

This Hero Told to Quit Telling of His Exploits.

Jack Torpy, who was brought in from Santa Monica charged with insanity, was told by Judge Weyl of the Lunacy Commission yesterday, to take off the uniform he wore and stop telling what a hero he is. The complaint stated that Torpy, 19 years of age, had an erratic idea of his status in the Army.

He told the commission he had been overseas and was a dispatch rider in France. While carrying dispatches, he said, he had shot sixty-eight Germans to his knowledge. How many more he did not know.

Dr. Ross Moore, who has been in France, checked up on the lad's stories and confounded him. Torpy at last admitted he had been in the Navy for a time, and had never been in France.

MORE ANSWERED LETTERS.

"V.": Will you please suggest some simple refreshment that I can serve in the evening to a young man who is calling for the first time? And please tell me just how to serve it and whether I should always serve something to young men who call in the evening."

Answer: A generous slice of layer cake will be appreciated by the young man, and is the thing most easily served. I would advise you to learn to make this yourself and ask him if he would like to "sample" the result of your efforts. Wait until he has spent a good part of the evening with you, then go out into your pantry, cut two slices of cake, place the slices on two small, fancy plates with a fork lying on each plate, and return to the living-room with these two plates. Hand the young man a small luncheon napkin with the plate, and use one yourself.

It is a nice custom for a young girl to serve something such as this when she knows a young man intends to call on her; when a young man calls unexpectedly, the girl can make cocoa and serve it with bought cookies or crackers, if she has no cake on hand. Again, a young girl can entertain her caller very successfully by letting him make candy with her on the kitchen stove or in a chafing dish on the dining-room table. Young men appreciate such hospitality as this and I think it is especially nice for a girl to serve simple home refreshments to young men who frequently take her out to the theater or entertain her otherwise.

Unsigned: "Kindly tell me what will take grease out of wall paper."

A.: Place a piece of clean blotting paper over the grease spot on the wall paper, and press a hot iron against the blotter; in this way the heat from the iron goes through the blotter and dissolves the grease on the wall paper, which is absorbed by the blotter.

A reader of your paper: "Please state in your column if it is necessary to peel the green tomatoes in making the old time chow-chow, you printed recently? Also tell me how to can string beans."

A.: No, it is not necessary to skin the green tomatoes. Send for my printed article on cold pack canning, which will tell you how to can all the fruits and vegetables, including string beans. If it is too late for you to use it this year, you will at least have it for next summer.

A. B. C.: "I have made grape juice preparatory to making grape jelly, but the juice is covered with sharp particles like bits of glass. What is it? And how am I to get rid of it? If I heat it and strain again through cheesecloth before adding sugar, will this remove the particles or will they form again in the jelly?"

Answer: You were wise to write me before going ahead. If you had heated the juice you would have undone a great deal of good. The juice of any fruit which is bottled to use later for jelly making must have no sugar added to it. When grape juice is bottled in this way, crystals will form from the tartaric acid in it. The thing to do after the crystals have formed and settled, is to pour off the juice very carefully so as not to disturb the sediment which contains these crystals. Then you can go ahead and make your grape jelly from the juice. The crystals have formed in the juice, so you will not be annoyed by their forming in the jelly—you have gotten rid of them.

[All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the Efficient Housekeeping department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or prompt reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be inclosed with the question.—The Editor.]

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 13—Strike Safety Matches Without Box.

It is commonly supposed that a safety match can only be struck on the box. A neat little stunt is to strike one on the sole of the shoe, and then challenge any one to duplicate the feat, which they will be unable to do.

The secret is quite simple. The side of a match box was previously rubbed against the sole of the shoe, at the instep. Some of the substance is thus transferred from the box to the shoe, and the striking of the match becomes a simple matter. As the instep does not touch the ground the application will not wear off for some time.

Beauty Doctor Made Her Ugly, Says Miss Hall.

Miss Pauline Hall yesterday brought suit in Superior Judge McCormick's court against Mrs. Gertrude Steele, beauty specialist, for $15,365 damages, charging that the beauty doctor damaged rather than enhanced her beauty.

Miss Hall, with her eyes filled with tears, told how she had gone to Mrs. Steele to have her lower lip shortened and how, after the operation, a motion-picture director had told her that she looked uncanny. She said that her lower lip now droops, exposing her teeth, and gives her an ugly appearance.

Miss Hall described the operation in detail. It took just sixteen minutes. She said that her eyes were covered while the doctor scooped out the corners of her mouth. Before the operation she was earning $60 a week, she declared, but since that time she has earned much less because of her altered appearance.

FEE SUSPENSION URGED.

Suspension of the $10 fee charged by American Consuls for vising passports of Mexicans coming into this country was recommended by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, on condition that the same action be taken by Mexican officials for the American traveling public. The foreign trade and harbor committee of the chamber favored the action and reported that the El Paso chamber also indorses the change.

May is said to have written Mr. Lowe:

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Most of our club presidents possess devoted, well-raised husbands. Thoroughly nice, successful men often give the credit of their success to their wives, so perhaps our successful club presidents can return the compliment. No woman with a foolish, extravagant husband can hope to make a successful club president—now, can she?

Mrs. Charles H. Toll is quite prepared to admit that Mr. Toll's complete worthiness made her presidency of the Ebell Club possible. She thinks she is a little too plump, but he thinks she is just right. If he had wanted her skinny, it would have taken all her time "reducing" and she could never have attained the form so essential in an efficient club president.

But Mrs. Toll has never really seen her husband yet. You see, ever since she married him he has maintained Charles Evans Hughes's whiskers. But he used to be tall and svelte. Now he weighs nearly 200 pounds—which speaks well for the housekeeping of Mme. President. He has promised that when he turns the scale at 200 pounds he will shave off the whiskers and permit her to see exactly what kind of a man she married. Of course, she may prefer absentee whiskers, but there used to be a maxim to the effect that "a kiss without a mustache was like an egg without salt."

Mrs. E. H. Brooks, president of the Women's University Club, also possesses a devoted husband, who simply revels in his wife's distinction. The surest way to his heart is to explain how much you admire his wife.

Mrs. Andrew Stewart Lobingier, president of the Friday Morning Club, enjoys the same happy condition. She is a bit of an autocrat down at the club, but rumor hath it that she is the quintessence of domestic docility at home—gets it all out of her system at the club. She does all the family marketing and has a very proper respect for the inner man. There may be some dispute as to cause and effect—as to whether Mrs. Lobingier's domestic virtues are responsible for Dr. Lobingier's reputation for marital gallantry or his gallantry responsible for Mme. President's club efficiency, but the happy result is abundantly evident.

Or take Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith, president of the Philanthropy and Civics Club. How could she ever shine so valiantly if she had not a devoted spouse at home? Even when he was lord high nabob of the Elks, he found ample time to "do her behests in pleasure or in pain" and loyally maintain her prestige at its shining zenith. But he, too, looks peculiarly well nourished and Lillian is as competent in the kitchen as she ever was on a platform. Ever tasted her cakes?

Mrs. Matthew Robertson and Mrs. E. R. Brainard, two distinguished ex-presidents, are both equally happy in adoring husbands. So are Mrs. J. B. Stearns and Mrs. Clarence Van Graham, president and ex-president of the Woman's City Club, respectively.

The out-of-town clubs are just the same. Take Mrs. Louis Matthews, president of the Covina Woman's Club. She is a queen whose husband is an adoring subject.

Yet we can all remember when the men dreaded the advent of the woman's club and anticipated the end of happy domesticity. But show me a club president's husband and I will show you a proud and happy man. And one of the proudest and happiest of all is Maj. J. A. Osgood, husband of the president emeritus of the Friday Morning Club, who has been a club husband since the beginning of clubs, and still sings, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" to his wife on her birthdays.

By the way, in the present alarming shortage of telephones, there is just one sure way of getting one installed pronto. An expectant mamma has prior claims which even a telephone company recognizes as peremptory. This gives us a pull that no man can ever claim.

All the same, of course, it is a trifle expensive. A certain club president who is without a phone is understood to have declared she simply can't afford one under the circumstances.

I see a local sob-sister is writing up "the handsomest man in the County Jail," and remarking upon his "finely manicured, expressive hands." She writes so sympathetically about his indignation at being kept in jail when he feels he should be out on bail.

So this squares things a little for Madalynne and Lolo.

A male writer is alarmed because the average American family now numbers four, where it was formerly five in 1880 and six in 1870.

And yet a Denver judge recommended the mother of five babies in eight years to submit to sterilization.

This business of being a woman is still a little complicated.

A man who "talked too much"—and talked himself out of several successive jobs—has just been sent to jail.

But this is a strictly feminine joke.

The Valentino divorce is interesting because Rudolph Valentino is the screen's pet caveman—such a dashing, dominating male—on the screen. And apparently his wife left him after but a few hours of matrimony.

So maybe this new masculine vogue for "beating us up" doesn't cut much ice after all. Perchance we had better hesitate before raising our sons "to be a caveman." We shouldn't like the dear boys to have anything to reproach us for.

Sir Roger de Coverly (Or the Old Virginia Reel)

Appropriate music is played during movements A, B, C. The dancers choose partners; couples are numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, if twelve are in the group. All stand in two lines five feet apart; girls at right, boys or men at left of the room.

Movement A—Girl No. 1 and Man No. 6 advance four steps toward each other, bow and return to place. G. (Girl) No. 6 and M. (man) No. 1 repeat. G. 1 and M. 6 advance, join right hands, turn around once, return to places. G. 6 and M. 1 repeat. G. 1 and M. 6 advance, join left hands, turn once, and return. G. 6 and M. 1 repeat. G. 1 and M. 6 advance, join both hands, turn around once, return. G. 6 and M. 1 repeat. G. 1 and M. 6 advance, pass back to back, return. G. 6 and M. 1 repeat.

Movement B.—Head couple joins hands, arms extended high, slides down center and back to place. Head couple links right arm, turns around, unlinks! Man 1 links left arm with Girl 2; Girl 1 links left arm with Man 3. This is repeated all down the line, partners turning each other with right arms, and turning the succeeding couple with left arms.

Movement C—First couple joins hands, slides to head of set. All couples face forward. Girl 1 leads march outside of girls' line, all girls following. Man 1 does same on other side. All clap hands during march. At the end, Couple 1 joins hands in high arch, under which all couples pass to places. Couple 2, now head-couple, repeats, and so on with 3, 4, 5 and 6 until all are in original places.

ARRIVE IN JANUARY.

They are expected to arrive at this port in January and any refitting and reconditioning that is necessary before starting into service will be done upon them at this port.

Under the management of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, the Aeolus and Huron are expected greatly to increase the tourist and business travel between the islands and Los Angeles. This service is looked upon by local shipping men as the forerunner of a similar service to the Orient, with Los Angeles also as the home port of its ships.

Those who have viewed the combination freighter and passenger vessels of the Shipping Board, popularly known as the 535's, may form some idea of the size of these new vessels for Honolulu service.

The Aeolus is about thirty feet longer than the 535's, while the Huron is about the same length.

PRISONERS FLEE NAVY TRANSPORT

Eight Swim Ashore from Ship Before Departure for Atlantic Coast.

Breaking the deadlight in a small porthole below decks on the Navy transport Henderson, eight general court-martial prisoners of the Marine Corps, being transported from the navy yard at Bremerton, Wash., to the naval prison at Portsmouth, N. H., crawled through the aperture, dove overboard and swam ashore before daybreak yesterday morning. The police throughout Southern California have been notified to be on the lookout for them.

The escaping prisoners, all clad in the prison gray of the Marine Corps, are described by the Navy authorities as desperate characters.

Naval authorities and the police believe the men will endeavor to go to the Mexican border, and strict watch of all roads leading south was kept yesterday.

The fugitives are said to be H. Nolan, E. J. Hoar, C. H. Jennings, R. Ramos, H. D. Letters, R. H. Moore, P. Morsh and E. A. Northrop.

More than 100 naval officers, together with their wives and children, several Army officers and their wives and 120 enlisted men of the Navy left the harbor yesterday on the Henderson, bound for the Atlantic Coast. She will stop at San Diego for additional passengers and will then head direct for Hampton Roads, Va.

On the Henderson's passenger list are ninety-two members of the old Ninth U. S. Cavalry, famous as Pershing's old regiment.

Capt. W. D. Wheeler, Gordon M. Wells, G. D. Watters and C. P. Clark, and Lieuts. C. Welsh, W. C. Cummings, F. J. Dunschmidt and W. Burns from Fort MacArthur also are passengers on the transport.

QUIT UNION PACIFIC.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Otto H. Kahn and Mortimer L. Schiff today resigned from the board of directors of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Real Rest Depends Largely Upon the Depth of Your Sleep

A warning to "light" or "poor" sleepers

The deeper and sounder you sleep the better you feel. Five hours sound refreshing sleep does you more actual good than ten hours restless, disturbed sleep.

This is because the final conversion of food into vital tissue and nerve cells goes on more rapidly when the physical and mental forces are at rest.

You can't get sound, refreshing sleep if your nerves are agitated with tea or coffee. Both these drinks contain caffeine, which is sometimes very irritating to the brain and nervous system.

If you want to know the joy, vigor and stamina that comes to the person who gets sound, healthful sleep, why not stop taking tea or coffee for a while, and drink delicious, invigorating Postum instead.

Thousands of people everywhere have found that this was the only thing they needed in order to bring about these very happy results.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this delightful cereal beverage of coffee-like flavor, for a week. Perhaps, like thousands of others, you'll never be willing to go back to tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

State Witnesses Tell "Death Vigil" Over Kennedy Kept By Two Murder Suspects.

...ays, 'I would like to be just a ...ck farther that way,' and he ...ated south, which would put ...m more directly opposite Ken...dy's office.

"'Well,' he says, 'I would like ...o have that room and I would ...e willing to pay as much as $1 ...day bonus if you can persuade ...e lady to exchange and let me ...ve that room.'"

TAKES ROOM.

Mr. Haley declared he promised ...urch he would ask the woman, ...t that Burch did not change ...oms. He registered for the one ...given him, however. The wit...'s words in explaining one of ...e most vital links in the State's ...se follow:

"Well, after he registered and ...id, he says, 'Now,' he says, 'I ...y not want this room over ...orty-eight hours and,' he says, 'I ...ay want it eight or ten days. ...e then made arrangements ...out getting a refund in case he ...ould check out before the ex...piration of a week.)

"'I want to get familiar with ...e rules of the house,' he says, ...'I don't want to break any rules, ...nd want to get right to start and ...e will be all right all the way.'

"And he said there would be a ...dy that would want to visit him ...n his room and that he would ...ave not to let her remain there ...ger than a half to three-quar...ers of an hour. And I said that ...e were trying to live up to the ...ws of the city of Los Angeles ...nd that I would prefer that he ...ould entertain his company in ...e lobby.

"'Well,' he says, 'that won't do. ...It is necessary that she come up to ...y room and if I agree to prop ...y door open and leave it propped ...ll the time she is in there, and ...ree that she won't stay over a ...alf to three-quarters of an hour, ...nd that the visits will be made in ...e afternoon, will you agree to ...is?'

"Well, I thought it over and I ...id I really couldn't see anything wrong with it and that I would consent to let the lady visit him in the room.

"And he said then, 'Now there is one other thing,' he said, 'I am going to have quite a little running around to do and,' he said, 'I want to know if you know where I can rent a car without a driver. I prefer to do my own driving, rather than to have a chauffeur.'"

Mr. Haley then said he told him in a general way where he could find such a car. It is the prosecution theory that Burch rented such a car and drove it on the night of the murder to Beverly Glen, the scene of the crime.

The witness identified Burch's suit case as being either the same one or one similar to that which Burch brought into the hotel the day he registered.

For a period of several days, according to Mr. Haley, Burch was seen frequently in his room, always sitting in a chair or standing in front of the window, looking across the street toward the Kennedy offices. He seldom went out of the hotel. On three or four occasions the woman he had referred to came to see him.

"Now, with reference to the Sunday (July 24) he rented this room, when was the first day on which this woman came there?" he was asked.

"Well, I would say it was Tuesday."

"State what occurred on that occasion."

"She amply went up to his room and I walked up to the stairway which leads up and peered through to see if he was living up to his agreement to prop the door open, and I didn't pay any more attention to it."

"How was she dressed on that occasion?"

"She wore a sailor hat and had on dark clothes, like a tailored suit."

IDENTIFIES MADALYNNE.

"Do you know who she was or who she is?"

"Mrs. Obenchain."

At the end of the first week Burch again talked of the possibility of his leaving suddenly, and he also asked whether there was an opportunity to become clerk at the hotel, Mr. Haley said.

On the day of the murder Burch was gone from about 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., and during his absence a woman who called herself his cousin called for him. When this message was given to Burch on his return he again left the hotel without going to his room and remained away until about 7:30 p.m., the testimony shows.

He went to his room at that time and returned in about ten minutes carrying "a long package wrapped in newspapers." He was dressed in the same Palm Beach suit and straw hat that he had worn virtually all the time during his stay in Los Angeles, Mr. Haley stated.

Other witnesses testifying during the afternoon were:

J. T. MacLaren, tenant in the Laughlin Building, who told of seeing Burch or a man resembling Burch peering toward the Kennedy offices day after day from a room in the Russell Hotel.

A foundation for the testimony of psychiatrists and alienists in behalf of Burch was laid by Attorneys Schenck and Sullivan during the cross-examination of Mr. MacLaren.

Mr. Sullivan succeeded in drawing out from the witness the statements that Burch stood by the window in the Russell Hotel, watching the Kennedy windows across the street, hour after hour. This, the defense attorneys feel, is an indication of insanity.

James H. McCabe, hotel clerk formerly at the Alexandria, who declared Madalynne Obenchain registered there on July 6.

Ray Emery, assistant manager of the Alexandria, who brought the hotel register page bearing Mrs. Obenchain's signature and the records of her account there from July 6 to August 6, the date she was held as a material witness in the murder case.

UNDERTAKER TESTIFIES.

An undertaker, a colored porter and a commercial agent for the Western Union Telegraph Company, were the witnesses called by the prosecution in the morning to aid in weaving the net of circumstances by which the State hopes to enmesh Burch.

Immediately after Judge Reeve again continued the case of Mrs. Obenchain, Mr. Woolwine called J. W. Musselman as the sixth prosecution witness. Mrs. Obenchain, represented in court by her former husband, Ralph Obenchain, retired from the courtroom, going back to the County Jail over the bridge of sighs.

Mr. Musselman stated that he is a member of the Peck & Chase undertaking firm, and that he prepared the body of Mr. Kennedy for burial. He identified two exhibits as photographs of the dead man. These were the first two exhibits offered for identification by the State, Mr. Schenck did not cross-examine.

PORTER CALLED.

There was a perceptible pause in the proceedings as Mr. Woolwine and Mr. Keyes looked around the courtroom for their next witness.

"If the court will indulge me a moment," said Mr. Woolwine, as he arose and walked down the aisle among the spectators.

"Sanderson! Sanderson!" he called, "Come here."

In walked Mr. Sanderson, a middle-aged colored porter. He took the witness stand and said his name is R. J. Sanderson, that he has been a porter for the Pullman company for fifteen years, and is regularly on the Chicago to Los Angeles run of the Santa Fe.

On last July 21, he had charge of car No. 37, train No. 3, leaving Chicago at 8:05 p.m. In his car, called the Ochelata rode Burch, according to Sanderson's testimony. The witness first took notice of Burch after the train had left Kansas City on the following morning.

CARRIED GUN CASE.

"Did you notice what baggage he had?"

"Yes, he had a large suit case and a gun case."

At the mention of the gun case an audible buzz of many whispers swept the courtroom.

"Are you sufficiently familiar with gun and rifle cases to tell what sort of case that was?"

"Yes, it was a shotgun case."

Virtually everyone looked at Burch. He was apparently in the same good humor that has characterized his attitude throughout the trial. He looked around the room, smiling.

"Did you have any conversation with Burch about the gun case?"

"No, he didn't stay much in the car."

"How did you know it was his gun case? Did you have any conversation about it?"

"No, he didn't say anything; he just told me it was his," came the surprising reply.

SAW BURCH IN JAIL.

Mr. Sanderson said the next time he saw Burch after the trip, which landed them in Los Angeles on Sunday, July 24 was late in August when he identified Burch in the County Jail.

At the close of his direct testimony, Mr. Sanderson identified a large suit case as being similar to one carried by Burch on his trip here.

For more than thirty minutes Mr. Schenck cross-examined the witness and brought out that Mr. Sanderson is a man of remarkable recollection. Once during the vigorous cross-examination as to dates, faces, conversation and incidents, Mr. Sanderson said:

"When I ride for three days with people I handle, I can go around the street and pick 'em out. I remember the faces of everyone I handle."

During his cross-examination Mr. Sanderson looked at Burch. The latter was smiling with his customary grin. Mr. Sanderson took one look, then he capitulated. He smiled—he grinned even more broadly than Burch.

QUESTION WITNESS.

For a long time Mr. Schenck closely questioned the witness as to the dimensions of the shotgun case and Mr. Sanderson declared it was about twenty-six inches long, and about three and a half inches thick. Yes, it had something in it, although he did not know what. It was heavy, anyway.

When the identification was made at the County Jail, Mr. Sanderson picked Burch out, when shown two men, he stated. But he kept out of sight of Burch so the latter could not identify him.

On redirect examination by Mr. Woolwine, Mr. Sanderson was asked:

"But you recognized him then and you still recognize him, don't you?"

"Oh, yes, sir," came the prompt reply, and again Burch and Mr. Sanderson grinned at each other. The crowd in the courtroom laughed aloud.

"Your Honor, this is a trial for murder," interrupted Mr. Woolwine; "this is serious business."

"If there is any more levity, I will take care of it," Judge Reeve responded.

W. M. Laughlin, city commercial agent for the Western Union, was then called, and he identified thirty-one telegrams and accompanying documents as coming from the Western Union. The telegrams were exchanged between Los Angeles, Evanston, Chicago and Seattle. He was on the stand when court adjourned, after the thirty-one messages had been offered for identification, but had not yet been accepted as evidence to be made public.

The other exhibit of the day was a sheet of paper on which were pasted together bits of a telegram found by Mr. Haley in the room vacated by Burch. This was the telegram from the suspect's mother. The date line with words, "Evanston, Ill.," was the first clew that led to the arrest of Burch and the subsequent developments.

COURT JOB FOR GALLAGHER

The pendulum swung back yesterday for George Gallagher, for fifteen years in charge of the County Jail, when he resumed his service for the county after a respite of six months. Mr. Gallagher was temporarily suspended on charges which the Superior Court and the County Civil Service Commission held had nothing to do with his duties.

The court held that the former jailer was in reality, according to the civil service rules, still county jailer. Mr. Gallagher, however, is 73 years old, and asked that he be given a position with fewer duties. Yesterday Sheriff Traeger, in making numerous shifts and appointments, named Mr. Gallagher bailiff in Judge Toland's court.

Norris G. Stensland, formerly a deputy constable; Chester B. Allen, assistant in the identification bureau; Ray Conly, a deputy in the civil department, and B. T. Davidson, a court bailiff, were named deputies in the criminal department. Arthur Adams, for years a deputy constable, was named assistant in the identification bureau.

John McNulty, a veteran of the World War and a turnkey in the jail, was made assistant transportation deputy. A. G. Hoffman, a night watchman at the Hall of Records, was made a turnkey. R. R. Cato, a police officer, obtained a similar position.

George Olds, for a number of years custodian of the Hall of Records, was named as bailiff in the court of Presiding Judge Shenk. Barney Mullins was appointed court bailiff.

TOO MANY GUNS IN BURCH CASE.

Porter's Testimony Punches Hole in "Confession" of Kennedy Suspect.

The introduction of the third shotgun into the Kennedy murder case through the testimony of Richard Sanderson, negro porter on the Pullman car that brought Burch to California, yesterday heightened the interest in the widely heralded "confession," which Chandler Sprague, Los Angeles Examiner reporter, says Burch made to him. In this so-called confession Mr. Sprague said Burch told him he bought the shotgun, with which Mr. Kennedy was killed, in Los Angeles. Mr. Sanderson testified Burch brought a shotgun case, presumably with a gun inside, from Chicago. The third shotgun was fished out of the water near Santa Monica at the time the stock of the shotgun said to have been brought by Burch here, was found there.

Dist.-Atty. Woolwine yesterday refused to state which shotgun will be placed before the jury as the murder weapon. Asked if the Sprague "confession" will be used, Mr. Woolwine said:

"I don't know. To tell the truth, I've read the testimony of all the witnesses with the exception of the Sprague story. I do not know just what is in it."

He will sing "Good-by," in which he was coached by the composer, Tosti, and by Caruso.

ADVERTISING CLUB TAKES IN BOB HALL.

Bob Hall, extemporaneous singer at a local theater, was yesterday made an honorary member of the Advertising Club by members of the organization, who had tendered him a complimentary dinner at the Alexandria. Mr. Hall entertained the club at its luncheon last Tuesday, and the impression made then caused the members to ask him to join their organization. Mr. Hall said he is now an honorary members of twenty-eight advertising clubs.

MARRIED LIFE TWICE FAILURE.

Mrs. Hopper Files Second Suit for Divorce.

Reconciliation Did Not Prove Success.

Film Director Cruel, is Charge of Wife.

The thread of happiness once broken, can never be mended. Thus spake an ancient sage. Yesterday the point was proved when Mrs. Ruth E. Mason Hopper again sued E. Harold Mason Hopper for divorce, though a reconciliation was effected several months ago. In this complaint Mrs. Hopper makes charges similar to those in her former complaint and adds several to them.

She states that the husband, who is a motion-picture director, makes $2000 a month. In her former divorce the disposition of the money form one of the bones of contention. But when they became reconciled Mr. Hopper agreed that he would take but $75 a week out of his salary for his personal expenses and that his wife should take care of the rest. This agreement was broken, it is now charged.

Mrs. Hopper recites in the complaint, which was prepared by Channing Follette, that they were married in Michigan in 1914 and that they separated the last time on July 16 of this year. On three different occasions once in Mobile, Ala., again at Santa Barbara, and a third time in Santa Monica, Mr. Hopper is said to have choked his wife.

Mrs. Hopper states that the husband often accused her wrongfully of flirting with other men and on one occasion charged her with attempting to "lure" a man.

An act of cruelty recounted in the complaint took place on a rainy night here when Mr. Hopper came home and demanded that she get dressed and go with him. She refused, she said, but when he became persistent, she got in the machine with him and he drove her to her mother's and left her there. Mrs. Hopper asks for the custody of their child and $700 a month alimony.

BILTMORE HOTEL MAN IS COMING.

Bowman on Way to Sign Contract for Building at Fifth and Olive.

John McE. Bowman, head of the Biltmore chain of hotels of New York, yesterday left for Los Angeles to confer with the committee of local business men at present engaged in raising $4,000,000 toward the erection of a great hotel at Fifth and Olive streets.

Although the financing of the project was to have been completed yesterday, according to the agreement made several weeks ago with the Bowman interests, an extension has been given by Mr. Bowman until next Monday, when he is expected to arrive in Los Angeles.

This will leave three more days in which to complete the financing of the big hotel, and during these three days $700,000 must be raised. To date, $3,300,000 has been subscribed. The committee in charge of the project will, therefore, make a special effort to raise the remaining funds, in order to be able to report the entire success of the plan to Mr. Bowman next Monday.

Mr. Bowman's trip to Los Angeles at this time, it is stated, is being made in order to sign the final contracts through which he will undertake the operation of the hotel, and these arrangements will be concluded immediately after his arrival, if the campaign has been successfully closed. A strong appeal, therefore, to all who are interested in the project, and who desire to see it successfully concluded, to send in their subscriptions immediately, is being made by the campaign committee.

RAILROADS PROMISE FREIGHT RATE CUT.

FARM AND ORCHARD PRODUCTS TO BENEFIT AFTER FIRST OF YEAR.

All railroads, effective on the first of the year, will institute a 10 per cent reduction in interstate freight rates for many farm and orchard products. This announcement was made yesterday by H. P. Anewalt, general freight agent here, of the Santa Fe.

The reduction will affect wheat, corn, oats and other grains, flour, meal, cereal foods, hay, straw, seed and its products, except oil; citrus fruits and other fresh fruits and dried fruits, potatoes and other fresh vegetables, horses cattle, sheep and hogs, poultry, live or dressed; butter, eggs, cheese, wool, mohair, broomcorn, field seeds and rice.

"This action is being taken to provided a measure of relief to the farming and live-stock interests," Mr. Anewalt said yesterday, "and it will, of course, be reflected somewhat in the cost of these commodities to consumers. It is hoped that it will prove a stimulation to business generally."

DISPUTE OVER NOISE LEADS TO SHOOTING.

Following an altercation between Pio Chabarria, 20 years of age, and George Loupas, both of 463 Ducommon street, yesterday morning Mr. Chabarria was shot three times in the body and perhaps fatally injured. Loupas was arrested and charged with the shooting.

From what the police were able to learn, it seems that Mr. Chabarria was in the rear of the house on Ducommon street repairing a motorcycle. Loupas was in the house trying to sleep and he objected to the noise made by Mr. Chabarria. During the quarrel that resulted Loupas drew a revolver and fired.

SANBORN IS BEING WON TO POLICE?

Sparks Says Councilman's Opposition to Increasing Force is Weakening.

"Councilman Sanborn is weakening," declared Councilman Sparks at yesterday's meeting of the City Council after Mr. Sanborn had voted in favor of a motion to keep alive the "more police" question now before the Council by referring back to the finance committee all communications from civic organizations urging that 200 policemen be added to the police force at once.

Councilman Sanborn had hitherto voted solidly with President Criswell and Councilman Mallard and Wheeler in opposing the employment of the additional policemen, and these three councilmen were in favor of burying in the files for future consideration all communications and petitions asking that the police force be increased.

The motion to keep the matter alive was carried, but Councilman Mushet's report recommending the immediate employment of 200 additional policemen failed of adoption, those voting for it being Councilmen Allan, Langdon, Mushet and Sparks, and those opposing being President Criswell and Councilmen Mallard, Sanborn and Wheeler. Councilman Conaway is out of the city. He would have voted for the adoption of Councilman Mushet's report had he been present, as he has consistently been in favor of the immediate employment of 200 additional policemen.

Five votes were necessary to adopt the Mushet report, and six votes were required to authorize the employment of the patrolmen. With Councilman Conaway present and Councilman Sanborn voting with the "solid five" the employment of the men would be authorized.

Councilman Sanborn said during the debate yesterday: "I am in favor of more policemen and would vote for their employment if I could be convinced that there will be sufficient funds available to pay their salaries. The Chamber of Commerce is to hold a conference on this more-police matter next Thursday, and it is possible that at that conference some definite steps will be recommended to secure the additional officers."

SEAL SALE STARTED.

Tuberculosis Association Reports Much Interest.

Unusual interest in the Christmas seal sale of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association, which was begun yesterday, is evinced by the men's clubs of Los Angeles, Mrs. Daisy C. Danziger, chairman of the campaign stated.

The sale will last until the 16th inst. There will be no personal solicitation on the streets or in hotel lobbies. Five million of the seals are being sent out through the mail, and others will be on sale at banks and business houses for those who have been overlooked in the mailing lists.

Following is a list of men's clubs that are co-operating in the movement:

Los Angeles Motor Boat Club, Pacific Electric Club, Merchants Plumbers' Association, Jonathon Club, Young Men's Christian Association Athletic Field Club, Japanese Auto Club of Southern California, Southern California Wholesale and Retail Druggists' Association, Southern California Laundry Owners' Association, Vernon Athletic Club, Los Angeles One Hundred Per cent Club, Los Angeles Bar Association, Elk's Club, Japanese Association of Los Angeles, Los Angeles Gun Club, Southern California Retail Lumber Dealers' Association, Lions' Club of Los Angeles, Los Angeles Crematory Association, Los Angeles County Medical Association, City Club of Los Angeles, Rotary Club, Japanese Chamber of Commerce.

RATE CUT ANNOUNCED.

Lower Freight to Nevada Cities to Be Put in Effect by Espee.

A substantial reduction in class freight rates from San Francisco, Los Angeles and Reno to Tonopah and Goldfield, Nev., will be effective next January 15, according to an announcement made yesterday by General Freght Agent Saunders of the Southern Pacific. The rates from San Francisco and Los Angeles will apply also from Sacramento, Stockton and intermediate points. The reduction is a voluntary one by the carriers.

The present rates into this territory have been recognized as somewhat high and the adjustments are being made by the carriers with the idea of helping out the Southern Nevada territory and placing it on a basis more nearly comparable with other regions served by the Southern Pacific.

The new and old rates per 100 pounds from San Francisco and Los Angeles to Tonopah and Goldfield are:

Class 1—Present rate, $3.75; new rate, $2.60. Class 2—Present rate, $3.09; new rate, $2.15. Class 3—Present rate, $2, new rate, $1.90. Class 4—Present rate, $2.61½; new rate, $1.75. Class 5—Present rate, $2.27; new rate, $1.56. Class A—Present rate, $2.37; new rate, $1.56. Class B—Present rate, $1.65; new rate, $1.20. Class C—Present rate, $1.44; new rate, $1.17. Class D—Present rate, $1.14½; new rate, $1.04. Class E—Present rate, $1.08; new rate, 78 cents.

JUSTICE HOLDS MAN ON SHOOTING CHARGE.

Accused of following his wife to the home of Arthur Rindenow of 1714 New England street and shooting through a window with intent to kill Mr. Rindenow, George Luke was held to answer yesterday by Justice Follette. The shooting occurred on November 16, according to testimony adduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McDaniel. Luke was released on his own recognizance pending a trial.
